SECTION IX

APPLICABLE HAWAII LAW

HRS §707-726 Custodial interference in the first degree.

- (1) A person commits the offense of custodial interference in the first degree if:
 - (a) The person:
 - (i) Intentionally or knowingly violates a court order issued pursuant to chapter 586, or intentionally or knowingly takes, entices, conceals, or detains the minor from any other person who has a right to custody pursuant to a court order, judgment, or decree; and
 - (ii) removes the minor from the State;
 - (b) The person intentionally or knowingly takes, entices, conceals, or detains a minor less than eleven years old from that minor's lawful custodian, knowing that the person had no right to do so; or
 - (c) The person, in the absence of a court order determining custody or visitation rights, intentionally or knowingly takes, detains, conceals, or entices away a minor with the intent to deprive another person or a public agency of their right to custody, and removes the minor from the State.

(2) It is an affirmative defense to a prosecution under this section that the person had "good cause" for the violation of a court order issued pursuant to chapter 586, for the taking, detaining, concealing, or enticing away of the minor, or for removing the minor from the State; provided that the person asserting the affirmative defense filed a report with the clerk of the family court detailing the whereabouts of the minor, the person who took, enticed, detained, concealed, or removed the minor or child, and the circumstances of the event as soon as the filing of the report was practicable; and provided further that the person asserting the affirmative defense also filed a request for a custody order as soon as the filing of the request was practicable.

As used in this section, "good cause" means a good faith and reasonable belief that the taking, detaining, concealing, enticing away, or removing of the minor is necessary to protect the minor from immediate bodily injury.

(3) The identity and address of the person reporting under subsection (2) shall remain confidential unless the information is released pursuant to a court order.

(4) Custodial interference in the first degree is a class C felony.

SECTION 2. This act does not affect rights and duties that matured, penalties that were incurred, and proceedings that were begun, before its effective date.

HRS §707-727 Custodial interference in the second degree.

- (1) A person commits the offense of custodial interference in the second degree if:
 - (a) The person intentionally or knowingly takes, entices, conceals, or detains a minor knowing that the person has no right to do so: or
 - (b) The person intentionally or knowingly takes, entices, conceals, or detains from lawful custody any incompetent person, or other person entrusted by authority of law to the custody of another person or an institution.
- (2) Custodial interference in the second degree is a misdemeanor, if the minor or incompetent person is taken, enticed, concealed, or detained within the State. If the minor or incompetent person is taken, enticed, concealed, or detained outside of the State under this section, custodial interference in the second degree is a class C felony.

HRS §707-720 Kidnapping.

- (1) A person commits the offense of kidnapping if he intentionally or knowingly restrains another person with intent to:
 - (a) Hold him for ransom or reward;
 - (b) Use him as a shield or hostage;
 - (c) Facilitate the commission of a felony or flight thereafter;
 - (d) Inflict bodily injury upon him or subject him to a sexual offense;
 - (e) Terrorize him or a third person; or
 - (f) Interfere with the performance of any governmental or political function.
- (2) Except as provided in subsection (3), kidnapping is a class A felony.
- (3) In a prosecution for kidnapping, it is a defense which reduces the offense to a class B felony that the defendant voluntarily released the victim, alive and not suffering from serious or substantial bodily injury, in a safe place prior to trial.

ACT 244

HRS §577-27 Missing children; reporting.

- (a) Upon the filing of a police report that a child is missing by the parent or guardian, the law enforcement agency receiving notification shall:
 - (1) Immediately inform all on-duty law enforcement officers of the existence of the missing child report;
 - (2) Report pertinent information about the missing child to any other law

- enforcement agency having jurisdiction in the county; and
- (3) Immediately transmit pertinent information on the missing child for inclusion within the state juvenile justice information system, and, if it appears that the juvenile has left the State or may leave the State, the National Crime Information Center system.

(b) A missing child report filed with a law enforcement agency which has jurisdiction is sufficient documentation for entering a juvenile in the missing persons' files of the juvenile justice information system, the National Crime Information Center, or both. Law enforcement agencies having jurisdiction over the missing child shall comply with any information required by the National Crime Information Center to effectuate the purpose of this section.

(c) In the case of a parental kidnapping, the law enforcement agency shall obtain from the reporting parent or guardian a certified copy of the custody papers. [L1994, c 244, §1]
