The Trust for Public Land, Hawai'i Field Office

The Trust for Public Land (TPL) nationwide non-profit organization with a small but committed office in Honolulu working to protect human habitat, those places in Hawai'i that are important to us culturally, recreationally, spiritually, and ecologically. TPL is a transaction organization that seeks to purchase important lands and turn them over to public agencies, park services, and non-profit organizations that steward the land and allow the public access and benefit. The great majority of our projects have Native Hawaiian cultural ties and are located on the coast—where the most rapid development occurs in Hawai'i.
