GENERAL INFORMATION ON CONDOMINIUMS

A condominium is a special form of real property. To create a condominium in Hawaii, the requirements of Hawaii's "Horizontal Property Act" (Chapter 514A, Hawaii Revised Statutes) must be followed.

If you are a typical condominium apartment owner, you will have two kinds of ownership: (1) ownership in your individual apartment; and (2) an undivided interest in the common elements.

Common elements are the areas of the condominium project other than the individual apartments. They are owned jointly by all apartment owners and include the land, either in fee simple or leasehold, and those parts of the building or buildings intended for common use such as foundations, columns, roofs, halls, elevators, and the like. Your undivided interest in the common elements cannot be separated from ownership of your apartment.

In some condominium projects, some common elements are reserved for the exclusive use of the owners of certain apartments. These common elements are called limited common elements and may include parking stalls, patios, lanais, trash chutes, and the like.

You will be entitled to exclusive ownership and possession of your apartment. Condominium apartments may be individually bought, sold, rented, mortgaged, or encumbered, and they may be disposed of by will, gift, or operation of law.

Your apartment will, however, be part of the group of apartments that comprise the condominium project. Study the Declaration, Bylaws, and House Rules. These documents contain important information on the use and occupancy of apartments and the common elements as well as the rules of conduct for owners, tenants, and guests.

Some condominium projects are leasehold. This means that the land or the land, building(s) and other improvements are leased to the buyer. The lease for the land usually requires that at the end of the lease term, the lessees (apartment owner/tenant) deliver their interest in the land to the lessor (fee property owner). The lease also usually requires that the lessees either (1) convey to the lessor the building(s) and other improvements, including any improvements paid for by the lessees; or (2) remove or dispose of the improvements. The leases for individual apartments often require that at the end of the lease term, the lessee deliver to the lessor the apartment, including any improvements placed in the apartment by the lessee.

Operation of the Condominium Project

The Association of Apartment Owners is the entity through which apartment owners may take action with regard to the administration, management, and operation of the condominium project. Each apartment owner is automatically a member of the Association.

The Board of Directors is the governing body of the Association. Unless you serve as a board member or an officer, or are on a committee appointed by the board, your participation in the administration and operation of the condominium project will in most cases be limited to your right to vote as an apartment owner. The Board of Directors and officers can take certain actions without a vote of the owners. Some of these actions may significantly impact the quality of life for all apartment owners.

Until there is a sufficient number of purchasers of apartments to elect a majority of the Board of Directors, it is likely that the developer will effectively control the affairs of the Association. It is frequently necessary for the developer to do so during the early stages of development and the developer may reserve certain special rights to do so in the Declaration and Bylaws. Prospective buyers should understand that it is vitally important to all apartment owners that the transition from developer to owner control be accomplished in an orderly manner and in a spirit of cooperation.

D. House Rules. The Board of Directors may adopt house rules to govern the use and operation of the common elements and individual apartments. House rules may cover matters such as parking regulations, hours of operation for common facilities such as recreation areas, use of lanais, keeping of pets, and occupancy limits. These rules must be followed by owners, tenants, and guests. They do not need to be recorded or filed to be effective. The initial house rules are usually adopted by the developer.

The House Rules for this condominium are:

The Eighth Amendment of the Declaration terminated all further development rights reserved to the Developer.

The Condominium Statute (Chapter 514A, HRS), the Declaration, Bylaws, and House Rules control the rights and obligations of the apartment owners with respect to the common elements, to each other, and to their respective apartments. The provisions of these documents are intended to be, and in most cases are, enforceable in a court of law.

The relevant provisions of the Deposit Receipt and Sales Contract ("Sales Contract") are as follows:

1. Financing. If a Purchaser requires financing, he must make a good faith application for the necessary mortgage loans within ten (10) days after the Seller's execution of the Sales Contract. If the loan is not approved within sixty (60) days after application, the Seller has the right to cancel the Sales Contract and refund all deposits paid by Purchaser, less certain escrow cancellation fees.

2. Condominium Documents. Purchasers acknowledge receipt of and approve all of the condominium documents including the Condominium Conveyance Document, Declaration of Horizontal Property Regime, Bylaws, Developer's Disclosure Abstract, House Rules, and Escrow Agreement.

3. Subordination. Purchaser's rights under the sales contract are subordinated to the rights of the Lender under the construction mortgage obtained by the Seller. Purchasers further agree that if the property ever acquired by said Lender through foreclosure or otherwise, that the Lender may, at its option, require Purchasers to pay the purchase price and perform their obligations under the Sales Contract.

4. Binding Effect. The Sales Contract shall only become binding on Purchaser and Seller after:

(i) A true copy of the final Public Report has been delivered to Purchaser either personally or by registered or certified mail with return receipt required, together with a true copy of all other public reports thereon, if any, issued prior to the date of such delivery and not previously delivered to Purchaser;

(ii) Purchaser has been given an opportunity to read the reports; and

(iii) Purchaser has executed the form of the receipt and notice required under Section 514A-62 of the Hawaii Revised Statutes, and waived his right to cancel; provided that if Purchaser does not execute and return the receipt and notice within thirty (30) days from the date of delivery of such reports, or if the apartment is conveyed to Purchaser prior to the expiration of such thirty (30) day period, Purchaser shall be deemed to have receipted for the reports and to have waived his right to cancel.

3. Return of Purchaser's Funds. A Purchaser shall be entitled to the return of this funds if Purchaser has requested such a refund and Escrow shall have received from Seller notice that any of the following has occurred:

(a) Seller shall have requested Escrow to refund said monies; or

(b) Seller shall have exercised any option in its favor to cancel the Sales Contract; or

(c) Purchaser is an owner-occupant and it entitled by law to cancel the Sales Contract.

In any of the foregoing events, Escrow shall refund all deposits to Purchaser, less a cancellation fee to Escrow of $25 per unit and any other cancellation charges.

4. Buyer's Default. If a Purchaser shall not make any payment required under the Sales Contract on or before the due date thereof, Escrow shall notify Purchaser and Seller of such fact. If Seller shall determine that Purchaser has committed an event of default under the Sales Contract, then Seller has the right to terminate the Sales Contract upon written notice to Escrow and Purchaser and Escrow shall, after the expiration of ten (10) days from receipt of such notification and upon written "request by seller", pay all deposits to Seller, less any Escrow cancellation fees and out of pocket expenses.
