GENERAL INFORMATION ON CONDOMINIUMS

A condominium is a special form of real property. To create a condominium in Hawaii, the requirements of Hawaii's "Horizontal Property Act" (Chapter 514A, Hawaii Revised Statutes) must be followed.

If you are a typical condominium apartment owner, you will have two kinds of ownership: (1) ownership in your individual apartment; and (2) an undivided interest in the common elements.

Common elements are the areas of the condominium project other than the individual apartments. They are owned jointly by all apartment owners and include the land, either in fee simple or leasehold, and those parts of the building or buildings intended for common use such as foundations, columns, roofs, halls, elevators, and the like. Your undivided interest in the common elements cannot be separated from ownership of your apartment.

In some condominium projects, some common elements are reserved for the exclusive use of the owners of certain apartments. These common elements are called limited common elements and may include parking stalls, patios, lanais, trash chutes, and the like.

You will be entitled to exclusive ownership and possession of your apartment. Condominium apartments may be individually bought, sold, rented, mortgaged, or encumbered, and they may be disposed of by will, gift, or operation of law.

Your apartment will, however, be part of the group of apartments that comprise the condominium project. Study the Declaration, Bylaws, and House Rules. These documents contain important information on the use and occupancy of apartments and the common elements as well as the rules of conduct for owners, tenants, and guests.

Some condominium projects are leasehold. This means that the land or the land, building(s) and other improvements are leased to the buyer. The lease for the land usually requires that at the end of the lease term, the lessees (apartment owner/tenant) deliver their interest in the land to the lessor (fee property owner). The lease also usually requires that the lessees either (1) convey to the lessor the building(s) and other improvements, including any improvements paid for by the lessees; or (2) remove or dispose of the improvements. The leases for individual apartments often require that at the end of the lease term, the lessee deliver to the lessor the apartment, including any improvements placed in the apartment by the lessee.

Operation of the Condominium Project

The Association of Apartment Owners is the entity through which apartment owners may take action with regard to the administration, management, and operation of the condominium project. Each apartment owner is automatically a member of the Association.

The Board of Directors is the governing body of the Association. Unless you serve as a board member or an officer, or are on a committee appointed by the board, your participation in the administration and operation of the condominium project will in most cases be limited to your right to vote as an apartment owner. The Board of Directors and officers can take certain actions without a vote of the owners. Some of these actions may significantly impact the quality of life for all apartment owners.

Until there is a sufficient number of purchasers of apartments to elect a majority of the Board of Directors, it is likely that the developer will effectively control the affairs of the Association. It is frequently necessary for the developer to do so during the early stages of development and the developer may reserve certain special rights to do so in the Declaration and Bylaws. Prospective buyers should understand that it is vitally important to all apartment owners that the transition from developer to owner control be accomplished in an orderly manner and in a spirit of cooperation.

II. CREATION OF THE CONDOMINIUM;

The Condominium Statute (Chapter 514A, HRS), the Declaration, Bylaws, and House Rules control the rights and obligations of the apartment owners with respect to the common elements, to each other, and to their respective apartments. The provisions of these documents are intended to be, and in most cases are, enforceable in a court of law.

Variance(s) to zoning code was/were granted as follows:

b. Conforming/Non-Conforming Uses, Structures, Lot

In general, a non-conforming use, structure, or lot is a use, structure, or lot which was lawful at one time but which does not now conform to present zoning requirements.

	Conforming	Non-Conforming	Illegal
Uses	 X

If a variance has been granted or if uses, improvements, or lot are either non-conforming or illegal, buyer should consult with county zoning authorities as to possible limitations which may apply.

Limitations may include restrictions on extending, enlarging, or continuing the non-conformity, and restrictions on altering and repairing structures. In some cases, a non-conforming structure that is destroyed or damaged cannot be reconstructed.

The buyer may not be able to obtain financing or insurance if the condominium project has a non-conforming or illegal use, structure, or lot.

D. Common Elements, Limited Common Elements, Common Interest:

1. Common Elements: Common Elements are those parts of the condominium project intended to be used by all apartment owners. They are owned jointly by all apartment owners.

Exhibit A describes the common elements.

2. Limited Common Elements: Limited Common Elements are those common elements which are reserved for the exclusive use of the owners of certain apartments.

[] There are no limited common elements in this project.

[X] The limited common elements and the apartments which may use them are:

[X] described in Exhibit B

[] as follows:

3. Common Interest: Each apartment will have an undivided fractional interest in all of the common elements. This interest is called the "common interest." It is often used to determine each apartment's share of the maintenance fees and other common profits and expenses of the condominium. It may also be used for other purposes, including voting on matters requiring action by apartment owners.

[X] Exhibit C describes the common interests for each apartment.

[] as follows:

E. Encumbrances Against Title: An encumbrance is a claim against or a liability on the property.

Exhibit D describes the encumbrances against the title contained in the title report dated October 22, 1987.

Blanket Liens:

A blanket lien is a mortgage on a condominium project that secures a construction loan. It is usually released on an apartment-by-apartment basis upon payment of specified sums so that individual apartments can be conveyed to buyers free and clear of the lien.

- There are no blanket liens affecting title to the individual apartments.
- There are blanket liens which may affect title to the individual apartments.

Blanket liens (except for improvement district or utility assessments) must be released before the developer conveys the apartment to a buyer. Buyer's interest will be affected only if the developer defaults prior to conveying the apartment to buyer.

Type of Lien	Effect on Buyer's Interest If Developer Defaults
Mortgages	Buyers interest under a Sales Contract is subordinate to the interests of the Holder of the Mortgages. Among other things, this means that if the Developer defaults, the holder may take over the property so that the buyer would lose his or her rights and claims to the apartment. If this happens, the buyer would get his or her money back from escrow. Before the apartment is conveyed to the Buyer, it must be free from the Mortgages.

F. Management of the Common Elements: The Association of Apartment Owners is responsible for the management of the common elements and the overall operation of the condominium project. The Association may be permitted, and in some cases may be required, to employ or retain a managing agent to assist the Association in managing the condominium project.

Initial Managing Agent: When the developer or the developer's affiliate is the initial managing agent, the management contract must have a term of one year or less and the parties must be able to terminate the contract on notice of 60 days or less.

The initial managing agent for this condominium is:

- not affiliated with the Developer.
- the Developer or the Developer's affiliate.
- other _____

G. Estimate of Initial Maintenance Fees:

The Association will make assessments against your apartment to provide funds for the operation and maintenance of the condominium project. If you are delinquent in paying the assessments, your apartment may be liened and sold through a foreclosure proceeding.

Initial maintenance fees are difficult to estimate and tend to increase as the condominium ages. Maintenance fees may vary depending on the services provided to each apartment.

Exhibit E contains a schedule of maintenance fees and maintenance fee disbursements.

H. Utility Charges for Apartments:

Each apartment will be billed separately for utilities except for the following checked utilities which are included in the maintenance fees:

- | | |
|--------------------------------------|---|
| <input type="checkbox"/> Electricity | <input type="checkbox"/> Television Cable |
| <input type="checkbox"/> Gas | <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Water & Sewer |

I. Construction Warranties:

Warranties for individual apartments and the common elements, including the beginning and ending dates for each warranty, are as follows:

1. Building and Other Improvements: See Exhibit I.

2. Appliances: See Exhibit I.

(b) Each private patio or yard area is a limited common element to first floor apartments adjoining such area, as shown on the site plan in the Condominium Map, as is the interior surface of the fence (i.e., facing that apartment around each such area.

(c) Each compartment designed to contain hot water heaters and located on the exterior of the buildings are limited common elements to the apartments served by the hot water heaters located in that compartment.

(d) Each concrete pad (other than a lanai) outside the entry door of an apartment located on the first level is a limited common element appurtenant to that apartment. Each exterior stairway, landing and entry lanai providing access to a second level apartment is a limited common element appurtenant to that apartment; provided, that those stairways which lead to two second level apartments shall be limited common elements to both those apartments, but the second story landing adjacent to the entrance to each such apartment is a limited common element to that apartment only.

(e) The mailbox bearing the same designation as the apartment is a limited common element to that apartment.

NOTE: All costs and expenses pertaining to limited common elements charged to be charged to the apartment to which the limited common element appertains, pursuant to the Condominium Declaration and Section 514A-15(a) of the Condominium Act. If a limited common element is appurtenant to two or more apartments, such costs and expenses shall be charged proportionately to each. Thus, if a limited common element is appurtenant to two apartments, one-half of such costs and expenses are to be charged to each such apartment. However, the Board of Directors of the Association may, as permitted in the Condominium Declaration, determine that certain of such costs and expenses may instead be charged in accordance with the common interest. Apartment owners are responsible for the maintenance and repair of their limited common elements.

Each apartment owner will be assessed a share, equal to the common interest of his or her apartment, of all common expenses of the Condominium, except all expenses of relating to limited common elements will be charged as noted in Exhibit B.

The common interest is based upon the net living area, plus lanai area, in square feet for that apartment divided by the total net living area, plus lanais, of all apartments, rounded off so the common interest for all apartments equals 100%.

NOTE: The common interest for each apartment will change upon any merger of this Condominium with one or more condominiums that may be built on the adjoining parcels of land, see the information under Section K. Project Phases and in Exhibit F - Phased Development and Merger of Phases; Developer's Special Rights, Including to Change the Condominium Documents.

THE CLIFFSIDE VILLAGES AT WAIPIO - PHASE III

PHASED DEVELOPMENT AND MERGER OF PHASES; DEVELOPER'S
SPECIAL RIGHTS, INCLUDING TO CHANGE THE CONDOMINIUM DOCUMENTS

In addition to this Project, which is Phase "III", the Developer is planning to develop adjacent or nearby lots in phases. Each of these phases may be developed as a condominium project. The present plan calls for the condominium development of these lots (Phases "I" and "II") to include a total of 116 additional apartments of generally the same type as the apartments in this Phase; and also subjecting: (a) Phases I and II with an agreement in favor of the City and County of Honolulu so that the land on all of the lots may be treated as one lot for zoning purposes; and (b) all Phases with a Declaration for Joint Use to provide for joint use of and access to the sewage treatment plant to be located on Phase I and related facilities, and for the maintenance and sharing of expenses among the various Phases and a project on land adjacent to Phase I, which may be developed by a different developer.

This plan also provides for the merger of this Phase with one or both of the other Phases in any order, at the same or different times, and a merger with respect to one of these Phases will not affect the right of the Developer to merge this Phase with another Phase or Phases at a later time. The Developer would have the right to merge Phases up to December 31, 1992, upon the happening of certain events listed in the Condominium Declaration. These events include: the filing of the Condominium Documents for this Phase and substantially identical documents for each other Phase being merged with it, and the substantial completion of the construction of this Phase and each such other Phase, free and clear of mechanics' and materialmens' liens. To effect any merger the Developer would file in the Office of the Assistant Registrar of the Land Court of the State of Hawaii a "Certificate of Merger", which, among other things, would revise the common interest appurtenant to the apartments in this Phase. Upon any merger, the common interest for each apartment would be based on the net living area, plus lanai, of each apartment divided by the total net living area, plus lanais, of all apartments in the merged phases, rounded off so that the total of all common interests should equal 100%. NOTE, HOWEVER: If all these Phases are merged and Phases "I", "II" and "III" are built as presently planned, the revised common interest for the apartments shall be as follows:

Type of Apartment	Percentage of Undivided Interest for Each Apartment
A-1	.005510
A-2	.005750
A-3	.005605
B-1	.005290
B-2	.005420

Upon any merger, the common interest for each apartment in the merged Phases would be as revised; each apartment in a merged Phase would have the right to use the common elements of all such Phases; and the merged Phases would have one association and one board of directors, to be elected after the merger. The financial affairs of the merged Phases would also be administered together, except that: Apartments in any one such Phase would not be liable for the debts and obligations of the other merged Phase existing at or accrued prior to the date of the merger. Also capital improvement reserve funds accumulated prior to the merger would remain intact, and the new board would have the authority to make special assessments for such reserves, for the purpose of minimizing later assessments to apartments in one merged Phase for repairs and replacements in the other merged Phases attributable to depreciation occurring prior to the merger. The Condominium Documents for each of the merged Phases would be interpreted together as a single set of documents applicable to the all merged Phases. However, the Developer has the right (but not the obligation) to provide a single Declaration, By-Laws and and Condominium Map governing the merged Phases and showing a consolidated description of the land, buildings, apartments, common elements, limited common elements and common interests, but not otherwise changing the form or content of the Condominium Documents for any Phase, except for amendments required by law, and except that after the last merger of phases, to delete the merger provisions and other rights reserved by the Developer to provide for the development, construction and sale of property in each of the Phases.

The Developer is not obligated to follow the present plan. However, if the plan for any additional Phase is not consistent with the present plan, as approved by the Administrator for the Veterans Administration ("VA Administrator"), then before the Developer may effect any merger, it must obtain a prior written approval of the VA Administrator.

The Developer also reserves the right, until December 31, 1992: (a) to amend the Condominium Documents, both before and after any merger, to conform these documents to VA and FHA requirements so that loans secured by mortgages of apartments in any Phase may be made, guaranteed or insured by VA or FHA. This includes the right to execute and record on behalf of the Association a Regulatory Agreement in form and substance meeting FHA requirements; (b) upon any merger to consolidate the lots on which the merged Phases are located as a single legal lot; and (c) to modify and realign the common elements, parking areas and utilities lines in this Phase to the extent necessary to connect with any other Phase. The Developer also have the right to enter on the common elements of the Condominium in order to perform development and construction work for each the additional Phases; provided that the Developer must first obtain a general liability policy to protect apartment owners in this Phase in an amount of at least $1,000,000, and must make reasonable efforts, consistent with maintaining the progress of such work, to minimize the disruption such work may cause owners.

The Developer is also not obligated to follow this plan for phased development and has not obligation to develop any one or more of these Phases or to merge this Phase with any one or more of them. The Developer may also modify the plan for each of the additional Phases.

The Developer reserves a right to conduct extensive sales activities on the Condominium. This includes the rights: (a) to use any apartments owned by the Developer as model apartments and sales and management offices; and (b) to use such apartments and the common elements, excluding the limited common elements appurtenant to other apartments, for extensive sales displays and activities. These rights to conduct extensive sale activities will last until the sale of the last apartment in the Condominium and the sale of last apartment in any condominium that may be developed on any of the or nearby adjoining parcels of land, or until December 31, 1992, whichever first occurs. But these sales activities are to be conducted in an unobtrusive manner that will not unreasonably interfere with the use, possession and aesthetic enjoyment of the Condominium.

The Condominium Declaration also states that the Developer reserves the rights: (a) to enter and work on the Condominium as may be reasonably necessary for the completion of the improvements to and corrections of defects in the Condominium (this right will terminate about 30 months after the improvements for the Condominium are completed); and (b) to use the common elements of the Condominium as may be reasonably necessary for the construction and completion of improvements on any of the or nearby adjoining parcels of land (this right will terminate no later than December 31, 1992).

EXHIBIT G

SUMMARY OF SALES CONTRACT AND ESCROW AGREEMENT

Copies of the specimen Apartment Sales Contract, Apartment Deed and executed Escrow Agreement have been submitted as part of the registration. On examination, these documents are found to comply with the Condominium Act. Specifically, but without limitation, they comply with Section 514A-40(6) and Sections 514A-37, 514A-39, 514A-62, 514A-63 and 514A-65. The Escrow Agreement is dated October 29, 1986, and identifies First Hawaiian Bank as the Escrow Agent for the handling of purchase money for apartment sales.

It is incumbent upon the purchaser and prospective purchaser that he or she read with care these documents. The Escrow Agreement establishes how the proceeds from the sale of apartments are placed in trust, as well as the retention and disbursement of this trust fund. According to this Agreement, down payment funds may not be released from escrow for the payment of development and construction costs, even though such use is permitted in compliance with the above-noted sections of the Condominium Act. The specimen Sales Contract also determines the time for and the amount of installment payments on the purchase price, and for the payment of all closing costs which are the buyer's obligations.

Prior to the issuance of a final public report, the Contract operates as a reservation only and is not binding on either the Developer or a buyer. Under what conditions the Contract becomes binding on a buyer, and a buyer's right to cancel the Contract, are stated on page 19 of this Report. The documents also provide, in effect, that a buyer shall be entitled to a refund of his or her funds, and Escrow shall pay such funds to a buyer, if Escrow receives a written request from Developer to return to buyer the funds of such buyer then held by Escrow.

In the specimen Sales Contract, the Developer also promises to complete the Condominium no later than two years from the date a final public report is issued. The 2-year period is subject to extensions of time only for the occurrence of any event outside of the Developer's control that makes performance by the Developer within this period impossible as a matter of Hawaii law.

By signing a Sales Contract, each buyer, among other things, will: (1) warrant that he or she has the ability to pay the purchase price for the apartment either from his or her own funds and/or the proceeds of a loan that the buyer promises he or she can obtain and that obtaining such a loan is the buyer's sole responsibility, even if the Developer has made arrangements with a lender generally to provide financing; and (2) acknowledge, consent and agree that all mortgage liens and other security interests obtained by the construction lender in connection with the construction loan (as well as any extensions, renewals and modifications of that loan) will be and remain at all times a lien or charge on the Condominium prior to and superior to any and all liens or charges arising from the Sales Contract or any other sale and/or reservation agreement with buyer. In addition, among other things, the specimen Sales Contract contains provisions which: (3) permit the Developer to keep the buyer's payment deposits under certain circumstances if the Developer cancels a contract due to buyer's default; (4) provide for "preclosing" of the Sales Contract; (5) provide the right for the Developer to change the Condominium Documents; (6) provide that all interest earned on buyer's funds will belong to Seller; (7) limit warranties the buyer will receive -- see Exhibit I; (8) limit assignment of the Sales Contract; and (9) cover many other important matters that are not described in this Report.

By signing a Sales Contract and an Apartment Deed, each Buyer, among other things, also will consent and agree to the phased development of adjoining lands and the merger of such phases with this Condominium, as discussed above in Section K. Project Phases and in Exhibit F. Phase Development and Merger of Phases; Developer's Special Rights, Including to Change the Condominium Documents, and at the Developer's request, to execute additional documents and to do such other things necessary or convenient therefor. Buyer also will appoint the Developer as the Buyer's attorney-in-fact to execute such documents and do such other things, and to hold the buyer's "Owner duplicate certificate" for his or her apartment and to have such documents noted thereon.

Apartment unit purchasers and prospective purchasers should read all provisions of the specimen Sales Contract and Apartment Deed and the Escrow Agreement with care.

EXHIBIT H

SPECIAL USE RESTRICTIONS

The Condominium Declaration states that each apartment may be occupied and used only for residential purposes and no apartment shall be used as a tenement or rooming house or for or in connection with the carrying on of any business, trade, or profession. No apartment may be rented by owners for any period less than 30 days or where the occupants are provided customary hotel services such as room service for food and beverages, or maid or laundry and linen or bellboy services. Time sharing is prohibited.

The House Rules provide, in part: (1) No water beds of any nature are allowed in any apartment without prior written approval of the Board and written evidence of adequate liability insurance coverage; and (2) Cooking over an open flame with charcoal grills and hibachis is not permissible within the apartment or on common areas, except on lanais, on private patios or yard areas, and on those portions of the common elements as may be designated for such activities by the Board.

PERMITTED ALTERATIONS TO APARTMENT

Permitted Alterations to Apartments: The By-Laws state that: No Owner of an apartment may make, except with the prior written permission of the Board, or in accordance with the Rules and Regulations, if applicable provisions are stated therein, any alteration, addition, repair or improvement (1) to his or her apartment which may affect the common elements or change the exterior appearance of the buildings, or (2) to any of the common elements including, without limitation, common or limited common elements within, encompassing or adjacent to his or her apartment.

Unless otherwise prohibited or conditioned by the provisions of the Condominium Declaration or By-Laws, or the Condominium Act, an Apartment Owner may make additions, alterations or improvements solely within his or her apartment or within a limited common element appurtenant to and for the exclusive use of his or her apartment at his or her sole cost and expense.

No Owner shall do any work to his or her Apartment which could jeopardize the soundness or safety of any part of the Condominium, reduce the value thereof, or impair any easement or hereditament, nor may any Owner add any material structure or excavate any additional basement or cellar, without in every such case the consent of seventy-five (75%) percent of the Owners being first obtained, together with the consent of all Owners whose apartments or limited common elements appurtenant thereto are directly affected. However, the installation of solar energy devices as defined by Section 468B-1, Hawaii Revised Statutes, or material additions to or alterations of an apartment made within such apartment or within a limited common element appurtenant to and for the exclusive use of the apartment shall require approval only by the Board. The Board shall not unreasonably withhold or delay its approval, and shall have the obligation to answer any written request by an Owner for its consent within thirty (30) days after its receipt of such a request describing the proposed alteration in reasonable detail.
