GENERAL INFORMATION ON CONDOMINIUMS

A condominium is a special form of real property. To create a condominium in Hawaii, the requirements of Hawaii's "Horizontal Property Act" (Chapter 514A, Hawaii Revised Statutes) must be followed.

If you are a typical condominium apartment owner, you will have two kinds of ownership: (1) ownership in your individual apartment; and (2) an undivided interest in the common elements.

Common elements are the areas of the condominium project other than the individual apartments. They are owned jointly by all apartment owners and include the land, either in fee simple or leasehold, and those parts of the building or buildings intended for common use such as foundations, columns, roofs, halls, elevators, and the like. Your undivided interest in the common elements cannot be separated from ownership of your apartment.

In some condominium projects, some common elements are reserved for the exclusive use of the owners of certain apartments. These common elements are called limited common elements and may include parking stalls, patios, lanais, trash chutes, and the like.

You will be entitled to exclusive ownership and possession of your apartment. Condominium apartments may be individually bought, sold, rented, mortgaged, or encumbered, and they may be disposed of by will, gift, or operation of law.

Your apartment will, however, be part of the group of apartments that comprise the condominium project. Study the Declaration, Bylaws, and House Rules. These documents contain important information on the use and occupancy of apartments and the common elements as well as the rules of conduct for owners, tenants, and guests.

Some condominium projects are leasehold. This means that the land or the land, building(s) and other improvements are leased to the buyer. The lease for the land usually requires that at the end of the lease term, the lessees (apartment owner/tenant) deliver their interest in the land to the lessor (fee property owner). The lease also usually requires that the lessees either (1) convey to the lessor the building(s) and other improvements, including any improvements paid for by the lessees; or (2) remove or dispose of the improvements. The leases for individual apartments often require that at the end of the lease term, the lessee deliver to the lessor the apartment, including any improvements placed in the apartment by the lessee.

Operation of the Condominium Project

The Association of Apartment Owners is the entity through which apartment owners may take action with regard to the administration, management, and operation of the condominium project. Each apartment owner is automatically a member of the Association.

The Board of Directors is the governing body of the Association. Unless you serve as a board member or an officer, or are on a committee appointed by the board, your participation in the administration and operation of the condominium project will in most cases be limited to your right to vote as an apartment owner. The Board of Directors and officers can take certain actions without a vote of the owners. Some of these actions may significantly impact the quality of life for all apartment owners.

Until there is a sufficient number of purchasers of apartments to elect a majority of the Board of Directors, it is likely that the developer will effectively control the affairs of the Association. It is frequently necessary for the developer to do so during the early stages of development and the developer may reserve certain special rights to do so in the Declaration and Bylaws. Prospective buyers should understand that it is vitally important to all apartment owners that the transition from developer to owner control be accomplished in an orderly manner and in a spirit of cooperation.

II. CREATION OF THE CONDOMINIUM; CONDOMINIUM DOCUMENTS

A condominium is created by recording in the Bureau of Conveyances and/or filing with the Land Court a Declaration of Condominium Property Regime, a Condominium Map (File Plan), and the Bylaws of the Association of Apartment Owners.

- A. Declaration of Condominium Property Regime contains a description of the land, buildings, apartments, common elements, limited common elements, common interests, and other information relating to the condominium project.

The Declaration for this condominium is:

Proposed
 Recorded - Bureau of Conveyances - Book _____ Page _____
 Filed - Land Court - Document Number 1607424

Amendment date(s) and recording/filing information:

- B. Condominium Map (File Plan) shows the floor plan, elevation and layout of the condominium project. It also shows the floor plan, location, apartment number, and dimensions of each apartment.

The Condominium Map for this condominium project is:

Proposed
 Recorded - Bureau of Conveyance Condo Map No. _____
 Filed - Land Court Condo Map No. 695

Amendment date(s) and recording/filing information:

- C. Bylaws of the Association of Apartment Owners govern the operation of the condominium project. They provide for the manner in which the Board of Directors of the Association of Apartment Owners is elected, the powers and duties of the Board, the way in which meetings will be conducted, and other matters which affect how the condominium project will be governed.

The Bylaws for this condominium are:

Proposed
 Recorded - Bureau of Conveyances - Book _____ Page _____
 Filed - Land Court - Document Number 1607425

Amendment date(s) and recording/filing information:

The Condominium Statute (Chapter 514A, HRS), the Declaration, Bylaws, and House Rules control the rights and obligations of the apartment owners with respect to the common elements, to each other, and to their respective apartments. The provisions of these documents are intended to be, and in most cases are, enforceable in a court of law.

- D. House Rules. The Board of Directors may adopt house rules to govern the use and operation of the common elements and individual apartments. House rules may cover matters such as parking regulations, hours of operation for common facilities such as recreation areas, use of lanais, keeping of pets, and occupancy limits. These rules must be followed by owners, tenants, and guests. They do not need to be recorded or filed to be effective. The initial house rules are usually adopted by the developer.

The House Rules for this condominium are:

- Proposed Adopted
- Developer does not plan to adopt house rules.

E. Changes to Condominium Documents

Changes to the Declaration, Condominium Map, and Bylaws are effective only if they are duly adopted and recorded and/or filed. Changes to House Rules do not need to be recorded or filed to be effective.

1. Apartment Owners: Minimum percentage of common interest which must vote for or give written consent to changes:

	Minimum Set by Law	This Condominium
Declaration (and Condo Map)	75%	75%
Bylaws	65%	65%
House Rules	---	Board of Directors

The percentages for individual condominium projects may be more than the minimum set by law.

2. Developer: The developer has reserved the following rights to change the Declaration, Condominium Map, Bylaws, or House Rules:
1. Right to amend prior to conveyance of the first unit.
 2. Right to file "as built" verified statement.

B. Underlying Land:

8. Recreational and Other Common Facilities:

There are no recreational or common facilities.

Swimming pool

Storage Area

Recreation Area

Laundry Area

Tennis Court

Trash Chute

Other:

9. Present Condition of Improvements N/A
 (For conversions of residential apartments in existence for five years):

a. Condition and Expected Useful Life of Structural Components, Mechanical, and Electrical Installations

b. Compliance with Building Code and Municipal Regulations; Cost to Cure Violations

10. Conformance to Present Zoning Code

a. No variances to zoning code have been granted.

Variance(s) to zoning code was/were granted as follows:

b. Conforming/Non-Conforming Uses, Structures, Lot

In general, a non-conforming use, structure, or lot is a use, structure, or lot which was lawful at one time but which does not now conform to present zoning requirements.

	Conforming	Non-Conforming	Illegal
Uses	 X
Structures	 X
Lot	 X

If a variance has been granted or if uses, improvements, or lot are either non-conforming or illegal, buyer should consult with county zoning authorities as to possible limitations which may apply.

Limitations may include restrictions on extending, enlarging, or continuing the non-conformity, and restrictions on altering and repairing structures. In some cases, a non-conforming structure that is destroyed or damaged cannot be reconstructed.

The buyer may not be able to obtain financing or insurance if the condominium project has a non-conforming or illegal use, structure, or lot.

D. Common Elements, Limited Common Elements, Common Interest:

1. Common Elements: Common Elements are those parts of the condominium project intended to be used by all apartment owners. They are owned jointly by all apartment owners.

Exhibit A describes the common elements.

2. Limited Common Elements: Limited Common Elements are those common elements which are reserved for the exclusive use of the owners of certain apartments.

There are no limited common elements in this project.

The limited common elements and the apartments which may use them are:

described in Exhibit _____

as follows:

1. Site surrounding and adjacent to each unit
2. Parking stalls

3. Common Interest: Each apartment will have an undivided fractional interest in all of the common elements. This interest is called the "common interest." It is often used to determine each apartment's share of the maintenance fees and other common profits and expenses of the condominium. It may also be used for other purposes, including voting on matters requiring action by apartment owners.

Exhibit B describes the common interests for each apartment.

as follows:

E. Encumbrances Against Title: An encumbrance is a claim against or a liability on the property.

Exhibit C describes the encumbrances against the title contained in the title report dated November 16, 1988. Developer represents there has been no change since then, except for the filing of the Declaration of Horizontal Property Regime, the By-Laws of the Association and Blanket Liens: the Condominium Map.

A blanket lien is a mortgage on a condominium project that secures a construction loan. It is usually released on an apartment-by-apartment basis upon payment of specified sums so that individual apartments can be conveyed to buyers free and clear of the lien.

- There are no blanket liens affecting title to the individual apartments.
- There are blanket liens which may affect title to the individual apartments.

Blanket liens (except for improvement district or utility assessments) must be released before the developer conveys the apartment to a buyer. Buyer's interest will be affected only if the developer defaults prior to conveying the apartment to buyer.

Type of Lien	Effect on Buyer's Interest If Developer Defaults
Mortgage	Purchaser's contract will be cancelled and deposits refunded

F. Management of the Common Elements: The Association of Apartment Owners is responsible for the management of the common elements and the overall operation of the condominium project. The Association may be permitted, and in some cases may be required, to employ or retain a managing agent to assist the Association in managing the condominium project.

Initial Managing Agent: When the developer or the developer's affiliate is the initial managing agent, the management contract must have a term of one year or less and the parties must be able to terminate the contract on notice of 60 days or less.

The initial managing agent for this condominium is:

- not affiliated with the Developer.
- the Developer or the Developer's affiliate.
- other _____

G. Estimate of Initial Maintenance Fees:

The Association will make assessments against your apartment to provide funds for the operation and maintenance of the condominium project. If you are delinquent in paying the assessments, your apartment may be liened and sold through a foreclosure proceeding.

Initial maintenance fees are difficult to estimate and tend to increase as the condominium ages. Maintenance fees may vary depending on the services provided to each apartment.

Exhibit D contains a schedule of maintenance fees and maintenance fee disbursements.

H. Utility Charges for Apartments:

Each apartment will be billed separately for utilities except for the following checked utilities which are included in the maintenance fees:

Summary of Sales Contract

The sales contract contains the price, description and location of the apartment and other terms and conditions under which a buyer will agree to buy an apartment in the Project. Among other things, the sales contract says:

(a) What a buyer must do to qualify for a loan if the buyer wants a mortgage loan to cover part of the purchase price.

(b) That a buyer's money will be held in escrow, under the terms of the escrow agreement.

(c) That the buyer must close the purchase at a certain date and pay closing costs, in addition to the purchase price.

(d) What will happen if there is a default under the sales contract.

The sales contract contains various other provisions which the buyer should become acquainted with.

EXHIBIT F

Summary of Escrow Agreement

The escrow agreement sets up an arrangement under which the deposits a buyer makes under a sales contract will be held by a neutral party ("Escrow"). Under the escrow agreement these things will or may happen:

(a) Escrow will collect payments due pursuant to the sales contract.

(b) Escrow will deposit all monies received pursuant to the sales contract in a special account with a financial institution.

(c) Escrow will let buyers know when payments are due.

(d) Escrow will arrange for and supervise the signing of all necessary documents.

(e) The escrow agreement says under what conditions refund will be made to a buyer.

(f) The escrow agreement says what will happen to a buyer's funds upon default under the sales contract.

The escrow agreement contains various other provisions and establishes certain charges with which the purchaser should become acquainted.
