GENERAL INFORMATION ON CONDOMINIUMS

A condominium is a special form of real property. To create a condominium in Hawaii, the requirements of Hawaii's "Condominium Property Act" (Chapter 514A, Hawaii Revised Statutes) must be followed.

If you are a typical condominium apartment owner, you will have two kinds of ownership: (1) ownership in your individual apartment; and (2) an undivided interest in the common elements.

Common elements are the areas of the condominium project other than the individual apartments. They are owned jointly by all apartment owners and include the land, either in fee simple or leasehold, and those parts of the building or buildings intended for common use such as foundations, columns, roofs, halls, elevators, and the like. Your undivided interest in the common elements cannot be separated from ownership of your apartment.

In some condominium projects, some common elements are reserved for the exclusive use of the owners of certain apartments. These common elements are called limited common elements and may include parking stalls, patios, lanais, trash chutes, and the like.

You will be entitled to exclusive ownership and possession of your apartment. Condominium apartments may be individually bought, sold, rented, mortgaged, or encumbered, and they may be disposed of by will, gift, or operation of law.

Your apartment will, however, be part of the group of apartments that comprise the condominium project. Study the Declaration, Bylaws, and House Rules. These documents contain important information on the use and occupancy of apartments and the common elements as well as the rules of conduct for owners, tenants, and guests.

Some condominium projects are leasehold. This means that the land or the building(s) and other improvements are leased to the buyer. The lease for the land usually requires that at the end of the lease term, the lessees (apartment owner/tenant) deliver their interest in the land to the lessor (fee property owner). The lease also usually requires that the lessees either (1) convey to the lessor the building(s) and other improvements, including any improvements paid for by the lessees; or (2) remove or dispose of the improvements. The leases for individual apartments often require that at the end of the lease term, the lessee deliver to the lessor the apartment, including any improvements placed in the apartment by the lessee.

Operation of the Condominium Project

The Association of Apartment Owners is the entity through which apartment owners may take action with regard to the administration, management, and operation of the condominium project. Each apartment owner is automatically a member of the Association.

The Board of Directors is the governing body of the Association. Unless you serve as a board member or an officer, or are on a committee appointed by the board, your participation in the administration and operation of the condominium project will in most cases be limited to your right to vote as an apartment owner. The Board of Directors and officers can take certain actions without a vote of the owners. Some of these actions may significantly impact the quality of life for all apartment owners.

Until there is a sufficient number of purchasers of apartments to elect a majority of the Board of Directors, it is likely that the developer will effectively control the affairs of the Association. It is frequently necessary for the developer to do so during the early stages of development and the developer may reserve certain special rights to do so in the Declaration and Bylaws. Prospective buyers should understand that it is vitally important to all apartment owners that the transition from developer to owner control be accomplished in an orderly manner and in a spirit of cooperation.

The provisions of these documents are intended to be, and in most cases are, enforceable in a court of law.

- D. House Rules. The Board of Directors may adopt house rules to govern the use and operation of the common elements and individual apartments. House rules may cover matters such as parking regulations, hours of operation for common facilities such as recreation areas, use of lanais, keeping of pets, and occupancy limits. These rules must be followed by owners, tenants, and guests. They do not need to be recorded or filed to be effective. The initial house rules are usually adopted by the developer.

If a variance has been granted or if uses, improvements or lot are either non-conforming or illegal, buyer should consult with county zoning authorities as to possible limitations which may apply.

Limitations may include restrictions on extending, enlarging, or continuing the non-conformity, and restrictions on altering and repairing structures. In some cases, a non-conforming structure that is destroyed or damaged cannot be reconstructed.

The buyer may not be able to obtain financing or insurance if the condominium project has a non-conforming or illegal use, structure, or lot.

D. Common Elements, Limited Common Elements, Common Interest:

The limited common elements and the apartments which may use them are:

described in Exhibit E

as follows:

The portion of land set aside for the use of each owner of a Unit as set forth in Exhibit A, subject to the roadway and utility easement.

3. Common Interest: Each apartment will have an undivided fractional interest in all of the common elements. This interest is called the "common interest." It is often used to determine each apartment's share of the maintenance fees and other common profits and expenses of the condominium. It may also be used for other purposes, including voting on matters requiring action by apartment owners.

Exhibit C describes the common interests for each apartment.

As follows:

E. Encumbrances Against Title: An encumbrance is a claim against or a liability on the property.

Blanket Liens:

A blanket lien is a mortgage on a condominium project that secures a construction loan. It is usually released on an apartment-by-apartment basis upon payment of specified sums so that individual apartments can be conveyed to buyers free and clear of the lien.

[] There are no blanket liens affecting title to the individual apartments.

[X] There are blanket liens which may affect title to the individual apartments.

Blanket liens (except for improvement district or utility assessments) must be released before the developer conveys the apartment to a buyer. Buyer's interest will be affected only if the developer defaults prior to conveying the apartment to buyer.

IV. ADDITIONAL INFORMATION NOT COVERED ABOVE

Prospective Purchaser:

This is a condominium project, not a subdivision. Units purchased are not subdivided lots. You will be required to comply with zoning codes to be allowed to construct a residence on your limited common element.

To determine whether your expectations can be realized, you should carefully review this Report, especially Exhibit D, a summary of recorded Protective Covenants and Restrictions for Kilauea Farms Subdivision. Among other things, the Protective Covenants and Restrictions state what you may and may not do with the property, what is required of you, and what is and is not available. You should also conduct your own investigations and ascertain the validity of information provided. There is an Architectural Review Committee which must approve of all building plans. Please remember that issuance of this Report does not mean the Real Estate Commission has approved the project.

The County of Kauai Planning Department has advised that, in order to process the necessary permits for the construction of a farm dwelling and the processing of a farm dwelling agreement, authorization from at least 75% of the legal and equitable ownership of the entire project shall be required, consistent with the Declaration of Condominium Property Regime, the Bylaws, and Kilauea Farms Subdivision Protective Covenants and Restrictions.

Except as limited specifically by the Declaration of Condominium Property Regime, the Bylaws and Kilauea Farms Subdivision Protective Covenants and Restrictions, all uses permitted in the agricultural zone are permitted. Such uses include, but are not limited to growing crops, raising animals, residence, diversified agriculture, forestry, orchards and nurseries and wildlife management. See Kauai County Comprehensive Zoning Ordinance, Article 8.7.

With reference to page 10 of this report, specifically the permitted uses of buildings and other improvements, structures shall only be occupied or used for agriculture, associated residential uses, and/or other uses permitted under the Kauai County Zoning Ordinances and the Protective Covenants and Restrictions (Exhibit D), herein referenced. An agricultural residence may not be constructed unless the Unit Owner demonstrates to the County his ability to derive income and/or agricultural products from his property. Agricultural use must be established and verified prior to any building permit approval.

Please see cautionary and advisory letter from Kauai County Planning Department attached as Exhibit J.

A buyer should understand that all development and use of the properties shall comply with all County Codes and Ordinances, that owners in this condominium project will not necessarily receive the same County benefits as owners of approved subdivided lots, and that owner who develop their properties later than others may find that insufficient utility capacities may thwart their expectations.

Buyer's Right to Cancel Sales Contract:

A. Rights Under the Condominium Statute:

Preliminary Report: Sales made by the Developer are not binding. A prospective buyer who cancels the sales contract is entitled to a refund of all moneys paid, less any escrow cancellation fee up to $250.00.

Supplementary Report to a Preliminary Report: Same as for Preliminary Report.

Final Report, Supplementary Report to a Final Report: Sales made by the Developer are binding if:

1. The Developer delivers to the buyer a copy of:
 - a. Either the Final Public Report OR the Supplementary Public Report which has superseded the Final Public Report;
AND
 - b. Any other public report issued by the Commission prior to the date of delivery, if the report was not previously delivered to the buyer and if the report has not been superseded;
2. The buyer is given an opportunity to read the report(s); and
3. One of the following has occurred:
 - a. The buyer has signed a receipt for the report(s) and waived the right to cancel; or
 - b. Thirty (30) days have passed from the time the report(s) were delivered to the buyer; or
 - c. The apartment is conveyed to the buyer within 30 days from the date the report(s) were delivered to the buyer.

Material Change: Binding contracts with the Developer may be rescinded by the buyer if:

1. There is a material change in the condominium which directly, substantially, and adversely affects (a) the use or value of the buyer's apartment or its limited common elements; or (b) the amenities available for buyer's use; and
2. The buyer has not waived the right to rescind.

If the buyer rescinds a binding sales contract because there has been a material change, the buyer is entitled to a full and prompt refund of any moneys the buyer paid.

B. Rights Under the Sales Contract:

Before signing the sales contract, prospective buyers should ask to see and carefully review all documents relating to the condominium. These include but are not limited to the:

1. Condominium Public Reports issued by the Hawaii Real Estate Commission.
2. Declaration of Condominium Property Regime and Condominium Map.
3. Bylaws of the Association of Apartment Owners.

7. Other Declaration of Protective Covenants, Conditions and Restrictions for Kilauea Farms Subdivision.

If these documents are not in final form, the buyer should ask to see the most recent draft.

Copies of the condominium and sales documents and amendments made by the developer are available for review through the developer and are on file at the Department of Commerce and Consumer Affairs. Reprints of Hawaii's Condominium Law (Chapter 514A, HRS, and Hawaii Administrative Rules, Chapter 16-107) are available at the Department of Commerce and Consumer Affairs.

Subject: Comments on Keith Ranch Condominium Report
Registration No. 2127 at Kilauea, Kauai, Hawaii
Tax Map Key: 5-1-05:41

After reviewing the subject document, we have the following comments to offer:

The amount of limited common elements corresponds to the allowable unit density permitted by the CZO. The subject property is zoned Agriculture District (A) and Open District (O) and qualifies for five (5) units.

When applying for Zoning Permits with the Planning Department, the owners must be made aware that 75% of the owners, or their assignee, are required to sign the permit form(s). Should an assignee be designated, such assignee shall present proof of authorization from the 75% of the owners at the time a permit is applied for. This is a requirement because the Planning Department does not recognize the Condominium Report to be a legal subdivision of land.

The uses on the limited common elements shall be limited to those listed as permissible within the "A" Agricultural District in the State Land Use Commission Rules and Regulations. Farm dwellings on the lot shall mean a single-family dwelling located on and used in connection with a farm or where agricultural activity provides income to the family occupying the dwelling.

There should be a disclosure provision written into this and all ensuing condominium reports stating that approval of the report should not be misconstrued to mean that all County Codes and Ordinances have been complied with. Subsequent development and use shall comply with all applicable County Codes and Ordinances. It should also be made clear that the Horizontal Property Regime (HPR) does not necessarily mean that all County requirements pertaining to subdivision of lands have been met. Therefore, such facilities/improvements that are normally associated with County-approved subdivisions such as fire protection devices, County street lighting, electricity, upgraded water facilities, improved access for owner and emerging traffic, drainage facilities, etc., may not necessarily be provided for. Further, such services as County street maintenance and trash collection will not be available for interior road/roadways.

Because there are more than one farm dwelling proposed/permitted, the landowners pursuant to the County Farm Dwelling Agreement, should be made aware that any dwelling(s) constructed after the first one will require an inspection of the property by the Planning Department to verify whether agricultural activities are being conducted on the property. If not, such permits to construct additional farm dwellings could be denied.
