GENERAL INFORMATION ON CONDOMINIUMS

A condominium is a special form of real property. To create a condominium in Hawaii, the requirements of Hawaii's "Condominium Property Act" (Chapter 514A, Hawaii Revised Statutes) must be followed.

If you are a typical condominium apartment owner, you will have two kinds of ownership: (1) ownership in your individual apartment; and (2) an undivided interest in the common elements.

Common elements are the areas of the condominium project other than the individual apartments. They are owned jointly by all apartment owners and include the land, either in fee simple or leasehold, and those parts of the building or buildings intended for common use such as foundations, columns, roofs, halls, elevators, and the like. Your undivided interest in the common elements cannot be separated from ownership of your apartment.

In some condominium projects, some common elements are reserved for the exclusive use of the owners of certain apartments. These common elements are called limited common elements and may include parking stalls, patios, lanais, trash chutes, and the like.

You will be entitled to exclusive ownership and possession of your apartment. Condominium apartments may be individually bought, sold, rented, mortgaged, or encumbered, and they may be disposed of by will, gift, or operation of law.

Your apartment will, however, be part of the group of apartments that comprise the condominium project. Study the Declaration, Bylaws, and House Rules. These documents contain important information on the use and occupancy of apartments and the common elements as well as the rules of conduct for owners, tenants, and guests.

Some condominium projects are leasehold. This means that the land or the building(s) and other improvements are leased to the buyer. The lease for the land usually requires that at the end of the lease term, the lessees (apartment owner/tenant) deliver their interest in the land to the lessor (fee property owner). The lease also usually requires that the lessees either (1) convey to the lessor the building(s) and other improvements, including any improvements paid for by the lessees; or (2) remove or dispose of the improvements. The leases for individual apartments often require that at the end of the lease term, the lessee deliver to the lessor the apartment, including any improvements placed in the apartment by the lessee.

Operation of the Condominium Project

The Association of Apartment Owners is the entity through which apartment owners may take action with regard to the administration, management, and operation of the condominium project. Each apartment owner is automatically a member of the Association.

The Board of Directors is the governing body of the Association. Unless you serve as a board member or an officer, or are on a committee appointed by the board, your participation in the administration and operation of the condominium project will in most cases be limited to your right to vote as an apartment owner. The Board of Directors and officers can take certain actions without a vote of the owners. Some of these actions may significantly impact the quality of life for all apartment owners.

Until there is a sufficient number of purchasers of apartments to elect a majority of the Board of Directors, it is likely that the developer will effectively control the affairs of the Association. It is frequently necessary for the developer to do so during the early stages of development and the developer may reserve certain special rights to do so in the Declaration and Bylaws. Prospective buyers should understand that it is vitally important to all apartment owners that the transition from developer to owner control be accomplished in an orderly manner and in a spirit of cooperation.

II. CREATION OF THE CONDOMINIUM;

The provisions of these documents are intended to be, and in most cases are, enforceable in a court of law.

- D. House Rules. The Board of Directors may adopt house rules to govern the use and operation of the common elements and individual apartments. House rules may cover matters such as parking regulations, hours of operation for common facilities such as recreation areas, use of lanais, keeping of pets, and occupancy limits. These rules must be followed by owners, tenants, and guests. They do not need to be recorded or filed to be effective. The initial house rules are usually adopted by the developer.

The House Rules for this condominium are:

- Proposed Adopted
- Developer does not plan to adopt house rules.

Limitations may include restrictions on extending, enlarging, or continuing the non-conformity, and restrictions on altering and repairing structures. In some cases, a non-conforming structure that is destroyed or damaged cannot be reconstructed.

The buyer may not be able to obtain financing or insurance if the condominium project has a non-conforming or illegal use, structure, or lot.

D. Common Elements, Limited Common Elements, Common Interest:

1. Common Elements: Common Elements are those parts of the condominium project intended to be used by all apartment owners. They are owned jointly by all apartment owners.

It may also be used for other purposes, including voting on matters requiring action by apartment owners.

[] Exhibit describes the common interests for each apartment.

[] As follows:

Dwelling A shall have a 100% interest in all common elements of the Project, and the same proportionate share in all common profits and expenses of the project and for all purposes, including voting on all matters requiring action by the Dwelling Lot owners.

If the Developer shall add Phase 2, then the percentage of undivided interest in the common elements shall be changed so that Dwelling A shall have appurtenant thereto an undivided fifty-nine percent (59%) interest, and Dwelling B shall have appurtenant thereto an undivided forty-one percent (41%) interest in all common elements of the Project, and the same proportionate share in all common profits and expenses of the project and for all other purposes, including voting as aforesaid.

E. Encumbrances Against Title: An encumbrance is a claim against or a liability on the property.

Exhibit E describes the encumbrances against the title contained in the title report dated January 23, 1990 and issued by Title Guaranty of Hawaii .

Blanket Liens:

A blanket lien is a mortgage on a condominium project that secures a construction loan. It is usually released on an apartment-by-apartment basis upon payment of specified sums so that individual apartments can be conveyed to buyers free and clear of the lien.

[] There are no blanket liens affecting title to the individual apartments.

[x] There are blanket liens which may affect title to the individual apartments.

Blanket liens (except for improvement district or utility assessments) must be released before the developer conveys the apartment to a buyer. Buyer's interest will be affected only if the developer defaults prior to conveying the apartment to buyer.

The Association may be permitted, and in some cases may be required, to employ or retain a managing agent to assist the Association in managing the condominium project.

Initial Managing Agent: When the developer or the developer's affiliate is the initial managing agent, the management contract must have a term of one year or less and the parties must be able to terminate the contract on notice of 60 days or less.

The initial managing agent for this condominium is:

[] not affiliated with the Developer.

[x] the Developer or the Developer's affiliate.

[] self-managed by the Association of Apartment Owners.

[] other _____

G. Estimate of Initial Maintenance Fees:

The Association will make assessments against your apartment to provide funds for the operation and maintenance of the condominium project. If you are delinquent in paying the assessments, your apartment may be liened and sold through a foreclosure proceeding.

Initial maintenance fees are difficult to estimate and tend to increase as the condominium ages. Maintenance fees may vary depending on the services provided to each apartment.

Exhibit _____ contains a schedule of maintenance fees and maintenance fee disbursements.

Developer's Reserved Rights

The Developer has reserved the following rights to change the Declaration, Condominium Map, By-Laws or House Rules:

1. Paragraph 20 of the Declaration provides that (1) at any time prior to the first filing in the Bureau of Conveyances of the State of Hawaii of a conveyance of a Dwelling, the Developer may amend the Declaration (including all exhibits) and the By-Laws in any manner, without the consent of any Dwelling purchaser; and (2) at any time thereafter, the Developer may amend the Declaration (and when applicable, the Condominium Map) to file the "As Built" verified statement required by Section 514A-12 of the Act (i) so long as such statement is merely a verified statement of a registered architect or professional engineer certifying that the final plan thereto filed fully and accurately depicts layout, location, apartment numbers, and the dimensions of an improvement or change in a Dwelling as built; or (ii) so long as the plans filed therewith involve only immaterial changes to the layout, location, or dimensions of the apartments as built or any change in any apartment number.

2. Paragraph 21.3 of the Declaration provides that the Developer until December 31, 1999, shall have the right to add to the Project a Phase 2 consisting of Dwelling B within the areas delineated "Dwelling Lot B Reserved for Future Development" on Sheet 1 of the proposed Condominium Map. In connection therewith, Developer may amend the Declaration and Condominium Map.

EXHIBIT "B"

PERMITTED ALTERATIONS TO APARTMENTS. Paragraph 19.1 of the proposed Declaration states:

"Each Dwelling Owner, with the consent of any holder of any mortgage affecting the Owner's Dwelling, shall have the right at his sole option at any time and from time to time without the consent of anyone else to improve, renovate, remodel, make additions to, enlarge, remove, replace or restore the improvements to or in his Dwelling or portions thereof or to make improvements upon the Dwelling Lot appurtenant to the Dwelling (collectively, the foregoing are referred to "changes") subject to the following conditions:

(i) All building plans for any such changes shall be prepared by a licensed architect or professional engineer and conform with County building or zoning laws and other applicable City and County ordinances.

(ii) The value of the Dwelling after such changes shall not be less than the value before such changes.

(iii) No change to a Dwelling will be made outside the Dwelling Lot to which the Dwelling is appurtenant; no change will reduce the distance between improvements placed on each Dwelling Lot to less than what it was originally as shown on the Condominium Map, and no change to a Dwelling will be made if the effect of such change would be to exceed the Dwelling's proportionate share of the allowable floor area or Lot area for the Land, as defined by the Zoning Ordinance of the City and County of Honolulu in effect when the change is to be made. The proportionate share for each Dwelling shall be the same as its interest in the common interest; provided, however, that until December 31, 1999, the proportionate share on Dwelling A shall not exceed 50%.

(iv) All such changes shall be at the expense of the Dwelling owner making the change and shall be expeditiously made and in a manner that will not unreasonably interfere with the other Dwelling owner's use of his Dwelling Lot.

(vi) During the entire course of such construction, the Dwelling owner making such change will cause to be maintained at his expense builder's all-risk insurance in an amount not less than the estimated cost of construction. The Association shall be named as an additional insured and evidence of such insurance shall be deposited with the Association or its Managing Agent, if any.

(vii) Prior to commencement of the construction of a change, and as a condition thereto, the Dwelling owner making such change shall give reasonable assurance to the Association of the owner's financial ability to complete and to pay for the change.

(viii) The owner of the changed Dwelling shall have the right to utilize, relocate and realign existing and/or to develop additional, central and appurtenant installations for services to the Dwelling affected by such change for electricity, sewer and other utilities and services and when applicable, to add, delete, relocate, realign, designate and grant easement and rights-of-way over, under and on the common elements as necessary or desirable in connection therewith; provided that the same shall not cause any interruption in the service of such utilities to any other part of the project.
