GENERAL INFORMATION ON CONDOMINIUMS

A condominium is a special form of real property. To create a condominium in Hawaii, the requirements of Hawaii's "Condominium Property Act" (Chapter 514A, Hawaii Revised Statutes) must be followed.

If you are a typical condominium apartment owner, you will have two kinds of ownership: (1) ownership in your individual apartment; and (2) an undivided interest in the common elements.

Common elements are the areas of the condominium project other than the individual apartments. They are owned jointly by all apartment owners and include the land, either in fee simple or leasehold, and those parts of the building or buildings intended for common use such as foundations, columns, roofs, halls, elevators, and the like. Your undivided interest in the common elements cannot be separated from ownership of your apartment.

In some condominium projects, some common elements are reserved for the exclusive use of the owners of certain apartments. These common elements are called limited common elements and may include parking stalls, patios, lanais, trash chutes, and the like.

You will be entitled to exclusive ownership and possession of your apartment. Condominium apartments may be individually bought, sold, rented, mortgaged, or encumbered, and they may be disposed of by will, gift, or operation of law.

Your apartment will, however, be part of the group of apartments that comprise the condominium project. Study the Declaration, Bylaws, and House Rules. These documents contain important information on the use and occupancy of apartments and the common elements as well as the rules of conduct for owners, tenants, and guests.

Some condominium projects are leasehold. This means that the land or the building(s) and other improvements are leased to the buyer. The lease for the land usually requires that at the end of the lease term, the lessees (apartment owner/tenant) deliver their interest in the land to the lessor (fee property owner). The lease also usually requires that the lessees either (1) convey to the lessor the building(s) and other improvements, including any improvements paid for by the lessees; or (2) remove or dispose of the improvements. The leases for individual apartments often require that at the end of the lease term, the lessee deliver to the lessor the apartment, including any improvements placed in the apartment by the lessee.

Operation of the Condominium Project

The Association of Apartment Owners is the entity through which apartment owners may take action with regard to the administration, management, and operation of the condominium project. Each apartment owner is automatically a member of the Association.

The Board of Directors is the governing body of the Association. Unless you serve as a board member or an officer, or are on a committee appointed by the board, your participation in the administration and operation of the condominium project will in most cases be limited to your right to vote as an apartment owner. The Board of Directors and officers can take certain actions without a vote of the owners. Some of these actions may significantly impact the quality of life for all apartment owners.

Until there is a sufficient number of purchasers of apartments to elect a majority of the Board of Directors, it is likely that the developer will effectively control the affairs of the Association. It is frequently necessary for the developer to do so during the early stages of development and the developer may reserve certain special rights to do so in the Declaration and Bylaws. Prospective buyers should understand that it is vitally important to all apartment owners that the transition from developer to owner control be accomplished in an orderly manner and in a spirit of cooperation.

D. House Rules. The Board of Directors may adopt house rules to govern the use and operation of the common elements and individual apartments. House rules may cover matters such as parking regulations, hours of operation for common facilities such as recreation areas, use of lanais, keeping of pets, and occupancy limits. These rules must be followed by owners, tenants, and guests. They do not need to be recorded or filed to be effective. The initial house rules are usually adopted by the developer.

IV. ADDITIONAL INFORMATION NOT COVERED ABOVE

This is a condominium project, not a subdivision. Units purchased are not subdivided lots. If a residence is not already constructed, you will be required to comply with zoning codes to be allowed to construct a residence on your limited common element. To determine whether your expectations can be realized, you should carefully review this Report, and the Protective Covenants and Building Rules, if any. Among other things, such restrictions state what you may and may not do with the property, what is required of you, and what is and is not available. You should also conduct your own investigations and ascertain the validity of information provided. If there is an Architectural Review Committee, it must approve all building plans.

Please remember that issuance of this Report does not mean the Real Estate Commission has approved the project.

The County of Kauai Planning Department has advised that, in order to process the necessary permits for the construction on a Unit, authorization from at least 75% of the legal and equitable ownership of the entire property shall be required, consistent with the Declaration of Condominium Property Regime, the Bylaws and the Protective Covenants and Building Rules, sometimes referred to as the "Project Documents." See letter from Kauai County Planning Department dated December 26, 1990, attached as Exhibit I.

Except as limited specifically by the Project Documents all uses permitted in the Residential Zone are permitted. See Kauai County Comprehensive Zoning Ordinance.

With reference to page 10 of this report, specifically the permitted uses of buildings and other improvements, structures shall only be occupied or used for residential and associated uses, and those uses permitted under the Kauai County Zoning Ordinance and the Project Documents herein referenced.

A buyer should understand that all development and use of the properties shall comply with all County Codes and Ordinances, that owners in this condominium project will not necessarily receive the same County benefits as owners of approved subdivided lots, and that owners who develop their properties later than others may find that insufficient utility capacities or changes in the law or zoning codes may thwart their expectations.

Buyer's Right to Cancel Sales Contract:

A. Rights Under the Condominium Statute:

Preliminary Report: Sales made by the Developer are not binding. A prospective buyer who cancels the sales contract is entitled to a refund of all moneys paid, less any escrow cancellation fee up to $250.00.

Supplementary Report to a Preliminary Report: Same as for Preliminary Report.

2. The buyer is given an opportunity to read the report(s); and
3. One of the following has occurred:

2. The buyer has not waived the right to rescind.

If the buyer rescinds a binding sales contract because there has been a material change, the buyer is entitled to a full and prompt refund of any moneys the buyer paid.

B. Rights Under the Sales Contract:

Before signing the sales contract, prospective buyers should ask to see and carefully review all documents relating to the condominium. These include but are not limited to the:

Subject: Comments on Pulana Condominium Report
Tax Map Key: 4-2-06:17
Wailua Homesteads, Kauai

After reviewing the subject document, we have the following comments to offer:

The amount of limited common elements corresponds to the allowable unit density permitted by the CZO. The subject property is zoned Residential District (R-4) and Open District (O) and qualifies for two (2) units.

When applying for Zoning Permits with the Planning Department, the owners must be made aware that 75% of the owners, or their assignee, are required to sign the permit form(s). Should an assignee be designated, such assignee shall present proof of authorization from the 75% of the owners at the time a permit is applied for. This is a requirement because the Planning Department does not recognize the Condominium Report to be a legal subdivision of land.

There should be a disclosure provision written into this and all ensuing condominium reports stating that approval of the report should not be misconstrued to mean that all County Codes and Ordinances have been complied with. Subsequent development and use shall comply with all applicable County Codes and Ordinances. It should also be made clear that the Horizontal Property Regime (HPR) does not necessarily mean that all County requirements pertaining to subdivision of lands have been met. Therefore, such facilities/improvements that are normally associated with County-approved subdivisions such as fire protection devices, County street lighting, electricity, upgraded water facilities, improved access for owner and emerging traffic, drainage facilities, etc., may not necessarily be provided for. Further, such services as County street maintenance and trash collection will not be available for interior road/driveways.
