

Disclosure Abstract: Separate Disclosure Abstract on this condominium project:

Required and attached to this report       Not Required - disclosures covered in this report.

Summary of Changes from Earlier Public Reports:

This summary contains a general description of the changes, if any, made by the developer since the last public report was issued. It is not necessarily all inclusive. Prospective buyers should compare this public report with the earlier reports if they wish to know the specific changes that have been made.

No prior reports have been issued by the developer.

Changes made are as follows:

The public report format currently in use by the Real Estate Commission ("Commission") is different from that upon which the preliminary public report for this project was issued. When comparing the new format to the old, information contained on a specific page of the final report will not necessarily coincide with the same page number in the preliminary report. Therefore, it is suggested that one refer to the table of contents of each report when making comparisons between the same. Following is a general description of the changes made:

1. Item 4 of the "Special Notices Star Block" has been changed to reflect the issuance of the Additional Dwelling Unit Facilities Clearances by the County of Kauai Planning Department.
2. The Sections "General Information on Condominiums" and "Operation of the Condominium Project" have been changed to reflect the most current information provided by the Commission.
3. In the section identifying the people connected with the project, BZ Building, Inc., has been designated as general contractor, the escrow agent has been changed to First Hawaii Title Corporation and the developer is no longer using Kauai Realty, Inc. as the real estate broker for the project.
4. The condominium documents have been recorded since the issuance of the preliminary report and the appropriate recordation data is included in the final report.
5. The tax map key numbers for the property contained in the section entitled "Underlying Land" have changed and the ownership interest in Lot 93-C-9 has changed.
6. In the section entitled "Buildings and Other Improvements", the description of the interior boundaries of each apartment has been corrected to correspond with Article II of the Declaration.
7. A more accurate estimate of the completion date of construction is contained in the section entitled "Status of Construction and Estimated Completion Date".
8. In the section entitled "Encumbrances Against Title", the date of the title report has been changed to reflect the more current report which is a part of this application to the Commission.
9. The final report contains a new section entitled "Condominium Management" which expands upon the information provided in the preliminary report. There is, however, no change to the fact that this project will be self-managed by its Association of Apartment Owners.
10. The final report also contains a new section entitled "Miscellaneous". This section enlarges upon the information provided by the Commission in the preliminary report concerning the sales documents, a buyer's right to cancel the sales contract and a buyer's rights under the sales contract. The final report is signed by the Developer instead of by Commission Chairman, another new requirement implemented by the Commission.

11. The disclosure regarding Additional Dwelling Units contained in the section entitled "Additional Information Not Covered Above" has been changed to reflect the issuance of Additional Dwelling Unit Facilities Clearances for the project. Issuance of the ADU Facilities Clearances by the County of Kauai Planning Department negates its earlier statement that the proposed density for the project does not conform to the County Zoning Ordinance, as disclosed in the preliminary public report.
12. Certain Exhibits contained in the preliminary report have been changed in the final report as follows: Exhibit A is a copy of the final condominium map; in Exhibit B, item (i) has been revised; in Exhibit E, the common element description has been corrected to correspond with the Declaration; Exhibit F has been updated to correspond to the latest title report on the property; Exhibit G has been revised to include the method of calculation of the common interests; Exhibit H is retyped onto the Real Estate Commission's new form; Exhibit I has been revised to include the provisions contained in the amendments to the subdivision protective covenants.

General Information On Condominiums

A condominium is a special form of real property. To create a condominium in Hawaii, the requirements of the Condominium Property Act, Chapter 514A, Hawaii Revised Statutes, must be complied with. In addition, certain requirements and approvals of the County in which the project is located must be satisfied and obtained.

Some condominium projects are leasehold. This means that the land or the building(s) and other improvements are leased to the buyer. The lease for the land usually requires that at the end of the lease term, the lessees (apartment owners/tenants) deliver their interest in the land to the lessor (fee property owner). The lease also usually requires that the lessees either (1) convey to the lessor the building(s) and other improvements, including any improvements paid for by the lessees; or (2) remove or dispose of the improvements at the lessee's expense. Leases for individual apartments often require that at the end of the lease term, the lessee deliver to the lessor the apartment, including any improvements placed in the apartment by the lessee.

If you are a typical condominium apartment owner, you will have two kinds of ownership: (1) ownership in your individual apartment; and (2) an undivided interest in the common elements.

"Common elements" are the areas of the condominium project other than the individual apartments. They are owned jointly by all apartment owners and include the land, either in fee simple or leasehold, and those parts of the building or buildings intended for common use such as foundations, columns, roofs, halls, elevators, and the like. Your undivided interest in the common elements cannot be separated from ownership of your apartment.

In some condominium projects, some common elements are reserved for the exclusive use of the owners of certain apartments. These common elements are called "limited common elements" and may include parking stalls, garages, lanais, trash chutes, and the like.

You will be entitled to exclusive ownership and possession of your apartment. Condominium apartments may be individually bought, sold, rented, mortgaged or encumbered, and may be disposed of by will, gift, or operation of law.

Your apartment will, however, be part of the group of apartments that comprise the condominium project. Study the project's Declaration, Bylaws, and House Rules. These documents contain important information on the use and occupancy of apartments and the common elements as well as the rules of conduct for owners, tenants, and guests.

Operation of the Condominium Project

The Association of Apartment Owners is the entity through which apartment owners may take action with regard to the administration, management, and operation of the condominium project. Each apartment owner is automatically a member of the Association.

The Board of Directors is the governing body of the Association. Unless you serve as a board member or an officer, or are on a committee appointed by the board, your participation in the administration and operation of the condominium project will in most cases be limited to your right to vote as an apartment owner. The Board of Directors and officers can take certain actions without the vote of the owners. For example, the board may hire and fire employees, increase or decrease maintenance fees, borrow money for repair and improvements and set a budget. Some of these actions may significantly impact the apartment owners.

Until there is a sufficient number of purchasers of apartments to elect a majority of the Board of Directors, it is likely that the developer will effectively control the affairs of the Association. It is frequently necessary for the developer to do so during the early stages of development and the developer may reserve certain special rights to do so in the Declaration and Bylaws. Prospective buyers should understand that it is important to all apartment owners that the transition of control from the developer to the apartment owners be accomplished in an orderly manner and in a spirit of cooperation.

II. CREATION OF THE CONDOMINIUM; CONDOMINIUM DOCUMENTS

A condominium is created by recording in the Bureau of Conveyances and/or filing with the Land Court a Declaration of Condominium Property Regime, a Condominium Map (File Plan), and the Bylaws of the Association of Apartment Owners. The Condominium Property Act (Chapter 514A, HRS), the Declaration, Bylaws, and House Rules control the rights and obligations of the apartment owners with respect to the project and the common elements, to each other, and to their respective apartments. The provisions of these documents are intended to be, and in most cases are, enforceable in a court of law.

- A. Declaration of Condominium Property Regime contains a description of the land, buildings, apartments, common elements, limited common elements, common interests, and other information relating to the condominium project.

The Declaration for this condominium is:

- Proposed
 Recorded - Bureau of Conveyances: Document No. 94-026922
Book _____ Page _____
 Filed - Land Court: Document No. _____

The Declaration referred to above has been amended by the following instruments [state name of document, date and recording/filing information]:

- B. Condominium Map (File Plan) shows the floor plan, elevation and layout of the condominium project. It also shows the floor plan, location, apartment number, and dimensions of each apartment.

The Condominium Map for this condominium project is:

- Proposed
 Recorded - Bureau of Conveyances Condo Map No. 2000
 Filed - Land Court Condo Map No. _____

The Condominium Map has been amended by the following instruments [state name of document, date and recording/filing information]:

- C. Bylaws of the Association of Apartment Owners govern the operation of the condominium project. They provide for the manner in which the Board of Directors of the Association of Apartment Owners is elected, the powers and duties of the Board, the manner in which meetings will be conducted, whether pets are prohibited or allowed and other matters which affect how the condominium project will be governed.

The Bylaws for this condominium are:

- Proposed
 Recorded - Bureau of Conveyances: Document No. 94-026923
Book _____ Page _____
 Filed - Land Court: Document No. _____

The Bylaws referred to above have been amended by the following instruments [state name of document, date and recording/filing information]:

D. House Rules. The Board of Directors may adopt House Rules to govern the use and operation of the common elements and limited common elements. House Rules may cover matters such as parking regulations, hours of operation for common facilities such as recreation areas, use of lanais and requirements for keeping pets. These rules must be followed by owners, tenants, and guests. They do not need to be recorded or filed to be effective. The initial House Rules are usually adopted by the developer.

The House Rules for this condominium are:

Proposed                       Adopted                       Developer does not plan to adopt House Rules

E. Changes to Condominium Documents

Changes to the Declaration, Condominium Map, and Bylaws are effective only if they are duly adopted and recorded and/or filed. Changes to House Rules do not need to be recorded or filed to be effective.

1. Apartment Owners: Minimum percentage of common interest which must vote for or give written consent to changes:

	Minimum Set by Law	This Condominium
Declaration (and Condo Map)	75%*	75%
Bylaws	65%	65%
House Rules	---	N/A

* The percentages for individual condominium projects may be more than the minimum set by law for projects with five or fewer apartments.

2. Developer:

No rights have been reserved by the developer to change the Declaration, Condominium Map, Bylaws or House Rules.

Developer has reserved the following rights to change the Declaration, Condominium Map, Bylaws or House Rules:

III. THE CONDOMINIUM PROJECT

A. Interest to be Conveyed to Buyer:

- Fee Simple: Individual apartments and the common elements, which include the underlying land, will be in fee simple.
- Leasehold or Subleasehold: Individual apartments and the common elements, which include the underlying land will be leasehold.

Leases for the individual apartments and the underlying land usually require that at the end of the lease term, the lessee (apartment owner/tenant) deliver to the lessor (fee property owner) possession of the leased premises and all improvements, including improvements paid for by the lessee.

Exhibit _____ contains further explanations regarding the manner in which the renegotiated lease rents will be calculated and a description of the surrender clause provision(s).

Lease Rent Payable:             Monthly                             Quarterly

For Subleaseholds:

Buyer's sublease may be canceled if the master lease between the sublessor and fee owner is:
 Canceled     Foreclosed

As long as the buyer is not in default, the buyer may continue to occupy the apartment and/or land on the same terms contained in the sublease even if the master lease is canceled or foreclosed.

Individual Apartments in Fee Simple; Common Interest in the Underlying Land in Leasehold or Subleasehold:

Leases for the underlying land usually require that at the end of the lease term, the lessees (apartment owners/tenants) deliver to the lessor (fee property owner) their interest in the land and that they either (1) remove or dispose of the building(s) and other improvements at the lessee's expense; or (2) convey the building(s) and improvements to the lessor, often at a specified price.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION ON LEASEHOLD CONDOMINIUM PROJECTS

The information contained in this report is a summary of the terms of the lease. For more detailed information, you should secure a copy of the lease documents and read them thoroughly.

If you have any legal questions about leasehold property, the lease documents or the terms of the lease and the consequences of becoming a lessee, you should seek the advice of an attorney.

There are currently no statutory provisions for the mandatory conversion of leasehold condominiums and there are no assurances that such measures will be enacted in the future.

In leasehold condominium projects, the buyer of an apartment will acquire the right to occupy and use the apartment for the time stated in the lease agreement. The buyer will not acquire outright or absolute fee simple ownership of the land. The land is owned by the lessor or the leased fee owner. The apartment owner or lessee must make lease rent payments and comply with the terms of the lease or be subject to the lessor's enforcement actions. The lease rent payments are usually fixed at specific amounts for fixed periods of time, and are then subject to renegotiation. Renegotiation may be based on a formula, by arbitration set in the lease agreement, by law or by agreement between the lessor and lessee. The renegotiated lease rents may increase significantly. At the end of the lease, the apartment owners may have to surrender the apartments, the improvements and the land back to the lessor without any compensation (surrender clause).

When leasehold property is sold, title is normally conveyed by means of an assignment of lease, the purpose of which is similar to that of a deed. The legal and practical effect is different because the assignment conveys only the rights and obligations created by the lease, not the property itself.

The developer of this condominium project may have entered into a master ground lease with the fee simple owner of the land in order to develop the project. The developer may have then entered into a sublease or a new lease of the land with the lessee (apartment owner). The developer may lease the improvements to the apartment owner by way of an apartment lease or sublease, or sell the improvements to the apartment owners by way of a condominium conveyance or apartment deed.

**Net Living Area is the floor area of the apartment measured from the interior surface of the apartment perimeter walls.

Other documents and maps may give floor area figures which differ from those above because a different method of determining the floor area may have been used.

Boundaries of Each Apartment: Per Article II of the Declaration of Condominium Property Regime, the boundaries of each apartment shall be the outer surface of the entire building. Wires or conduits, pipes or any utility lines running over, under or through any apartment which are utilized for or serve more than one unit shall not be deemed as part of the apartment, the same being deemed common elements.

Permitted Alterations to Apartments: Permitted alterations to apartments are as allowed by Kauai County Zoning Ordinances and recorded restrictions on the project, if any. Upon construction of each permanent improvement, an amendment to the Declaration of Condominium Property Regime and the Condominium Map (Exhibit A) will be required to disclose actual improvements as a matter of public record.

11. Conformance to Present Zoning Code

a.  No variances to zoning code have been granted.

Variance(s) to zoning code was/were granted as follows:

b. Conforming/Non-Conforming Uses, Structures, Lot

In general, a non-conforming use, structure, or lot is a use, structure, or lot which was lawful at one time but which does not now conform to present zoning requirements.

	Conforming	Non-Conforming	Illegal
Uses	X	_____	_____
Structures	X	_____	_____
Lot	X	_____	_____

If a variance has been granted or if uses, improvements or lot are either non-conforming or illegal, buyer should consult with county zoning authorities as to possible limitations which may apply.

Limitations may include restrictions on extending, enlarging, or continuing the non-conformity, and restrictions on altering and repairing structures. In some cases, a non-conforming structure that is destroyed or damaged cannot be reconstructed.

The buyer may not be able to obtain financing or insurance if the condominium project has a non-conforming or illegal use, structure, or lot.

D. Common Elements, Limited Common Elements, Common Interest:

1. Common Elements: Common Elements are those parts of the condominium project other than the individual apartments. Although the common elements are owned jointly by all apartment owners, those portions of the common elements which are designated as limited common elements (see paragraph 2 below) may be used only by those apartments to which they are assigned. The common elements for this project, as described in the Declaration, are:

described in Exhibit  E .

as follows:

2. Limited Common Elements: Limited Common Elements are those common elements which are reserved for the exclusive use of the owners of certain apartments.

[ ] There are no limited common elements in this project.

[X] The limited common elements and the apartments which use them, as described in the Declaration, are:

[ X] described in Exhibit  E .

[ X] as follows: The portion of the land set aside for the use of each owner of a unit, as set forth in Exhibit A, subject to the roadway and utility easement, if any.

NOTE: Land areas referenced herein are not legally subdivided lots.

3. Common Interest: Each apartment will have an undivided fractional interest in all of the common elements. This interest is called the "common interest." It is used to determine each apartment's share of the maintenance fees and other common profits and expenses of the condominium project. It may also be used for other purposes, including voting on matters requiring action by apartment owners. The common interests for the apartments in this project, as described in the Declaration, are:

[ X] described in Exhibit  C .

[ ] as follows:

E. Encumbrances Against Title: An encumbrance is a claim against or a liability on the property or a document affecting the title or use of the property. Encumbrances may have an adverse effect on the property or your purchase and ownership of an apartment in the project.

Exhibit  F  describes the encumbrances against the title contained in the title report dated  02-16-94  and issued by  FIRST HAWAII TITLE CORPORATION .

Blanket Liens:

A blanket lien is an encumbrance (such as a mortgage) on the entire condominium project that secures some type of monetary debt (such as a loan) or other obligation. A blanket lien is usually released on an apartment-by-apartment basis upon payment of specified sums so that individual apartments can be conveyed to buyers free and clear of the lien.

- [ ] There are no blanket liens affecting title to the individual apartments.
- [X] There are blanket liens which may affect title to the individual apartments.

Blanket liens (except for improvement district or utility assessments) must be released before the developer conveys the apartment to a buyer. The buyer's interest will be affected if the developer defaults and the lien is foreclosed prior to conveying the apartment to buyer.

Type of Lien	Effect on Buyer's Interest and Deposit if Developer Defaults or Lien is Foreclosed Prior to Conveyance
Mortgage	If foreclosed, Buyer's deposit may be refunded and the sales contract between Seller and Buyer will be cancelled. However, the Buyer's interest under the sales contract usually will be subordinate to the blanket lien. Therefore, upon foreclosure of the blanket lien, the lien holder may be able to terminate the Buyer's interest.

F. Construction Warranties:

Warranties for individual apartments and the common elements, including the beginning and ending dates for each warranty, are as follows:

1. Building and Other Improvements: None.

2. Appliances: None.

G. Status of Construction and Estimated Completion Date:

The estimated completion date for construction of the gazebos is May 31, 1994.

H. Project Phases:

The developer  has  has not reserved the right to add to, merge, or phase this condominium.

Summary of Developer's plans or right to perform for future development (such as additions, mergers or phasing):

2. Additional Information Not Covered Above

This is a condominium project, not a subdivision. Therefore, units purchased are not subdivided lots. If a residence is not already built, you will be required to comply with zoning codes to be allowed to construct a residence on your limited common element. To determine whether your expectations can be realized, you should carefully review this report and you should also conduct your own investigations and ascertain the validity of information provided. Please remember that issuance of effective dates for this Report does not mean the Real Estate Commission has approved the project.

The County of Kauai Planning Department has advised that, in order to process the necessary permits for the construction and the processing of a farm dwelling agreement on agriculturally zoned parcels, authorization from at least 75% of the legal and equitable ownership of the entire project shall be required, consistent with the Declaration of Condominium Property Regime and the Bylaws. Except as limited specifically by the project documents of record, all uses permitted in the agricultural zone are permitted. Such uses include, but are not limited to growing crops, raising animals, residence, diversified agriculture, forestry, orchards and nurseries and wildlife management. See Kauai County Comprehensive Zoning Ordinance, Article 8.7. In relation to specifically permitted uses of buildings and other improvements, structures shall only be occupied or used for agriculture, associated residential uses, and/or other uses permitted by law and the recorded project documents. An agricultural residence may not be constructed unless the unit owner demonstrates to the County his ability to derive income from his property, established and verified prior to any building permit approval.

A buyer should understand that development and use of the property shall be in compliance with all County codes and ordinances. If County of Kauai facilities are not already in place, the prospective purchaser is advised that owners in the project will not necessarily receive the same County benefits as owners of approved subdivided lots; owners who develop their properties later than others may find that land use and zoning changes or insufficient utility capacities may thwart their expectations. Zoning and land use restrictions are subject to change and each purchaser should maintain awareness of such conditions.

This condominium project is located on one or more lots in the Puulima Estates Subdivision and is subject to a recorded Declaration of Protective Covenants. A summary of these covenants, as amended, is attached to this Report as Exhibit I. Among other things, the covenants govern land use, building type and the quality and size of structures. Also, due to concerns that the subdivision drainage improvements may cause natural waters to be partially blocked or slowed through their course over an adjacent property owner's land, the subdivision developer was required by the County of Kauai to enter into an indemnity and consent agreement with the adjacent property owner and the County of Kauai. In this document, the developer agreed to pay for and construct all county-required improvements to carry the water flowage from the adjacent property through the subdivision; the developer agreed to indemnify the adjacent property owner and the County from all acts arising out of any lack of free flowage of water; and the neighboring land owner gave his consent to the County issuing final subdivision approval. Upon completion of water and drainage improvements, only one obligation will remain. The Association of Unit Owners will retain the obligation to protect the adjacent owner from damages caused by the future water flows, although the developer does not expect such things to happen. Floodway and flood fringe limits within the subdivision are as delineated on the map prepared by The Keith Companies-Hawaii dated May 29, 1991. No new structures may be constructed within the floodway and new structures constructed within the flood fringe shall be elevated. This project is located in the vicinity of a chicken farm which may cause agricultural nuisances to property owners.

SPECIAL DISCLOSURE REGARDING O'HANA UNITS AND LIMITS ON CONSTRUCTION OF AN ADDITIONAL DWELLING UNIT ON THIS PROJECT

The apartments in this project are gazebos. Two of the units are permitted to construct residences and the third and fourth units may construct additional dwelling units under the Kauai County O'hana ordinance, as evidenced by the Additional Dwelling Unit Facilities Clearances submitted to the Real Estate Commission in the Developer's application package for this public report. Under Kauai County zoning regulations, this means that an "Additional Dwelling Unit" may be constructed for residential use on the property if the provisions of the O'hana ordinance are followed. You should be aware that the O'hana ordinance will expire on December 31, 1996 or sooner upon the passage of a new Comprehensive Zoning Ordinance (known as the "CZO"). A study to determine the provisions of a new CZO for Kauai is now under way, but no public announcements regarding possible changes to the O'hana provisions have been made. This does not mean that the provisions will not change, only that there has been no public announcement. In either case, it will be necessary to obtain building permits for the construction of a residence prior to the expiration of the O'hana ordinance to be assured that a residence may be constructed on the unit with the O'hana status. The purchaser is advised to contact the Kauai County Planning Department to determine whether there is any risk to the prospective purchaser from pending or proposed zoning code changes. A purchaser who does not plan to build in the immediate future may find that passage of time or a change in the CZO will preclude any residential development of the O'hana unit in this project. Issuance of the Additional Dwelling Unit Facilities Clearance by the County of Kauai Planning Department negates its earlier statement that the proposed density for the project does not conform to that permitted by the CZO, as disclosed in Developer's preliminary public report.

The developer hereby certifies that all the information contained in this Report and the Exhibits attached to this Report and all documents to be furnished by the developer to buyers concerning the project have been reviewed by the developer and are, to the best of the developer's knowledge, information and belief, true, correct and complete.

SUMMARY OF DECLARATION OF PROTECTIVE COVENANTS

This project is located on one or more of the lots of the Puulima Estates Subdivision. The subdivision is affected by a Declaration of Protective Covenants (hereinafter called the "protective covenants"), which is dated December 18, 1991 and was recorded in the Bureau of Conveyances of the State of Hawaii as Document No. 91-177582. The protective covenants were amended and restated by instrument recorded on September 15, 1992 as Document No. 92-149911. First and Second Amendments to the amended and restated protective covenants were recorded on December 8, 1993 as Documents No. 93-023144 and 93-023145, respectively.

This is a summary of the types of restrictions applicable to the subdivision as a whole, and to the lot(s) upon which this project is located. This summation is not meant to completely recite the actual provisions of the protective covenants, nor to cover every issue in which a purchaser might have interest. Due to the extensive number of covenants, conditions and rules applicable to the subdivision, the prospective purchaser is urged to obtain a full copy of the protective covenants, as amended, from the developer prior to entering into an agreement to purchase a unit in this project.

General Restrictive Covenants. All improvements by an owner must be in strict compliance with the protective covenants and made only with the approval of the Design Review Committee. Failure of an owner to submit plans and/or to abide by the decisions of the Design Review Committee shall make the offending party liable for all costs incurred in enforcement of the protective covenants.

Agricultural activity shall be in accordance with the State Land Use Law (Chapter 205, Hawaii Revised Statutes) and only farm dwellings, as may be permitted by applicable law, shall be constructed. Owners are restricted from seeking any land use classification or other governmental approval which would result in a greater use density than provided for in the protective covenants.

Height restrictions have been established for both outbuildings and farm dwellings as well as restrictions on the size of limited common element or cotenancy land area and the number of dwellings allowed per lot. Restrictions also apply to the minimum livable floor area, garage requirements (minimum parking requirement and use), number of stories permitted and structure location in relation to lot boundaries. Structures shall be built of entirely new materials and restrictions apply to the type of material (roofing, glass, etc.) and its color. There are further restrictions applicable to the landscaping (height of plantings, bare areas, etc.), fencing and specific requirements for driveway construction. With the exception of a portion of Lot 10, all utilities within the subdivision shall be placed underground. A guest house may be constructed on Lot 3.

Farm dwelling units shall be used and occupied only as farm dwelling units, shall be maintained in good repair by each owner and no owner shall violate any applicable law pertaining to the use and development of his lot or farm dwelling.
