General Information On Condominiums

A condominium is a special form of real property. To create a condominium in Hawaii, the requirements of the Condominium Property Act, Chapter 514A, Hawaii Revised Statutes, must be complied with. In addition, certain requirements and approvals of the County in which the project is located must be satisfied and obtained.

Some condominium projects are leasehold. This means that the land or the building(s) and other improvements are leased to the buyer. The lease for the land usually requires that at the end of the lease term, the lessees (apartment owners/tenants) deliver their interest in the land to the lessor (fee property owner). The lease also usually requires that the lessees either (1) convey to the lessor the building(s) and other improvements, including any improvements paid for by the lessees; or (2) remove or dispose of the improvements at the lessee's expense. Leases for individual apartments often require that at the end of the lease term, the lessee deliver to the lessor the apartment, including any improvements placed in the apartment by the lessee.

If you are a typical condominium apartment owner, you will have two kinds of ownership: (1) ownership in your individual apartment; and (2) an undivided interest in the common elements.

"Common elements" are the areas of the condominium project other than the individual apartments. They are owned jointly by all apartment owners and include the land, either in fee simple or leasehold, and those parts of the building or buildings intended for common use such as foundations, columns, roofs, halls, elevators, and the like. Your undivided interest in the common elements cannot be separated from ownership of your apartment.

In some condominium projects, some common elements are reserved for the exclusive use of the owners of certain apartments. These common elements are called "limited common elements" and may include parking stalls, patios, lanais, trash chutes, and the like.

You will be entitled to exclusive ownership and possession of your apartment. Condominium apartments may be individually bought, sold, rented, mortgaged or encumbered, and may be disposed of by will, gift, or operation of law.

Your apartment will, however, be part of the group of apartments that comprise the condominium project. Study the project's Declaration, Bylaws, and House Rules. These documents contain important information on the use and occupancy of apartments and the common elements as well as the rules of conduct for owners, tenants, and guests.

Operation of the Condominium Project

The Association of Apartment Owners is the entity through which apartment owners may take action with regard to the administration, management, and operation of the condominium project. Each apartment owner is automatically a member of the Association.

The Board of Directors is the governing body of the Association. Unless you serve as a board member or an officer, or are on a committee appointed by the board, your participation in the administration and operation of the condominium project will in most cases be limited to your right to vote as an apartment owner. The Board of Directors and officers can take certain actions without the vote of the owners. For example, the board may hire and fire employees, increase or decrease maintenance fees, borrow money for repair and improvements and set a budget. Some of these actions may significantly impact the apartment owners.

Until there is a sufficient number of purchasers of apartments to elect a majority of the Board of Directors, it is likely that the developer will effectively control the affairs of the Association. It is frequently necessary for the developer to do so during the early stages of development and the developer may reserve certain special rights to do so in the Declaration and Bylaws. Prospective buyers should understand that it is important to all apartment owners that the transition of control from the developer to the apartment owners be accomplished in an orderly manner and in a spirit of cooperation.

II. CREATION OF THE CONDOMINIUM; CONDOMINIUM DOCUMENTS

A condominium is created by recording in the Bureau of Conveyances and/or filing with the Land Court a Declaration of Condominium Property Regime, a Condominium Map (File Plan), and the Bylaws of the Association of Apartment Owners. The Condominium Property Act (Chapter 514A, HRS), the Declaration, Bylaws, and House Rules control the rights and obligations of the apartment owners with respect to the project and the common elements, to each other, and to their respective apartments. The provisions of these documents are intended to be, and in most cases are, enforceable in a court of law.

- A. Declaration of Condominium Property Regime contains a description of the land, buildings, apartments, common elements, limited common elements, common interests, and other information relating to the condominium project.

The Declaration for this condominium is:

Proposed
 Recorded - Bureau of Conveyances: Document No. 93-081799
Book _____ Page _____
 Filed - Land Court: Document No. _____

The Declaration referred to above has been amended by the following instruments [state name of document, date and recording/filing information]:

 Filed - Land Court Condo Map No. _____

The Condominium Map has been amended by the following instruments [state name of document, date and recording/filing information]:

They provide for the manner in which the Board of Directors of the Association of Apartment Owners is elected, the powers and duties of the Board, the manner in which meetings will be conducted, whether pets are prohibited or allowed and other matters which affect how the condominium project will be governed.

The Bylaws for this condominium are:

Proposed
 Recorded - Bureau of Conveyances: Document No. 93-081800
Book _____ Page _____
 Filed - Land Court: Document No. _____

The Bylaws referred to above have been amended by the following instruments [state name of document, date and recording/filing information]:

D. House Rules. The Board of Directors may adopt House Rules to govern the use and operation of the common elements and limited common elements. House Rules may cover matters such as parking regulations, hours of operation for common facilities such as recreation areas, use of lanais and requirements for keeping pets. These rules must be followed by owners, tenants, and guests. They do not need to be recorded or filed to be effective. The initial House Rules are usually adopted by the developer.

The House Rules for this condominium are:

Proposed Adopted Developer does not plan to adopt House Rules

E. Changes to Condominium Documents

Changes to the Declaration, Condominium Map, and Bylaws are effective only if they are duly adopted and recorded and/or filed. Changes to House Rules do not need to be recorded or filed to be effective.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION ON LEASEHOLD CONDOMINIUM PROJECTS

The information contained in this report is a summary of the terms of the lease. For more detailed information, you should secure a copy of the lease documents and read them thoroughly.

If you have any legal questions about leasehold property, the lease documents or the terms of the lease and the consequences of becoming a lessee, you should seek the advice of an attorney.

There are currently no statutory provisions for the mandatory conversion of leasehold condominiums and there are no assurances that such measures will be enacted in the future.

In leasehold condominium projects, the buyer of an apartment will acquire the right to occupy and use the apartment for the time stated in the lease agreement. The buyer will not acquire outright or absolute fee simple ownership of the land. The land is owned by the lessor or the leased fee owner. The apartment owner or lessee must make lease rent payments and comply with the terms of the lease or be subject to the lessor's enforcement actions. The lease rent payments are usually fixed at specific amounts for fixed periods of time, and are then subject to renegotiation. Renegotiation may be based on a formula, by arbitration set in the lease agreement, by law or by agreement between the lessor and lessee. The renegotiated lease rents may increase significantly. At the end of the lease, the apartment owners may have to surrender the apartments, the improvements and the land back to the lessor without any compensation (surrender clause).

When leasehold property is sold, title is normally conveyed by means of an assignment of lease, the purpose of which is similar to that of a deed. The legal and practical effect is different because the assignment conveys only the rights and obligations created by the lease, not the property itself.

The developer of this condominium project may have entered into a master ground lease with the fee simple owner of the land in order to develop the project. The developer may have then entered into a sublease or a new lease of the land with the lessee (apartment owner). The developer may lease the improvements to the apartment owner by way of an apartment lease or sublease, or sell the improvements to the apartment owners by way of a condominium conveyance or apartment deed.

Other documents and maps may give floor area figures which differ from those above because a different method of determining the floor area may have been used.

Boundaries of Each Apartment: Per Article II of the Declaration of Condominium Property Regime, the boundaries of each apartment shall be the outer surface of the entire building. Wires or conduits, pipes or any utility lines running over, under or through any apartment which are utilized for or serve more than one unit shall not be deemed as part of the apartment, the same being deemed common elements.

Permitted Alterations to Apartments: Permitted alterations to apartments are as allowed by Kauai County Zoning Ordinances and recorded restrictions on the project, if any. Upon construction of each permanent improvement, an amendment to the Declaration of Condominium Property Regime and the Condominium Map (Exhibit A) will be required to disclose actual improvements as a matter of public record.

11. Conformance to Present Zoning Code

a. No variances to zoning code have been granted.

Variance(s) to zoning code was/were granted as follows:

b. Conforming/Non-Conforming Uses, Structures, Lot

In general, a non-conforming use, structure, or lot is a use, structure, or lot which was lawful at one time but which does not now conform to present zoning requirements.

	Conforming	Non-Conforming	Illegal
Uses	 X
Structures	 X
Lot	 X

If a variance has been granted or if uses, improvements or lot are either non-conforming or illegal, buyer should consult with county zoning authorities as to possible limitations which may apply.

Limitations may include restrictions on extending, enlarging, or continuing the non-conformity, and restrictions on altering and repairing structures. In some cases, a non-conforming structure that is destroyed or damaged cannot be reconstructed.

The buyer may not be able to obtain financing or insurance if the condominium project has a non-conforming or illegal use, structure, or lot.

D. Common Elements, Limited Common Elements, Common Interest

1. Common Elements: Common Elements are those parts of the condominium project other than the individual apartments. Although the common elements are owned jointly by all apartment owners, those portions of the common elements which are designated as limited common elements (see paragraph 2 below) may be used only by those apartments to which they are assigned. The common elements for this project, as described in the Declaration, are:

described in Exhibit E .

2. Limited Common Elements: Limited Common Elements are those common elements which are reserved for the exclusive use of the owners of certain apartments.

[] There are no limited common elements in this project.

[X] The limited common elements and the apartments which use them, as described in the Declaration, are:

[X] described in Exhibit E.

[] as follows:

The portion of land set aside for the use of each owner of a unit as set forth in Exhibit A, subject to the roadway and utility easement, if any.

NOTE: Land areas referenced herein are not legally subdivided lots.

3. Common Interest: Each apartment will have an undivided fractional interest in all of the common elements. This interest is called the "common interest." It is used to determine each apartment's share of the maintenance fees and other common profits and expenses of the condominium project. It may also be used for other purposes, including voting on matters requiring action by apartment owners. The common interests for the apartments in this project, as described in the Declaration, are:

[X] described in Exhibit C.

[] as follows:

E. Encumbrances Against Title: An encumbrance is a claim against or a liability on the property or a document affecting the title or use of the property. Encumbrances may have an adverse effect on the property or your purchase and ownership of an apartment in the project.

Exhibit F describes the encumbrances against the title contained in the title report dated June 10, 199 and issued by T.I. OF HAWAII, INC.

Blanket Liens:

A blanket lien is an encumbrance (such as a mortgage) on the entire condominium project that secures some type of monetary debt (such as a loan) or other obligation. A blanket lien is usually released on an apartment-by-apartment basis upon payment of specified sums so that individual apartments can be conveyed to buyers free and clear of the lien.

[] There are no blanket liens affecting title to the individual apartments.

[X] There are blanket liens which may affect title to the individual apartments.

Blanket liens (except for improvement district or utility assessments) must be released before the developer conveys the apartment to a buyer. The buyer's interest will be affected if the developer defaults and the lien is foreclosed prior to conveying the apartment to buyer.

Type of Lien	Effect on Buyer's Interest and Deposit if Developer Defaults or Lien is Foreclosed Prior to Conveyance
Mortgage	If the owners default under the Mortgage, at the Mortgagee's option, the sales contract may be canceled and Buyer may lose Buyer's deposit or Buyer may complete the sale with the Mortgagee.

F. Construction Warranties:

Warranties for individual apartments and the common elements, including the beginning and ending dates for each warranty, are as follows:

1. Building and Other Improvements: None .

2. Appliances: None .

G. Status of Construction and Estimated Completion Date:

Construction of all units was complete as of August, 1992.

H. Project Phases:

The developer [] has [X] has not reserved the right to add to, merge, or phase this condominium.

Summary of Developer's plans or right to perform for future development (such as additions, mergers or phasing):

N/A

IV. CONDOMINIUM MANAGEMENT

A. Management of the Common Elements: The Association of Apartment Owners is responsible for the management of the common elements and the overall operation of the condominium project. The Association may be permitted, and in some cases may be required, to employ or retain a condominium managing agent to assist the Association in managing the condominium project.

Initial Condominium Managing Agent: When the developer or the developer's affiliate is the initial condominium managing agent, the management contract must have a term of one year or less and the parties must be able to terminate the contract on notice of 60 days or less.

The initial condominium managing agent for this project, named on page five (5) of this report, is:

- not affiliated with the Developer the Developer or the Developer's affiliate.

B. Estimate of Initial Maintenance Fees:

The Association will make assessments against your apartment to provide funds for the operation and maintenance of the condominium project. If you are delinquent in paying the assessments, your apartment may be liened and sold through a foreclosure proceeding.

Initial maintenance fees are difficult to estimate and tend to increase as the condominium ages. Maintenance fees may vary depending on the services provided.

Exhibit H contains a schedule of estimated initial maintenance fees and maintenance fee disbursements (subject to change).

C. Utility Charges for Apartments:

Each apartment will be billed separately for utilities except for the following checked utilities which are included in the maintenance fees:

- None Electricity Gas Water
 Sewer Television Cable Other _____

C. Additional Information Not Covered Above

This is a condominium project, not a subdivision. Units purchased are not subdivided lots. You will be required to comply with zoning codes to be allowed to construct a residence on your limited common element.

To determine whether your expectations can be realized, you should carefully review this Report, especially Exhibit J, a summary of recorded Covenants, Conditions and Restrictions for the Waipake Subdivision, Unit I (CC&Rs), applicable to the subdivision within which this project is located. Among other things, the CC&Rs state what you may and may not do with the property, what is required of you as an owner, and what is and is not available. Please also see the cautionary and advisory letter from Kauai County Planning Department attached as Exhibit I. You should conduct your own investigations and ascertain the validity of information provided. Please remember that issuance of this Report does not mean the Real Estate Commission has approved the project.

The County of Kauai Planning Department has advised that, in order to process the necessary permits for the construction of a farm dwelling and the processing of a farm dwelling agreement, authorization from at least 75% of the legal and equitable ownership of the entire project shall be required, consistent with the Declaration of Condominium Property Regime, the Bylaws, and the Protective Covenants and House Rules ("condominium documents").

Except as limited specifically by the condominium documents, all uses permitted in the agricultural zone are permitted. Such uses include, but are not limited to, growing crops, raising animals, residence, diversified agriculture, forestry, orchards and nurseries and wildlife management. See Kauai County Comprehensive Zoning Ordinance, Article 8.7. for detailed information.

With reference to Page 10 of this report specifically, the permitted uses of buildings and other improvements, structures shall only be occupied or used for agriculture, associated residential uses, and/or other uses permitted under the Kauai County Zoning Ordinances and the House Rules herein referenced. An agricultural residence may not be constructed unless a unit owner demonstrates to the County his ability to derive income from his property. Agricultural use must be established and verified prior to any building permit approval.

A buyer should understand that all development and use of the property shall be in compliance with County Codes and Ordinances, that owners in this condominium project will not necessarily receive the same County benefits as owners of approved subdivided lots, and that owners who develop their limited common element later than others may find that land use and zoning changes or insufficient utility capacities may thwart their expectations. Also, zoning and land use restrictions are subject to change and a purchaser should maintain awareness of such conditions.

At the time of construction of the sheds, the County of Kauai informed the owners that no County-supplied water facilities existed or may ever exist at the location. As a condition of issuance of the building permits for the sheds, the County required the owners to file a Waiver and Release document regarding the lack of County-supplied water services.

Additionally, any future action affecting the title to the property must include the acknowledgement and consent by the grantees to the existence of this Waiver and Release document, a copy of such document must be filed with the County Building Department.

A copy of the Waiver and Release document, as filed with the County of Kauai and recorded in the record office, is attached hereto as Exhibit K.

- D. The developer hereby certifies that all the information contained in this Report and the Exhibits attached to this Report and all documents to be furnished by the developer to buyers concerning the project have been reviewed by the developer and are, to the best of the developer's knowledge, information and belief, true, correct and complete.

Subject: Comments on Kaloku Farms Condominium Report
Tax Map Key:5-1-06:8
Waipake, Kauai
LOTR:06/24/93

After reviewing the subject document, we have the following comments to offer:

The amount of limited common elements proposed corresponds to the allowable unit density permitted by the CZO. The subject property is zoned Agriculture District (A) and qualifies for four (4) units.

When applying for Zoning Permits with the Planning Department, the owners must be made aware that 75% of the owners or their assignee, are required to sign the permit form(s). Should an assignee be designated, such assignee shall present proof of authorization from the 75% of the owners at the time a permit is applied for. This is a requirement because the Planning Department does not recognize the Condominium Public Report to be a legal subdivision of land.

The uses on the limited common elements shall be limited to those listed as permissible within the "A" Agricultural District in the State Land Use Commission Rules and Regulations. Farm dwellings on the lot shall mean a single-family dwelling located on and used in connection with a farm or where agricultural activity provides income to the family occupying the dwelling.

Mr. Calvin Kimura, Executive Secretary
Real Estate Commission
August 6, 1993

There should be a disclosure provision written into this and all ensuing condominium reports stating that the report should not mean that all County Codes and Ordinances have been complied with. Subsequent development and use shall comply with all applicable County Codes and Ordinances. It should also be made clear that the Condominium Public Report does not necessarily mean that all County requirements pertaining to subdivision of lands have been met. Therefore, such facilities/improvements that are normally associated with County-approved subdivisions such as fire protection devices, County street lighting, electricity, upgraded water facilities, improved access for owner and emergency traffic, drainage facilities, etc., may not necessarily be provided for. Further, such services as County street maintenance and trash collection will not be available for interior road/driveways.

Because there are more than one farm dwelling proposed/permitted, the landowners pursuant to the County Farm Dwelling Agreement, should be made aware that any dwelling(s) constructed after the first one will require an inspection of the property by the Planning Department to verify whether agricultural activities are being conducted on the property. If not, such permits to construct additional farm dwellings could be denied.

Should you have any questions, please feel free to contact Bryan Mamaclay of my staff at 245-3919.

SUMMARY OF COVENANTS, CONDITIONS AND RESTRICTIONS OF WAIPAKE SUBDIVISION UNIT I

This project is located on one of the lots in the Waipake Subdivision Unit I. The subdivision is affected by a "Declaration of Covenants, Conditions and Restrictions" (hereinafter called the "restrictive covenants" or "covenants"), dated February 20, 1991, and recorded in the Bureau of Conveyances of the State of Hawaii as Document No. 91-024029.

This is a summary of the types of restrictive covenants, conditions, easements and reserves applicable to subdivision lots, which covenants run with the land and are binding upon all lot owners. This summary is not meant to completely recite the actual provisions of the protective covenants, nor to cover every issue in which a Purchaser might have interest. Due to the extensive number of covenants, conditions and rules, the prospective Purchaser is urged to obtain a full copy of the protective covenants from the condominium project Developer prior to entering into an agreement to purchase a unit in this project.

SECTION I DECLARATION OF RESTRICTIVE COVENANTS AND CONDITIONS

Lot owners are responsible for being aware of and complying with all governmental laws, rules, regulations and codes. If a standard set in the restrictive covenants differs from that of a governmental agency, the stricter standard applies.

For a period of three (3) years following the sale of the last lot within the subdivision, an architect or architect(s) (hereinafter "Design Review Consultant" or "Consultant") selected by the subdivision developer shall review all construction plans prior to an owner obtaining a building permit. All construction shall be in compliance with plans approved by the Consultant. The Consultant considers, among other things, the size, configuration, location and natural features of a lot, the location of proposed improvements, the effect of proposed improvements on other lots and the visual impact of the proposed improvements. In reviewing plans for improvements, the Consultant follows certain development standards set by the subdivision developer, i.e., setbacks, roof pitch and roofing material, other exterior materials, a regulated minimum living area, building height, and number of dwellings.

No overhead power lines or wires, wind generators or devices for the reception or transmission of radio or television signals are allowed within the subdivision. There are limitations on the types of temporary structures that may be erected on subdivision lots and the length of time temporary structures are allowed to remain. No noxious or offensive activities shall be carried out on any lot and hunting is not permitted within the subdivision. No unsightly structure or condition shall be caused or permitted on any lot. No sound shall be permitted to emit or emanate from any lot which is unreasonably loud or annoying. Plans for the installation of any exterior lighting is subject to review by the Design Review Consultant.

Prior to commencing site improvements, grading and/or grubbing, permits shall be obtained and excessive cuts or filling shall be avoided. No owner shall construct improvements which create a problem of flooding, erosion or interference with the natural flow of water. Each lot is to be kept and maintained in a good, clean and attractive condition. There are limitations on the types of signs permitted within the subdivision. There are protected trees within the subdivision which may not be removed by any lot owner. There are limitations on the type and number of animals permitted to be kept and maintained within the subdivision and lot owners shall provide care in conformance with practices of good animal husbandry.

In addition to the foregoing restrictions, the following uses and activities are prohibited: animal hospitals, cemeteries, churches and monasteries, commercial recreation, construction and temporary worker housing, development campgrounds, mineral extraction and quarries, private and public utility facilities, transportation terminals, communication facilities and slaughter houses.

Subdivision lots are in the State Land Use Agriculture District and use of the lots shall be primarily in pursuit of agricultural activities and only for those uses permissible in an agricultural district as contained in Section 205-4.5, Hawaii Revised Statutes. Dwellings shall be limited to farm dwellings, defined in the State Land Use District Regulations as single-family dwellings located on and used in connection with a farm where agricultural activity provides income to the family occupying the dwelling.

Subdivision lots are in the County Agricultural or Open zoning districts. Use of Agricultural lots shall be in accordance with permissible uses as contained in Section 8-7.2 of the Kauai County Code. Use of lots zoned Open shall be in accordance with Section 8-8.2 of the Kauai County Code. In the development and use of subdivision lots, the owners shall at all times meet County and State Department of Health requirements.

All of the lots of the subdivision are subject to an Agreement to Release Rights to Three-Phase Power Installation which was entered into by the subdivision developer and Citizens Utilities Company. The agreement releases Citizens Utilities Company from any responsibility to provide three-phase electrical power to the lots.

Any breach of any of the provisions of the restrictive covenants may be enforced by injunctive or other legal remedies by the subdivision developer, any lot owner or the County of Kauai.

SECTION II EASEMENTS, RESERVATIONS AND RESTRICTIONS

In this section of the restrictive covenants, the Developer has designated certain road widening reserves and states that no structure shall be constructed within ten feet of the reserve on any of the affected lots. The developer discloses that Certain lots are also located within the Flood Zone, as defined by the County of Kauai, and are subject to all County restrictions concerning construction, development and uses within such zone. The affected lots are subject to the condition that the owner allow for free flowage of storm water runoff. There is a restriction of access along Kuhio Highway imposed upon certain of the subdivision lots.

Exclusive and non-exclusive easements are reserved in this section of the restriction covenants and include: an easement designated for water facilities purposes in favor of the Board of Water Supply, County of Kauai; nine vehicular and pedestrian access/utility easements in favor of the various lots; and a landscaping easement in favor of Lot 3. Subdivision lots shall be subject to the exception and reservation unto the developer of easements for roadway, electrical, gas, communications and other utility purposes, sewer, drainage and water facilities together with the right to grant easements for the same to governmental agencies and/or public utilities in such manner that will not unreasonably interfere with the use of such lots. Any such easements shall run with the land.

SECTION III
GRANT OF EASEMENTS TO LOTOWNERS AND OTHERS

In this section the subdivision developer, having reserved the foregoing easements, grants certain exclusive and non-exclusive easements for pedestrian and vehicular access, utility and landscaping to himself, the various lot owners in the subdivision and the Board of Water Supply, County of Kauai.

No buildings, structures or improvements shall be constructed on any of the lands subject to the easements, except as provided for in the restrictive covenants. Utility structures or equipment installed by an easement owner within the easement area shall be the property of the person constructing the same. If an easement area is condemned by any governmental authority, the easement owner shall have the right to claim or recover only from the condemning authority, not the subdivision developer. After installation, repair or removal of utility structures or equipment within an easement area, the surface of the ground is to be restored to its original condition. After the original installation, the expense of any removal or relocation shall be the responsibility of the person requesting the same. Each easement owner will exercise his rights in such manner as to occasion as little interference as reasonably necessary to the lot owner or any other easement owner, and agrees to give the required notice and use due care so as to avoid any damage to the lot owner's real property, improvements and personal property. The easement owners shall be responsible for maintaining the easement area and facilities and improvements therein in a good, clean, safe, and sanitary condition and shall share the cost thereof in proportion to their individual use. These easements shall run with the land.
