General Information On Condominiums

A condominium is a special form of real property. To create a condominium in Hawaii, the requirements of the Condominium Property Act, Chapter 514A, Hawaii Revised Statutes, must be complied with. In addition, certain requirements and approvals of the County in which the project is located must be satisfied and obtained.

Some condominium projects are leasehold. This means that the land or the building(s) and other improvements are leased to the buyer. The lease for the land usually requires that at the end of the lease term, the lessees (apartment owners/tenants) deliver their interest in the land to the lessor (fee property owner). The lease also usually requires that the lessees either (1) convey to the lessor the building(s) and other improvements, including any improvements paid for by the lessees; or (2) remove or dispose of the improvements at the lessee's expense. Leases for individual apartments often require that at the end of the lease term, the lessee deliver to the lessor the apartment, including any improvements placed in the apartment by the lessee.

If you are a typical condominium apartment owner, you will have two kinds of ownership: (1) ownership in your individual apartment; and (2) an undivided interest in the common elements.

"Common elements" are the areas of the condominium project other than the individual apartments. They are owned jointly by all apartment owners and include the land, either in fee simple or leasehold, and those parts of the building or buildings intended for common use such as foundations, columns, roofs, halls, elevators, and the like. Your undivided interest in the common elements cannot be separated from ownership of your apartment.

In some condominium projects, some common elements are reserved for the exclusive use of the owners of certain apartments. These common elements are called "limited common elements" and may include parking stalls, patios, lanais, trash chutes, and the like.

You will be entitled to exclusive ownership and possession of your apartment. Condominium apartments may be individually bought, sold, rented, mortgaged or encumbered, and may be disposed of by will, gift, or operation of law.

Your apartment will, however, be part of the group of apartments that comprise the condominium project. Study the project's Declaration, Bylaws, and House Rules. These documents contain important information on the use and occupancy of apartments and the common elements as well as the rules of conduct for owners, tenants, and guests.

Operation of the Condominium Project

The Association of Apartment Owners is the entity through which apartment owners may take action with regard to the administration, management, and operation of the condominium project. Each apartment owner is automatically a member of the Association.

The Board of Directors is the governing body of the Association. Unless you serve as a board member or an officer, or are on a committee appointed by the board, your participation in the administration and operation of the condominium project will in most cases be limited to your right to vote as an apartment owner. The Board of Directors and officers can take certain actions without the vote of the owners. For example, the board may hire and fire employees, increase or decrease maintenance fees, borrow money for repair and improvements and set a budget. Some of these actions may significantly impact the apartment owners.

Until there is a sufficient number of purchasers of apartments to elect a majority of the Board of Directors, it is likely that the developer will effectively control the affairs of the Association. It is frequently necessary for the developer to do so during the early stages of development and the developer may reserve certain special rights to do so in the Declaration and Bylaws. Prospective buyers should understand that it is important to all apartment owners that the transition of control from the developer to the apartment owners be accomplished in an orderly manner and in a spirit of cooperation.

II. CREATION OF THE CONDOMINIUM;
CONDOMINIUM DOCUMENTS

A condominium is created by recording in the Bureau of Conveyances and/or filing with the Land Court a Declaration of Condominium Property Regime, a Condominium Map (File Plan), and the Bylaws of the Association of Apartment Owners. The Condominium Property Act (Chapter 514A, HRS), the Declaration, Bylaws, and House Rules control the rights and obligations of the apartment owners with respect to the project and the common elements, to each other, and to their respective apartments. The provisions of these documents are intended to be, and in most cases are, enforceable in a court of law.

- A. Declaration of Condominium Property Regime contains a description of the land, buildings, apartments, common elements, limited common elements, common interests, and other information relating to the condominium project.

The Declaration for this condominium is:

- Proposed
 Recorded - Bureau of Conveyances: Document No. 93-114111
Book _____ Page _____
 Filed - Land Court: Document No. _____

The Declaration referred to above has been amended by the following instruments [state name of document, date and recording/filing information]:

First Amendment to Declaration of Condominium Property Regime,
dated September 7, 1993, Document No. 93-148285

- B. Condominium Map (File Plan) shows the floor plan, elevation and layout of the condominium project. It also shows the floor plan, location, apartment number, and dimensions of each apartment.

The Condominium Map for this condominium project is:

- Proposed
 Recorded - Bureau of Conveyances Condo Map No. 1893
 Filed - Land Court Condo Map No. _____

The Condominium Map has been amended by the following instruments [state name of document, date and recording/filing information]:

NA

- C. Bylaws of the Association of Apartment Owners govern the operation of the condominium project. They provide for the manner in which the Board of Directors of the Association of Apartment Owners is elected, the powers and duties of the Board, the manner in which meetings will be conducted, whether pets are prohibited or allowed and other matters which affect how the condominium project will be governed.

The Bylaws for this condominium are:

- Proposed
 Recorded - Bureau of Conveyances: Document No. 93-114112
Book _____ Page _____
 Filed - Land Court: Document No. _____

The Bylaws referred to above have been amended by the following instruments [state name of document, date and recording/filing information]:

First Amendment to Bylaws of the Association of Apartment Owners,
dated September 7, 1993, Document No. 93-148286

D. House Rules. The Board of Directors may adopt House Rules to govern the use and operation of the common elements and limited common elements. House Rules may cover matters such as parking regulations, hours of operation for common facilities such as recreation areas, use of lanais and requirements for keeping pets. These rules must be followed by owners, tenants, and guests. They do not need to be recorded or filed to be effective. The initial House Rules are usually adopted by the developer.

The House Rules for this condominium are:

Proposed                       Adopted             Developer does not plan to adopt House Rules

E. Changes to Condominium Documents

Changes to the Declaration, Condominium Map, and Bylaws are effective only if they are duly adopted and recorded and/or filed. Changes to House Rules do not need to be recorded or filed to be effective.

1. Apartment Owners: Minimum percentage of common interest which must vote for or give written consent to changes:

	Minimum Set by Law	This Condominium
Declaration (and Condo Map)	75%*	100%
Bylaws	65%	100%
House Rules	---	NA

* The percentages for individual condominium projects may be more than the minimum set by law for projects with five or fewer apartments.

2. Developer:

No rights have been reserved by the developer to change the Declaration, Condominium Map, Bylaws or House Rules.

Developer has reserved the following rights to change the Declaration, Condominium Map, Bylaws or House Rules:

Developer may amend the Declaration so long as Developer owns all of the apartments in the Project. Refer to paragraph 19 of the Declaration for additional information.

Developer may amend the Bylaws so long as Developer owns all of the apartments in the Project. Refer to Article VII, Section 1 of the Bylaws for additional information.

III. THE CONDOMINIUM PROJECT

A. Interest to be Conveyed to Buyer:

- Fee Simple: Individual apartments and the common elements, which include the underlying land, will be in fee simple.
- Leasehold or Subleasehold: Individual apartments and the common elements, which include the underlying land will be leasehold.

Leases for the individual apartments and the underlying land usually require that at the end of the lease term, the lessee (apartment owner/tenant) deliver to the lessor (fee property owner) possession of the leased premises and all improvements, including improvements paid for by the lessee.

Exhibit _____ contains further explanations regarding the manner in which the renegotiated lease rents will be calculated and a description of the surrender clause provision(s).

For Subleaseholds:

- Buyer's sublease may be canceled if the master lease between the sublessor and fee owner is:
  - Canceled       Foreclosed
- As long as the buyer is not in default, the buyer may continue to occupy the apartment and/or land on the same terms contained in the sublease even if the master lease is canceled or foreclosed.

Individual Apartments in Fee Simple; Common Interest in the Underlying Land in Leasehold or Subleasehold:

Leases for the underlying land usually require that at the end of the lease term, the lessees (apartment owners/tenants) deliver to the lessor (fee property owner) their interest in the land and that they either (1) remove or dispose of the building(s) and other improvements at the lessee's expense; or (2) convey the building(s) and improvements to the lessor, often at a specified price.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION ON LEASEHOLD CONDOMINIUM PROJECTS

The information contained in this report is a summary of the terms of the lease. For more detailed information, you should secure a copy of the lease documents and read them thoroughly.

If you have any legal questions about leasehold property, the lease documents or the terms of the lease and the consequences of becoming a lessee, you should seek the advice of an attorney.

There are currently no statutory provisions for the mandatory conversion of leasehold condominiums and there are no assurances that such measures will be enacted in the future.

In leasehold condominium projects, the buyer of an apartment will acquire the right to occupy and use the apartment for the time stated in the lease agreement. The buyer will not acquire outright or absolute fee simple ownership of the land. The land is owned by the lessor or the leased fee owner. The apartment owner or lessee must make lease rent payments and comply with the terms of the lease or be subject to the lessor's enforcement actions. The lease rent payments are usually fixed at specific amounts for fixed periods of time, and are then subject to renegotiation. Renegotiation may be based on a formula, by arbitration set in the lease agreement, by law or by agreement between the lessor and lessee. The renegotiated lease rents may increase significantly. At the end of the lease, the apartment owners may have to surrender the apartments, the improvements and the land back to the lessor without any compensation (surrender clause).

When leasehold property is sold, title is normally conveyed by means of an assignment of lease, the purpose of which is similar to that of a deed. The legal and practical effect is different because the assignment conveys only the rights and obligations created by the lease, not the property itself.

The developer of this condominium project may have entered into a master ground lease with the fee simple owner of the land in order to develop the project. The developer may have then entered into a sublease or a new lease of the land with the lessee (apartment owner). The developer may lease the improvements to the apartment owner by way of an apartment lease or sublease, or sell the improvements to the apartment owners by way of a condominium conveyance or apartment deed.

11. Conformance to Present Zoning Code

a.  No variances to zoning code have been granted.

Variance(s) to zoning code was/were granted as follows:

b. Conforming/Non-Conforming Uses, Structures, Lot

In general, a non-conforming use, structure, or lot is a use, structure, or lot which was lawful at one time but which does not now conform to present zoning requirements.

	Conforming	Non-Conforming	Illegal
Uses	X	_____	_____
Structures	X	_____	_____
Lot	X	_____	_____

If a variance has been granted or if uses, improvements or lot are either non-conforming or illegal, buyer should consult with county zoning authorities as to possible limitations which may apply.

Limitations may include restrictions on extending, enlarging, or continuing the non-conformity, and restrictions on altering and repairing structures. In some cases, a non-conforming structure that is destroyed or damaged cannot be reconstructed.

The buyer may not be able to obtain financing or insurance if the condominium project has a non-conforming or illegal use, structure, or lot.

D. Common Elements, Limited Common Elements, Common Interest:

1. Common Elements: Common Elements are those parts of the condominium project other than the individual apartments. Although the common elements are owned jointly by all apartment owners, those portions of the common elements which are designated as limited common elements (see paragraph 2 below) may be used only by those apartments to which they are assigned. The common elements for this project, as described in the Declaration, are:

described in Exhibit "B".

as follows:

2. Limited Common Elements: Limited Common Elements are those common elements which are reserved for the exclusive use of the owners of certain apartments.

There are no limited common elements in this project.

The limited common elements and the apartments which use them, as described in the Declaration, are:

described in Exhibit "B".

as follows:

3. Common Interest: Each apartment will have an undivided fractional interest in all of the common elements. This interest is called the "common interest." It is used to determine each apartment's share of the maintenance fees and other common profits and expenses of the condominium project. It may also be used for other purposes, including voting on matters requiring action by apartment owners. The common interests for the apartments in this project, as described in the Declaration, are:

described in Exhibit "B".

as follows:

E. Encumbrances Against Title: An encumbrance is a claim against or a liability on the property or a document affecting the title or use of the property. Encumbrances may have an adverse effect on the property or your purchase and ownership of an apartment in the project.

Exhibit "C" describes the encumbrances against the title contained in the title report dated Sept. 10, 1993 and issued by Title Guaranty of Hawaii, Inc.

Blanket Liens:

A blanket lien is an encumbrance (such as a mortgage) on the entire condominium project that secures some type of monetary debt (such as a loan) or other obligation. A blanket lien is usually released on an apartment-by-apartment basis upon payment of specified sums so that individual apartments can be conveyed to buyers free and clear of the lien.

[ ] There are no blanket liens affecting title to the individual apartments.

[ X ] There are blanket liens which may affect title to the individual apartments.

Blanket liens (except for improvement district or utility assessments) must be released before the developer conveys the apartment to a buyer. The buyer's interest will be affected if the developer defaults and the lien is foreclosed prior to conveying the apartment to buyer.

Type of Lien	Effect on Buyer's Interest and Deposit if Developer Defaults or Lien is Foreclosed Prior to Conveyance
Mortgage, dated 10/26/92, Recorded 10/29/92, Document No. 92-175707	Buyer may lose right to purchase unit, but will be entitled to a refund of deposit.

F. Construction Warranties:

Warranties for individual apartments and the common elements, including the beginning and ending dates for each warranty, are as follows:

1. Building and Other Improvements:

2. Appliances:

None

G. Status of Construction and Estimated Completion Date:

The apartments were completed on or about October 28, 1988.

H. Project Phases:

IV. CONDOMINIUM MANAGEMENT

A. Management of the Common Elements: The Association of Apartment Owners is responsible for the management of the common elements and the overall operation of the condominium project. The Association may be permitted, and in some cases may be required, to employ or retain a condominium managing agent to assist the Association in managing the condominium project.

Initial Condominium Managing Agent: When the developer or the developer's affiliate is the initial condominium managing agent, the management contract must have a term of one year or less and the parties must be able to terminate the contract on notice of 60 days or less.

The initial condominium managing agent for this project, named on page five (5) of this report, is:

- not affiliated with the Developer
- self-managed by the Association of Apartment Owners
- the Developer or the Developer's affiliate.
- other _____

B. Estimate of Initial Maintenance Fees:

The Association will make assessments against your apartment to provide funds for the operation and maintenance of the condominium project. If you are delinquent in paying the assessments, your apartment may be liened and sold through a foreclosure proceeding.

Initial maintenance fees are difficult to estimate and tend to increase as the condominium ages. Maintenance fees may vary depending on the services provided.

Exhibit "D" contains a schedule of estimated initial maintenance fees and maintenance fee disbursements (subject to change).

Buildings and Apartments

Following is a description of the buildings and apartments at Pacheco Condominium and an explanation of the boundaries of each apartment and permitted alterations:

1. Description of the Buildings. The Project consists of two (2) buildings designated as Building 1 and Building 2. Each building is one-story in height and contains one apartment. Neither building contains a basement. Both buildings are of wood frame construction with plywood siding and corrugated iron roofs. Both buildings have concrete foundations. Neither building contains a carport.

2. Apartments. Two separate freehold estates are created and designated (the "apartments"), as shown on the Condominium Map. Specifically the two estates so created and designated are referred to as Apartment A and Apartment B. Apartment A is comprised of all of Building 1 and all other improvements physically located on the land area appurtenant to Apartment A. Apartment B is comprised of all of Building 2 and all other improvements physically located on the land area appurtenant to Apartment B. The apartments are described as follows:

(2.01) Apartment A is located in Building 1. The apartment's enclosed living area contains five rooms: two bedrooms, two bathrooms and a kitchen/living/dining room. The enclosed living area totals approximately 1,150 square feet. An open lanai on a concrete slab of approximately 504 square feet and a covered lanai on a concrete slab of approximately 112 square feet are part of the apartment. In addition, the apartment consists of any and all other future improvements which may be constructed by the owner of the apartment on the land area appurtenant to the apartment as permitted in the Declaration.

(2.02) Apartment B is located in Building 2. The apartment's enclosed living area contains five rooms: two bedrooms, two bathrooms and a kitchen/living/dining room. The enclosed living area totals approximately 1,150 square feet. An open lanai on a concrete slab of approximately 504 square feet and a covered lanai on a concrete slab of approximately 112 square feet are part of the apartment. In addition, the apartment consists of any and all other future improvements which may be constructed by the owner of the apartment on the land area appurtenant to the apartment as permitted in the Declaration.

(2.03) The owner of each apartment is entitled, if permitted by law, to construct any building or structure on the land area appurtenant to the apartment, provided that the building or structure meets with all applicable building, electrical, plumbing and housing codes and all applicable land use and zoning laws and ordinances in effect at the time of construction. All costs and expenses of any such future construction shall be borne by the owner of the apartment.

(2.04) The common element to which each apartment has immediate access is the land area appurtenant to each apartment, which is a limited common element.

(2.05) Each apartment shall be deemed to include all ducts, electrical equipment, wiring, pipes and other appurtenant transmission facilities (the "utility facilities") for services such as power, light, water, gas, wastewater disposal, landscape irrigation, telephone and radio and television signal distribution located within the apartment.

3. Alteration of Apartments. Each apartment owner shall have the right, at such owner's sole discretion and without the consent or permission of any other apartment owner or the Association, to renovate, remodel, make additions to, enlarge, remove, replace or restore such owner's apartment or any portion thereof, and to make improvements upon the land area appurtenant to the apartment (collectively "alterations"), provided that all alterations shall be at the expense of the apartment owner and shall be performed in accordance with all applicable building, electrical, plumbing and housing codes and all applicable land use and zoning laws and ordinances. Any apartment owner making an alteration pursuant to Paragraph 17 of the Declaration shall have the right, without the consent or permission of any other apartment owner or the Association, to amend the Declaration and the Condominium Map to reflect the alteration. Every apartment owner and their mortgagees, by acquiring an interest in an apartment, shall be deemed to have granted an irrevocable power of attorney to any apartment owner who makes an alteration pursuant to Paragraph 17 of the Declaration solely for the purpose of executing and recording an amendment to the Declaration and the Condominium Map describing the alteration.

Common Elements, Limited Common Elements
and Common Interest

Following is a description of the common elements, limited common elements and common interest for Pacheco Condominium:

1. Common Elements. One freehold estate is designated in all of the remaining portions and appurtenances of the Project (the "common elements"), including specifically, but not limited to:

(1.01) The land in fee simple and all easements appurtenant thereto.

(1.02) Except as otherwise provided in the Declaration, all utility facilities, or such parts or portions of the utility facilities, located over, under and across the Project which serve more than one apartment.

(1.03) Any and all apparatus, facilities or other parts of the Project necessary to its existence, maintenance and safety.

2. Limited Common Elements. Certain parts of the common elements, (the "limited common elements"), are set aside and reserved for the exclusive use of certain apartments and such apartments shall have appurtenant thereto exclusive easements for the use of such limited common elements. The limited common elements so set aside and reserved are as follows:

(2.01) The land area upon and around which Apartment A is located, consisting of 7,000 square feet, more or less, as shown and designated on the Condominium Map, is deemed a limited common element appurtenant to and reserved for the exclusive use of Apartment A; subject, however, to the easements referred to in paragraph 7 of the Declaration. All utility facilities, or such parts or portions thereof, located over, under and across the Project which serve only Apartment A are deemed limited common elements appurtenant to and reserved for the exclusive use of Apartment A.

(2.02) The land area upon and around which Apartment B is located, consisting of 7,000 square feet, more or less, as shown and designated on the Condominium Map, is deemed a limited common element appurtenant to and reserved for the exclusive use of Apartment B; subject, however, to the easements referred to in paragraph 7 of the Declaration. All utility facilities, or such parts or portions thereof, located over, under and across the Project which serve only Apartment B are deemed limited common elements appurtenant to and reserved for the exclusive use of Apartment B.

All costs and expenses of every kind pertaining to the limited common elements, including, but not limited to, costs of landscaping, maintenance, repair, replacement and improvement, shall be borne solely by the owner of the apartment to which the limited common element is appurtenant.

NOTE: ALTHOUGH THE LAND AREA UPON AND AROUND EACH APARTMENT IS A LIMITED COMMON ELEMENT, SUCH LAND AREA IS NOT A SEPARATE LEGALLY SUBDIVIDED LOT.

3. Common Interest. Each apartment shall have appurtenant thereto an undivided percentage interest in all common elements of the Project, as follows:

(3.01) Apartment A shall have appurtenant thereto an undivided 50 percent interest in all of the common elements of the Project.

(3.02) Apartment B shall have appurtenant thereto an undivided 50 percent interest in all of the common elements of the Project.

Estimate of Initial Maintenance Fees and Disbursements

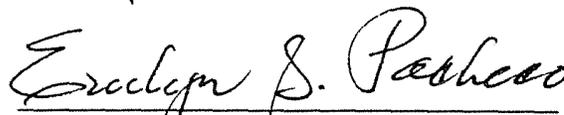

The regular maintenance and repair of each apartment and the limited common elements appurtenant to each apartment is the sole responsibility of each respective apartment owner. There are no common elements which will require maintenance and repair by the Association, except the utility facilities, or such parts or portions of the utility facilities, which serve more than one apartment. The utility facilities which serve more than one apartment are not expected to require maintenance or repair on a regular basis. As a result, Developer anticipates that there will be no annual assessments for maintenance fees. Instead, assessments for maintenance and repair will be made as needed.

The payment of all utility services for each apartment is the sole responsibility of each respective apartment owner, except for water service provided by the Department of Water Supply, County of Hawaii. Payment of water service charges is a common expense. Water service charges for the two apartments currently average approximately $64.00 per month.

Fire insurance is required to be purchased to cover the improvements portion of the Project by §514A-86, Hawaii Revised Statutes. Developer anticipates that the Association will elect, pursuant to paragraph 14.04 of the Declaration, to obtain separate policies for each apartment, the premiums for which will be the sole responsibility of and be paid by each respective apartment owner.

I, Evelyn S. Pacheco, Trustee of the Evelyn S. Pacheco Revocable Living Trust, developer, hereby certify that the above estimate of initial maintenance fees and disbursements are true and accurate to the best of my knowledge.

DATED: Hilo, Hawaii, 12/27, 1993.
