General Information On Condominiums

A condominium is a special form of real property. To create a condominium in Hawaii, the requirements of the Condominium Property Act, Chapter 514A, Hawaii Revised Statutes, must be complied with. In addition, certain requirements and approvals of the County in which the project is located must be satisfied and obtained.

Some condominium projects are leasehold. This means that the land or the building(s) and other improvements are leased to the buyer. The lease for the land usually requires that at the end of the lease term, the lessees (apartment owner/tenants) deliver their interest in the land to the lessor (fee property owner). The lease also usually requires that the lessees either (1) convey to the lessor the building(s) and other improvements, including any improvements paid for by the lessees; or (2) remove or dispose of the improvements at the lessee's expense. Leases for individual apartments often require that at the end of the lease term, the lessee deliver to the lessor the apartment, including any improvements placed in the apartment by the lessee.

If you are a typical condominium apartment owner, you will have two kinds of ownership: (1) ownership in your individual apartment; and (2) an undivided interest in the common elements.

"Common elements" are the areas of the condominium project other than the individual apartments. They are owned jointly by all apartment owners and include the land, either in fee simple or leasehold, and those parts of the building or buildings intended for common use such as foundations, columns, roofs, halls, elevators, and the like. Your undivided interest in the common elements cannot be separated from ownership of your apartment.

In some condominium projects, some common elements are reserved for the exclusive use of the owners of the owners of certain apartments. These common elements are called "limited common elements" and may include parking stalls, patios, lanais, trash chutes, and the like.

You will be entitled to exclusive ownership and possession of your apartment. Condominium apartments may be individually bought, sold, rented, mortgaged, or encumbered, and they may be disposed of by will, gift, or operation of law.

Your apartment will, however, be part of the group of apartments that comprise the condominium project. Study the project's Declaration, Bylaws, and House Rules. These documents contain important information on the use and occupancy of apartments and the common elements as well as the rules of conduct for owners, tenants, and guests.

Operation of the Condominium Project

The Association of Apartment Owners is the entity through which apartment owners may take action with regard to the administration, management, and operation of the condominium project. Each apartment owner is automatically a member of the Association.

The Board of Directors is the governing body of the Association. Unless you serve as a board member or an officer, or are on a committee appointed by the board, your participation in the administration and operation of the condominium project will in most cases be limited to your right to vote as an apartment owner. The Board of Directors and officers can take certain actions without a vote of the owners. For example, the board may hire and fire employees, increase or decrease maintenance fees, borrow money for repair and improvements and set a budget. Some of these actions may significantly impact the apartment owners.

Until there is sufficient number of purchasers of apartments to elect a majority of the Board of Directors, it is likely that the developer will effectively control the affairs of the Association. It is frequently necessary for the developer to do so during the early stages of development and the developer may reserve certain special rights to do so in the Declaration and Bylaws. Prospective buyers should understand that it is important to all apartment owners that the transition of control from the developer to the apartment owners be accomplished in an orderly manner and in a spirit of cooperation.

II. CREATION OF THE CONDOMINIUM; CONDOMINIUM DOCUMENTS

A condominium is created by recording in the Bureau of Conveyances and/or filing with the Land Court a Declaration of Condominium Property Regime, a Condominium Map (File Plan), and the Bylaws of the Association of Apartment Owners. The Condominium Property Act (Chapter 514A, HRS), the Declaration, Bylaws, and House Rules control the rights and obligations of the apartment owners with respect to the project and the common elements, to each other, and to their respective apartments. The provisions of these documents are intended to be, and in most cases are, enforceable in a court of law.

- A. Declaration of Condominium Property Regime contains a description of the land, buildings, apartments, common elements, limited common elements, common interests, and other information relating to the condominium project.

The Declaration for this condominium is:

Proposed
 Recorded - Bureau of Conveyances Document No. 93-200098
Book _____ Page _____
 Filed - Land Court Document Number _____

The Declaration referred to above has been amended by the following instruments [state name of document, date and recording/filing information]:

Amendment to the Declaration of Condominium Property Regime of Riverfront Townhouse Condominium recorded as Document No. 94-206379. The Second Amendment to the Declaration of Condominium Property Regime was recorded as Document No. 95-014805.

- B. Condominium Map (File Plan) shows the floor plan, elevation and layout of the condominium project. It also shows the floor plan, location, apartment number, and dimensions of each apartment.

The Condominium Map for this condominium project is:

Proposed
 Recorded - Bureau of Conveyances Condo Map No. 1961
 Filed - Land Court Condo Map No. _____

The Condominium Map has been amended by the following instruments [state name of document, date and recording/filing information]:

- C. Bylaws of the Association of Apartment Owners govern the operation of the condominium project. They provide for the manner in which the Board of Directors of the Association of Apartment Owners is elected, the powers and duties of the Board, the manner in which meetings will be conducted, whether pets are prohibited or allowed and other matters which affect how the condominium project will be governed.

The Bylaws for this condominium are:

Proposed
 Recorded - Bureau of Conveyances Document No. 93-00099
Book _____ Page _____
 Filed - Land Court Document No. _____

The Bylaws referred to above have been amended by the following instruments [state name of document, date and recording/filing information]:

D. House Rules. The Board of Directors may adopt House Rules to govern the use and operation of the common elements and limited common elements. House rules may cover matters such as parking regulations, hours of operation for common facilities such as recreation areas, use of lanais and requirements for keeping pets. These rules must be followed by owners, tenants, and guests. They do not need to be recorded or filed to be effective. The initial House Rules are usually adopted by the developer.

The House Rules for this condominium are:

Proposed Adopted Developer does not plan to adopt House Rules

E. Changes to Condominium Documents

Changes to the Declaration, Condominium Map, and Bylaws are effective only if they are duly adopted and recorded and/or filed. Changes to House Rules do not need to be recorded or filed to be effective.

1. Apartment Owners: Minimum percentage of common interest which must vote for or give written consent to changes:

	Minimum Set by Law	This Condominium
Declaration (and Condo Map)	75%*	100% (except with respect to permitted alterations to units (see paragraph K of the Declaration))
Bylaws	65%	65%
House Rules	---	N/A

* The percentages for individual condominium projects may be more than the minimum set by law for projects with five or fewer apartments.

2. Developer:

No rights have been reserved by the developer to change the Declaration, Condominium Map, Bylaws or House Rules.

Developer has reserved the following rights to change the Declaration, Condominium Map, Bylaws or House Rules:

Any time prior to the first recording in the Bureau of Conveyances of a conveyance or transfer (other than for security) of a unit and its appurtenances to a party not a signatory to the Declaration, the Developer may amend the Declaration, the Bylaws and/or the Condominium Map in any manner without approval or consent of any unit purchaser.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION ON LEASEHOLD CONDOMINIUM PROJECTS

The information contained in this report is a summary of the terms of the lease. For more detailed information, you should secure a copy of the lease documents and read them thoroughly.

If you have any legal questions about leasehold property, the lease documents or the terms of the lease and the consequences of becoming a lessee, you should seek the advice of an attorney.

There are currently no statutory provisions for the mandatory conversion of leasehold condominiums and there are no assurances that such measures will be enacted in the future.

In leasehold condominium projects, the buyer of an apartment will acquire the right to occupy and use the apartment for the time stated in the lease agreement. The buyer will not acquire outright or absolute fee simple ownership of the land. The land is owned by the lessor or the leased fee owner. The apartment owner or lessee must make lease rent payments and comply with the terms of the lease or be subject to the lessor’s enforcement actions. The lease rent payments are usually fixed at specific amounts for fixed periods of time, and are then subject to renegotiation. Renegotiation may be based on a formula, by arbitration set in the lease agreement, by law or by agreement between the lessor and lessee. The renegotiated lease rents may increase significantly. At the end of the lease, the apartment owners may have to surrender the apartments, the improvements and the land back to the lessor without any compensation (surrender clause).

When leasehold property is sold, title is normally conveyed by means of an assignment of lease, the purpose of which is similar to that of a deed. The legal and practical effect is different because the assignment conveys only the rights and obligations created by the lease, not the property itself.

The developer of this condominium project may have entered into a master ground lease with the fee simple owner of the land in order to develop the project. The developer may have then entered into a sublease or a new lease of the land with the lessee (apartment owner). The developer may lease the improvements to the apartment owner by way of an apartment lease or sublease, or sell the improvements to the apartment owners by way of a condominium conveyance or apartment deed.

Variance(s) to zoning code was/were granted as follows:

b. Conforming/Non-Conforming Uses, Structures, Lot

If a variance has been granted or if uses, improvements or lot are either non-conforming or illegal, buyer should consult with county zoning authorities as to possible limitations which may apply.

Limitations may include restrictions on extending, enlarging, or continuing the non-conformity, and restrictions on altering and repairing structures. In some cases, a non-conforming structure that is destroyed or damaged cannot be reconstructed.

The buyer may not be able to obtain financing or insurance if the condominium project has a non-conforming or illegal use, structure, or lot.

D. Common Elements, Limited Common Elements, Common Interest:

1. Common Elements: Common Elements are those parts of the condominium project other than the individual apartments. Although the common elements are owned jointly by all apartment owners, those portions of the common elements which are designated as limited common elements (see paragraph 2 below) may be used only by those apartments to which they are assigned. The common elements for this project, as described in the Declaration, are:

described in Exhibit _____.

as follows: The common elements include the land described in Exhibit "A" to the Declaration in fee simple and the limited common elements described below, and all other portions of the project, other than the units, including, specifically, but not limited to, the common elements mentioned in the Act that are actually constructed on the land, and all other portions of the project necessary or convenient to its existence, maintenance and safety or normally in common use and which are not included as part of a unit, including but not limited to (1) All footings or slabs on which the units are constructed, all exterior walls, interior partition wall, roofs, columns or partitions; (2) All sewer lines, drainage facilities, electrical equipment, wiring, pipes and other central and appurtenant facilities and installations over, under and across the project which serve more than one unit for services such as power, light, water, gas, telephone, sewer and radio and television signal distribution, if any; (3) Any and all apparatus and installations of common use and all other parts of the project necessary or convenient to its existence, maintenance and safety, or normally in common use; and, (4) All common elements shown on the Condominium Map, including specifically the common access serving the parking facilities described under limited common elements.

2. Limited Common Elements: Limited Common Elements are those common elements which are reserved for the exclusive use of the owners of certain apartments.

There are no limited common elements in this project.

The limited common elements and the apartments which may use them, as described in the Declaration are:

described in Exhibit _____.

as follows:

The land within the boundaries of each unit, as described in the Declaration and as shown on the Condominium Map, is appurtenant to and for the exclusive use of such unit, as follows:

Unit No.	Private Land Area (approx. land area)
A	A (4098 +/- square feet)
B	B (4097 +/- square feet)

NOTE: LAND AREAS REFERENCED AND DESCRIBED HEREIN ARE NOT LEGALLY SUBDIVIDED LOTS.

The foregoing land area appurtenant to each Unit includes the referenced parking facilities shown on the Condominium Map designated below, which are appurtenant to and for the exclusive use of such Unit, as follows:

Unit No.	Parking stalls (2 each)
A	2 stalls labeled A
B	2 stalls labeled B

3. Common Interest: Each apartment will have an undivided fractional interest in all of the common elements. This interest is called the "common interest." It is used to determine each apartment's share of the maintenance fees and other common profits and expenses of the condominium. It may also be used for other purposes, including voting on matters requiring action by apartment owners. The common interests for the apartments in this project, as described in the Declaration, are:

described in Exhibit _____.

as follows:

Unit A	50%
Unit B	50%

E. Encumbrances Against Title: An encumbrance is a claim against or a liability on the property or a document affecting the title or use of the property. Encumbrances may have an adverse effect on the property or your purchase and ownership of an apartment in the project.

Exhibit "D" describes the encumbrances against the title contained in the title report dated October 25, 1994 and issued by Old Republic Title & Escrow of Hawaii.

Blanket Liens:

A blanket lien is an encumbrance (such as a mortgage) on the entire condominium project that secures some type of monetary debt (such as a loan) or other obligation. A blanket lien is usually released on an apartment-by-apartment basis upon payment of specified sums so that individual apartments can be conveyed to buyers free and clear of the lien.

[] There are no blanket liens affecting title to the individual apartments.

[X] There are blanket liens which may affect title to the individual apartments.

Blanket liens (except for improvement district or utility assessments) must be released before the developer conveys the apartment to a buyer. Buyer's interest will be affected only if the developer defaults and the lien is foreclosed prior to conveying the apartment to buyer.

Type of Lien

Effect on Buyer's Interest and Deposit
If Developer Defaults or Lien is Foreclosed Prior to Conveyance

First Mortgage Lien

Mortgage holder may foreclose on the real property and cancel the purchase agreement. Your interest as a purchaser of a condominium unit is subordinate to the interest of the Bank. In the event of termination, buyer's deposit would be refunded, less Escrow expenses, as set forth in the Sales Contract. Upon conveyance of the unit to you, the Bank's mortgage lien will be partially released as to your apartment.

F. Construction Warranties:

Warranties for individual apartments and the common elements, including the beginning and ending dates for each warranty, are as follows:

1. Building and Other Improvements:

NONE

2. Appliances:

Any manufacturer's warranties currently in effect.

G. Status of Construction and Estimated Completion Date:

The residential apartments were completed in December, 1993.

H. Project Phases:

The developer has has not reserved the right to add to, merge, or phase this condominium.

Summary of Developer's plans or right to perform for future development (such as additions, mergers or phasing):

IV. CONDOMINIUM MANAGEMENT

- A. Management of the Common Elements: The Association of Apartment Owners is responsible for the management of the common elements and the overall operation of the condominium project. The Association may be permitted, and in some cases may be required, to employ or retain a condominium managing agent to assist the Association in managing the condominium project.

Initial Condominium Managing Agent: When the developer or the developer's affiliate is the initial condominium managing agent, the management contract must have a term of one year or less and the parties must be able to terminate the contract on notice of 60 days or less.

The initial condominium managing agent for this project, named on page five (5) of this report, is:

- not affiliated with the Developer the Developer or the Developer's affiliate.
 self-managed by the Association of Apartment Owners other _____

- B. Estimate of Initial Maintenance Fees:

The Association will make assessments against your apartment to provide funds for the operation and maintenance of the condominium project. If you are delinquent in paying the assessments, your apartment may be liened and sold through a foreclosure proceeding.

Initial maintenance fees are difficult to estimate and tend to increase as the condominium ages. Maintenance fees may vary depending on the services provided.

Exhibit "E" contains a schedule of estimated initial maintenance fees and maintenance fee disbursements (subject to change).

- C. Utility Charges for Apartments:

Each apartment will be billed separately for utilities except for the following checked utilities which are included in the maintenance fees:

- None Electricity Gas Water
 Sewer Television Cable Other _____

C. Additional Information Not Covered Above

The "Riverfront Townhouse Condominium" is a condominium project, not a subdivision. Unit A and B of the project are residential townhome dwellings. The establishment of a condominium property regime does not necessarily mean that all County requirements pertaining to the subdivision of land have been met. Therefore, such facilities that are normally associated with County-approved subdivisions, such as fire protection devices, street name and signage, street lighting, electricity, upgraded water facilities, improved access for owner and emergency traffic, drainage facilities, County street maintenance and trash collection for interior road/driveways, etc. may not necessarily be provided.

The project is on land classified within the URBAN district by the State Land Use Commission and zoned Residential R-5 by the City and County of Honolulu. The issuance by the Real Estate Commission of an effective date for this Public Report covering the "RIVERFRONT TOWNHOUSE CONDOMINIUM" should not be construed to mean that all State laws and County ordinances for land use and development have been satisfied.

ESTIMATED MAINTENANCE FEES

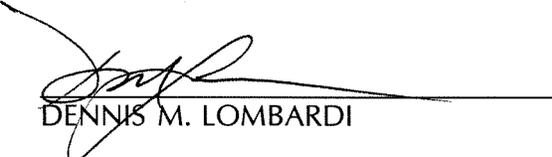

The regular maintenance and repair of each unit and appurtenant limited common elements shall be the sole responsibility of each respective unit owner. Section 514A-86, Hawaii Revised Statutes, requires that the association purchase fire insurance to cover the improvements portion of the project. The Declarant anticipates that the association will elect to obtain a blanket fire insurance policy for the units pursuant to Article 7 of the Bylaws. It is estimated that the cost of this policy will be approximately $50.00 per month per unit. Unit owners will be responsible for obtaining any additional separate liability policies or contents coverage policies and, as such, premiums for such policies will be the individual responsibility of each unit owner. It is estimated that the cost of such policies shall be approximately $35.00 per month per unit (payable annually).

Expenses relating to the maintenance and/or repair of all common elements, including specifically the "common access area", as shown on the Condominium Map and described in paragraph D.4 of the declaration, shall be common expenses to be shared equally by all unit owners; provided, however, that if damage to the "common access area" or other common element is caused by the negligence of any unit owner or such owner's invitees or guests, then all costs for the repair of such damage shall be charged to and the liability of such unit. It is estimated that reserves for the maintenance and repair of the foregoing common elements will be established at $15 per month per unit. Expenses for sewer and water fees, which are estimated to approximate $50.00 per month per unit, shall be common expenses to be shared equally by the unit owners.

The Developer hereby certifies that the above estimates were prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principals. The information contained herein is based on the data available at this time.
