General Information On Condominiums

A condominium is a special form of real property. To create a condominium in Hawaii, the requirements of the Condominium Property Act, Chapter 514A, Hawaii Revised Statutes, must be complied with. In addition, certain requirements and approvals of the County in which the project is located must be satisfied and obtained.

Some condominium projects are leasehold. This means that the land or the building(s) and other improvements are leased to the buyer. The lease for the land usually requires that at the end of the lease term, the lessees (apartment owner/tenants) deliver their interest in the land to the lessor (fee property owner). The lease also usually requires that the lessees either (1) convey to the lessor the building(s) and other improvements, including any improvements paid for by the lessees; or (2) remove or dispose of the improvements at the lessee's expense. Leases for individual apartments often require that at the end of the lease term, the lessee deliver to the lessor the apartment, including any improvements placed in the apartment by the lessee.

If you are a typical condominium apartment owner, you will have two kinds of ownership: (1) ownership in your individual apartment; and (2) an undivided interest in the common elements.

"Common elements" are the areas of the condominium project other than the individual apartments. They are owned jointly by all apartment owners and include the land, either in fee simple or leasehold, and those parts of the building or buildings intended for common use such as foundations, columns, roofs, halls, elevators, and the like. Your undivided interest in the common elements cannot be separated from ownership of your apartment.

In some condominium projects, some common elements are reserved for the exclusive use of the owners of certain apartments. These common elements are called "limited common elements" and may include parking stalls, patios, lanais, trash chutes, and the like.

You will be entitled to exclusive ownership and possession of your apartment. Condominium apartments may be individually bought, sold, rented, mortgaged, or encumbered, and they may be disposed of by will, gift, or operation of law.

Your apartment will, however, be part of the group of apartments that comprise the condominium project. Study the project's Declaration, Bylaws, and House Rules. These documents contain important information on the use and occupancy of apartments and the common elements as well as the rules of conduct for owners, tenants, and guests.

Operation of the Condominium Project

The Association of Apartment Owners is the entity through which apartment owners may take action with regard to the administration, management, and operation of the condominium project. Each apartment owner is automatically a member of the Association.

The Board of Directors is the governing body of the Association. Unless you serve as a board member or an officer, or are on a committee appointed by the board, your participation in the administration and operation of the condominium project will in most cases be limited to your right to vote as an apartment owner. The Board of Directors and officers can take certain actions without a vote of the owners. For example, the board may hire and fire employees, increase or decrease maintenance fees, borrow money for repair and improvements and set a budget. Some of these actions may significantly impact the apartment owners.

Until there is a sufficient number of purchasers of apartments to elect a majority of the Board of Directors, it is likely that the developer will effectively control the affairs of the Association. It is frequently necessary for the developer to do so during the early stages of development and the developer may reserve certain special rights to do so in the Declaration and Bylaws. Prospective buyers should understand that it is important to all apartment owners that the transition of control from the developer to the apartment owners be accomplished in an orderly manner and in a spirit of cooperation.

II. CREATION OF THE CONDOMINIUM; CONDOMINIUM DOCUMENTS

A condominium is created by recording in the Bureau of Conveyances and/or filing with the Land Court a Declaration of Condominium Property Regime, a Condominium Map (File Plan), and the Bylaws of the Association of Apartment Owners. The Condominium Property Act (Chapter 514A, HRS), the Declaration, Bylaws, and House Rules control the rights and obligations of the apartment owners with respect to the project and the common elements, to each other, and to their respective apartments. The provisions of these documents are intended to be, and in most cases are, enforceable in a court of law.

- A. Declaration of Condominium Property Regime contains a description of the land, buildings, apartments, common elements, limited common elements, common interests, and other information relating to the condominium project.

The Declaration for this condominium is:

Proposed
 Recorded - Bureau of Conveyances      Document No. 97-074284
Book _____ Page _____
 Filed - Land Court      Document Number _____

The Declaration referred to above has been amended by the following instruments [state name of document, date and recording/filing information]:

- B. Condominium Map (File Plan) shows the floor plan, elevation and layout of the condominium project. It also shows the floor plan, location, apartment number, and dimensions of each apartment.

The Condominium Map for this condominium project is:

Proposed
 Recorded - Bureau of Conveyances Condo Map No. 2554
 Filed - Land Court Condo Map No. _____

The Condominium Map has been amended by the following instruments [state name of document, date and recording/filing information]:

- C. Bylaws of the Association of Apartment Owners govern the operation of the condominium project. They provide for the manner in which the Board of Directors of the Association of Apartment Owners is elected, the powers and duties of the Board, the manner in which meetings will be conducted, whether pets are prohibited or allowed and other matters which affect how the condominium project will be governed.

The Bylaws for this condominium are:

Proposed
 Recorded - Bureau of Conveyances      Document No. 97-074285
Book _____ Page _____
 Filed - Land Court      Document No. _____

The Bylaws referred to above have been amended by the following instruments [state name of document, date and recording/filing information]:

D. House Rules. The Board of Directors may adopt House Rules to govern the use and operation of the common elements and limited common elements. House rules may cover matters such as parking regulations, hours of operation for common facilities such as recreation areas, use of lanais and requirements for keeping pets. These rules must be followed by owners, tenants, and guests. They do not need to be recorded or filed to be effective. The initial House Rules are usually adopted by the developer.

The House Rules for this condominium are:

Proposed                       Adopted                       Developer does not plan to adopt House Rules

E. Changes to Condominium Documents

Changes to the Declaration, Condominium Map, and Bylaws are effective only if they are duly adopted and recorded and/or filed. Changes to House Rules do not need to be recorded or filed to be effective.

1. Apartment Owners: Minimum percentage of common interest which must vote for or give written consent to changes:

	Minimum Set by Law	This Condominium
Declaration (and Condo Map)	75%*	75%
Bylaws	65%	65%
House Rules	---	Majority Vote of Board of Directors

* The percentages for individual condominium projects may be more than the minimum set by law for projects with five or fewer apartments.

2. Developer:

No rights have been reserved by the developer to change the Declaration, Condominium Map, Bylaws or House Rules.

Developer has reserved the following rights to change the Declaration, Condominium Map, Bylaws or House Rules:

- A. Upon completion of the Project, the Developer may amend the Declaration and the Condominium Map (if necessary) to file the "as built" verified statement required by Section 514A-12 of the Condominium Property Act.
- B. Until all of the Condominium Homes have been sold, the Developer may amend the Declaration, the Bylaws and/or the Condominium Map to make such amendments as may be required by law, by the Real Estate Commission, by the title insurance company, by a mortgage lender, or by any governmental agency (including the VA, HUD, FNMA and/or FHLMC), provided that no such amendments change the common interest appurtenant to a Condominium Home or substantially change the design, location or size of a Condominium Home.
- C. Until all of the Condominium Homes have been sold and the "as built" verified statement is filed, the Developer may amend the Declaration and the Condominium Map to (i) reflect alterations in any Condominium Home which has not been sold; and (ii) reflect minor changes in any Condominium Home or in the common elements which do not affect the physical location, design or size of any Condominium Home which has been sold.
- D. The Developer may, unilaterally or jointly with the owner of an adjoining parcel of land, effect a subdivision or consolidation and resubdivision of land ("Resubdivision") that will result in a boundary adjustment and a substantial reduction or possible increase in area of the Project land, provided that (i) the Resubdivision does not affect the layout, location and structure of any Condominium Homes or other improvements of the Project as shown on the Condominium Map, (ii) the Resubdivision does not change or reapportion the common interest appurtenant to any Condominium Home, (iii) the gross area of land retained in the Project shall not be less than 2.9 +/- acres, and (iv) the Resubdivision is completed on or before December 31, 2005. When the Resubdivision is completed, the Developer may amend the Declaration and Condominium Map to substitute a new description of the Project land (Exhibit "A") to the Declaration and, if deemed necessary or advisable, to substitute a new site plan as part of the Condominium Map.
- E. As reflected in Section H, infra, the Developer has retained the right to merge this phase with other phases of the Tropics Community and to alter the product mix within this phase.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION ON LEASEHOLD CONDOMINIUM PROJECTS

The information contained in this report is a summary of the terms of the lease. For more detailed information, you should secure a copy of the lease documents and read them thoroughly.

If you have any legal questions about leasehold property, the lease documents or the terms of the lease and the consequences of becoming a lessee, you should seek the advice of an attorney.

There are currently no statutory provisions for the mandatory conversion of leasehold condominiums and there are no assurances that such measures will be enacted in the future.

In leasehold condominium projects, the buyer of an apartment will acquire the right to occupy and use the apartment for the time stated in the lease agreement. The buyer will not acquire outright or absolute fee simple ownership of the land. The land is owned by the lessor or the leased fee owner. The apartment owner or lessee must make lease rent payments and comply with the terms of the lease or be subject to the lessor's enforcement actions. The lease rent payments are usually fixed at specific amounts for fixed periods of time, and are then subject to renegotiation. Renegotiation may be based on a formula, by arbitration set in the lease agreement, by law or by agreement between the lessor and lessee. The renegotiated lease rents may increase significantly. At the end of the lease, the apartment owners may have to surrender the apartments, the improvements and the land back to the lessor without any compensation (surrender clause).

When leasehold property is sold, title is normally conveyed by means of an assignment of lease, the purpose of which is similar to that of a deed. The legal and practical effect is different because the assignment conveys only the rights and obligations created by the lease, not the property itself.

The developer of this condominium project may have entered into a master ground lease with the fee simple owner of the land in order to develop the project. The developer may have then entered into a sublease or a new lease of the land with the lessee (apartment owner). The developer may lease the improvements to the apartment owner by way of an apartment lease or sublease, or sell the improvements to the apartment owners by way of a condominium conveyance or apartment deed.

**Net Living Area is the floor area of the apartment measured from the interior surface of the apartment perimeter walls.*

Other documents and maps may give floor area figures which differ from those above because a different method of determining the floor area may have been used.

Boundaries of Each Apartment: Each Condominium Home includes all walls, columns and partitions (both load bearing and not load bearing) which are within the Condominium Home's perimeter walls including without limitation the Condominium Home's perimeter walls, the Condominium Home's foundation, all floors, ceilings, doors, windows, sliding glass doors, screen doors, door frames and window frames, the air space within the Condominium Home, the garage including its floor, foundation, ceiling, doors and perimeter walls, the lanais, if any, shown on the Condominium Map to the exterior edge of the exterior railings or other boundaries of such lanais, all rollers, locks, handles, tracks, and appurtenant hardware associated with all windows, doors and exterior automobile garage doors and all sliding or swinging screen doors and all glass window screens and all fixtures originally installed in the Condominium Home, and all pipes, plumbing (including water heaters), wires, conduits and other utility or service lines and facilities servicing only the Condominium Home. The Condominium Homes shall also include all load-bearing columns, girders, beams, building components and other elements included within each Condominium Home. The Condominium Home shall not include any pipes, shafts, wires, conduits or other utility or service lines running through a Condominium Home which are utilized for or serve more than one Condominium Home, all of which are deemed common elements as provided in the Declaration.

Note regarding Net Living Areas: Throughout The Tropics at Waikale Phase 3 documentation, the area of individual Condominium Homes is generally expressed as "net living area" square footage. This measurement represents the architect's best estimate of the interior square footage of the Condominium Home as measured from the interior of the Condominium Home's exterior or perimeter walls. This measurement is based upon the plans for the construction of the Condominium Home and different architects performing the same measurement may obtain a larger or smaller result after making allowances for exterior or perimeter wall thickness. Advertising material may express Condominium Home square footage using the standard construction method which measures the exterior (as opposed to the interior) of the perimeter walls.

Permitted Alterations to Apartments: Alterations or additions solely within a Condominium Home or within a limited common element appurtenant to and for the exclusive use of a Condominium Home shall require the written approval of the Board of Directors and all Condominium Home owners directly affected, as determined by the Board of Directors. Any alteration or addition different in any material respect from the Condominium Map shall be commenced only pursuant to an amendment to the Declaration, as provided in Section M of the Declaration.

Limitations may include restrictions on extending, enlarging, or continuing the non-conformity, and restrictions on altering and repairing structures. In some cases, a non-conforming structure that is destroyed or damaged cannot be reconstructed.

The buyer may not be able to obtain financing or insurance if the condominium project has a non-conforming or illegal use, structure, or lot.

D. Common Elements, Limited Common Elements, Common Interest:

- 1. Common Elements: Common Elements are those parts of the condominium project other than the individual apartments. described in Exhibit     D    .

E. Encumbrances Against Title: An encumbrance is a claim against or a liability on the property or a document affecting the title or use of the property. Encumbrances may have an adverse effect on the property or your purchase and ownership of an apartment in the project.

Exhibit   E   describes the encumbrances against the title contained in the title report dated June 4, 1997 and issued by Long & Melone, Ltd.

Blanket Liens:

A blanket lien is an encumbrance (such as a mortgage) on the entire condominium project that secures some type of monetary debt (such as a loan) or other obligation. A blanket lien is usually released on an apartment-by-apartment basis upon payment of specified sums so that individual apartments can be conveyed to buyers free and clear of the lien.

[ ] There are no blanket liens affecting title to the individual apartments. [See below]

[X] There are blanket liens which may affect title to the individual apartments.

Blanket liens (except for improvement district or utility assessments) must be released before the developer conveys the apartment to a buyer. The buyer's interest will be affected only if the developer defaults and the lien is foreclosed prior to conveying the apartment to buyer.

Type of Lien	Effect on Buyer's Interest and Deposit If Developer Defaults or Lien is Foreclosed Prior to Conveyance
There is a negative pledge agreement in favor of First Hawaiian Bank and other banks "securing" a total debt of $110,000,000.00.	The negative pledge agreement is released automatically upon transfer of a Condominium Home to a purchaser.

F. Construction Warranties:

Warranties for individual apartments and the common elements, including the beginning and ending dates for each warranty, are as follows:

1. Building and Other Improvements:

The Developer's sole warranty will be provided in the form attached to this Public Report as Exhibit F.

2. Appliances:

The Developer makes no warranty as to appliances or other consumer products installed in any Condominium Home or in the common elements. If there are any applicable manufacturer's or dealer's warranties relating to such appliances or other consumer products, the Developer will endeavor to assign and pass on to each Condominium Home owner the benefit of such warranties.

G. Status of Construction and Date of Completion or Estimated Date of Completion:

Construction of the Project shall commence June 1997, and should be completed by approximately February 1998.

H. Project Phases:

The developer  has  has not reserved the right to add to, merge, or phase this condominium.

Summary of Developer's plans or right to perform for future development (such as additions, mergers or phasing):

Merger: The Developer has reserved the right, in its sole and absolute discretion, to merge this project with other projects for purposes of use, administration and ownership. However, the Developer does not represent or warrant that any such other condominium projects will be developed, or, if developed, will be merged with this project. See the Declaration of Covenants, Conditions and Restrictions (Reserved Right to Merger Condominium Phases) for The Tropics at Waikele on file with the Real Estate Commission for details of any such merger. The Buyer should also note Section P of the Declaration for easements reserved to the Developer with respect to the construction, maintenance, operation and merger of any such other condominium projects. Merger for ownership purposes may include a legal consolidation of the land underlying and included in this project with any parcel(s) of land underlying and included in any such other condominium projects to be merged.

Alternation of the Community: The Developer has reserved the right in its sole and absolute discretion:

1. To make alterations in the Community (and to amend this Declaration and the Condominium Map accordingly) which change the configuration of, alter the number of rooms of, decrease or increase the size of, or change the location of any Home (and the limited common elements appurtenant thereto) in the Community which is not sold and the conveyance thereof Recorded, including specifically the right to alter the mix of model home types (increase or decrease the number of model home types); and
2. To make other alterations in the Community (and to amend this Declaration and the Condominium Map accordingly) which make minor changes in any Home in the Community or in the common elements which do not affect the physical location, design or size of any Home which has been sold and the conveyance thereof Recorded.

IV. CONDOMINIUM MANAGEMENT

- A. Management of the Common Elements: The Association of Apartment Owners is responsible for the management of the common elements and the overall operation of the condominium project. The Association may be permitted, and in some cases may be required, to employ or retain a condominium managing agent to assist the Association in managing the condominium project.

Initial Condominium Managing Agent: When the developer or the developer's affiliate is the initial condominium managing agent, the management contract must have a term of one year or less and the parties must be able to terminate the contract on notice of 60 days or less.

The initial condominium managing agent for this project, named on page five (5) of this report, is:

not affiliated with the Developer  the Developer or the Developer's affiliate.
 self-managed by the Association of Apartment Owners  other _____

- B. Estimate of Initial Maintenance Fees:

The Association will make assessments against your apartment to provide funds for the operation and maintenance of the condominium project. If you are delinquent in paying the assessments, a lien may be placed on your apartment and the apartment may be sold through a foreclosure proceeding.

Initial maintenance fees are difficult to estimate and tend to increase as the condominium ages. Maintenance fees may vary depending on the services provided.

Exhibit G contains a schedule of estimated initial maintenance fees and maintenance fee disbursements (subject to change).

NOTE: The Estimated Maintenance Fee Disbursements for The Tropics at Waikale Phase 3 Association (the "budget") have been compiled by Chaney Brooks & Co., a licensed property manager on the basis of the Budget Assumptions. Although the budget contains an amount for estimated reserves (for long term maintenance and various replacements and repairs), a formal reserve study has not been conducted at this time. Although the property manager makes every effort to estimate the actual cost of operation and reserves, certain budget items, especially insurance in today's insurance market, may change. The Buyer is aware that such amounts are only estimates and may change for reasons beyond the control of Seller, and the Buyer hereby specifically accepts and approves any such changes. The Buyer is also aware that such estimates do not include the Buyer's obligation for payment of real property taxes. The Buyer understands that such estimates are not intended to be and do not constitute any representation or warranty by the Seller, including but not limited to any representation or warranty as to the accuracy of such estimates. Buyer understands that Seller has not independently confirmed the accuracy or content of the estimates prepared by the licensed independent managing agent. Further, the Developer advises that costs and expenses of maintenance and operation of a condominium community as well as appropriate reserves are very difficult to estimate initially and even if such maintenance charges have been accurately estimated, such charges will tend to increase in an inflationary economy and as the improvements age. Maintenance charges can vary depending on services desired by Condominium Home owners and may increase significantly depending on the level of services eventually selected by the Association's Board of Directors. The Buyer should examine the maintenance charges schedule to see what services are included in the schedule and address these issues with its Board upon its formation. Buyers should also be aware that the estimates provided are as of the date reflected in the Managing Agent's certification and do not reflect the actual charges that may be incurred upon the formation of the Association and the actual contracting for such services such as insurance and maintenance, etc. Also, Buyer should be aware that a reserve study has not been conducted for this Project in estimating the reserve funds (if any are indicated) necessary to maintain the Condominium Community.

Note: The Developer intends to pay all of the actual common expenses for the project until January 31, 1998. Accordingly, Condominium Home owners shall not be obligated for the payment of their respective shares of the common expenses until February 1, 1998. From and after February 1, 1998, Condominium Home owners will be obligated to pay their respective shares of the common expenses allocated to their Condominium Home, beginning with the budgeted monthly maintenance fees for the month of February, 1998. Developer has engaged an independently owned and operated Managing Agent to prepare the estimated initial maintenance fees. Developer does not warrant the correctness of these estimates.

- C. Utility Charges for Apartments:

Each apartment will be billed separately for utilities except for the following checked utilities which are included in the maintenance fees:

None  Electricity (____ Common Elements only ____ Common Elements & Apartments)
 Gas (____ Common Elements only ____ Common Elements & Apartments)
 Water  Sewer  Television Cable
