Summary of Changes from Earlier Public Reports:

This summary contains a general description of the changes, if any, made by the developer since the last public report was issued. It is not necessarily all inclusive. Prospective buyers should compare this public report with the earlier reports if they wish to know the specific changes that have been made.

☐ No prior reports have been issued by the developer.

☒ Changes made are as follows:

1. The Declaration was amended to add a "C" after the number of each compact sized parking stall and to correct the Parking Stalls appurtenant to Apartment No. S-101 from the incorrectly stated "140, 14", to the correct "140C, 141". These corrections were correctly reflected in the Contingent Final Public Report.

2. In order to accommodate the adoption of an improved Fire Department Access route which necessitated the removal of Parking Stall Nos. 130 and redesignation of Parking Stall No. 129, the Declaration was further amended as follows:

a. to reflect the deletion of Parking Stall No. 130;

b. to reflect the addition of one new replacement stall and to designate such stall as Parking Stall No. 115, thereby resulting in the total number of parking stalls being reduced from 241 to 240;

c. to reflect the relocation and renumbering of Parking Stall Nos. 115 through 128 and to new Parking Stall Nos. 116 through 129;

d. to designate relocated and renumbered Parking Stall No. 129 as the designated handicapped Parking Stall (to replace the original Parking Stall No. 129, which was deleted for the fire department access route);

e. to designate Parking Stall No. 131 as a handicapped accessible Parking Stall (to replace Parking Stall No. 130 formerly designated as a handicapped accessible stall, which was deleted for the fire department access route); and

f. to reassign the parking stalls for Apartment Nos. N-102, N-103, P-101, P-102, Q-101, Q-102 and Q-103.

3. The Condominium Map was amended to correct a non-substantive typographical error on Page 1 and Page 2 of Site Plan 1, and to add the plan and elevation views of the Recreation Building.

4. The Condominium Map was further amended to reflect the foregoing changes related to the parking stalls.

5. Section III.E of the Final Public Report discloses that Exhibit E describes encumbrances against the title contained in a title report dated March 4, 1999, issued by Island Title Corporation.

6. Exhibit E of the Final Public Report discloses the filing of an easement for utility purposes in favor of Maui Electric Company, Limited and GTE Hawaiian Telephone Company Incorporated.

7. Exhibit E of the Final Public Report discloses the filing of a Mortgage to secure a construction loan in the amount of $10,602,323.00. This Mortgage was already disclosed in Section III.E of the Contingent Final Public Report.

General Information On Condominiums

A condominium is a special form of real property. To create a condominium in Hawaii, the requirements of the Condominium Property Act, Chapter 514A, Hawaii Revised Statutes, must be complied with. In addition, certain requirements and approvals of the County in which the project is located must be satisfied and obtained.

Some condominium projects are leasehold. This means that the land or the building(s) and other improvements are leased to the buyer. The lease for the land usually requires that at the end of the lease term, the lessees (apartment owners/tenants) deliver their interest in the land to the lessor (fee property owner). The lease also usually requires that the lessees either (1) convey to the lessor the building(s) and other improvements, including any improvements paid for by the lessees; or (2) remove or dispose of the improvements at the lessee's expense. Leases for individual apartments often require that at the end of the lease term, the lessee deliver to the lessor the apartment, including any improvements placed in the apartment by the lessee.

If you are a typical condominium apartment owner, you will have two kinds of ownership: (1) ownership in your individual apartment; and (2) an undivided interest in the common elements.

"Common elements" are the areas of the condominium project other than the individual apartments. They are owned jointly by all apartment owners and include the land, either in fee simple or leasehold, and those parts of the building or buildings intended for common use such as foundations, columns, roofs, halls, elevators, and the like. Your undivided interest in the common elements cannot be separated from ownership of your apartment.

In some condominium projects, some common elements are reserved for the exclusive use of the owners of certain apartments. These common elements are called "limited common elements" and may include parking stalls, patios, lanais, trash chutes, and the like.

You will be entitled to exclusive ownership and possession of your apartment. Condominium apartments may be individually bought, sold, rented, mortgaged or encumbered, and may be disposed of by will, gift, or operation of law.

Your apartment will, however, be part of the group of apartments that comprise the condominium project. Study the project's Declaration, Bylaws, and House Rules. These documents contain important information on the use and occupancy of apartments and the common elements as well as the rules of conduct for owners, tenants, and guests.

Operation of the Condominium Project

The Association of Apartment Owners is the entity through which apartment owners may take action with regard to the administration, management, and operation of the condominium project. Each apartment owner is automatically a member of the Association.

The Board of Directors is the governing body of the Association. Unless you serve as a board member or an officer, or are on a committee appointed by the board, your participation in the administration and operation of the condominium project will in most cases be limited to your right to vote as an apartment owner. The Board of Directors and officers can take certain actions without the vote of the owners. For example, the board may hire and fire employees, increase or decrease maintenance fees, borrow money for repair and improvements and set a budget. Some of these actions may significantly impact the apartment owners.

Until there is a sufficient number of purchasers of apartments to elect a majority of the Board of Directors, it is likely that the developer will effectively control the affairs of the Association. It is frequently necessary for the developer to do so during the early stages of development and the developer may reserve certain special rights to do so in the Declaration and Bylaws. Prospective buyers should understand that it is important to all apartment owners that the transition of control from the developer to the apartment owners be accomplished in an orderly manner and in a spirit of cooperation.

II. CREATION OF THE CONDOMINIUM; CONDOMINIUM DOCUMENTS

A condominium is created by recording in the Bureau of Conveyances and/or filing with the Land Court a Declaration of Condominium Property Regime, a Condominium Map (File Plan), and the Bylaws of the Association of Apartment Owners. The Condominium Property Act (Chapter 514A, HRS), the Declaration, Bylaws, and House Rules control the rights and obligations of the apartment owners with respect to the project and the common elements, to each other, and to their respective apartments. The provisions of these documents are intended to be, and in most cases are, enforceable in a court of law.

- A. Declaration of Condominium Property Regime contains a description of the land, buildings, apartments, common elements, limited common elements, common interests, and other information relating to the condominium project.

The Declaration for this condominium is:

☐ Proposed
☐ Recorded - Bureau of Conveyances: Document No. _____

Second Amendment of Declaration dated February 24, 1999, filed with the Assistant Registrar of the Land Court of the State of Hawaii as Document No. 25255235.

- B. Condominium Map (File Plan) shows the floor plan, elevation and layout of the condominium project. It also shows the floor plan, location, apartment number, and dimensions of each apartment.

The Condominium Map for this condominium project is:

☐ Proposed
☐ Recorded - Bureau of Conveyances Condo Map No. _____
☒ Filed - Land Court Condo Map No. 1253

- C. Bylaws of the Association of Apartment Owners govern the operation of the condominium project. They provide for the manner in which the Board of Directors of the Association of Apartment Owners is elected, the powers and duties of the Board, the manner in which meetings will be conducted, whether pets are prohibited or allowed and other matters which affect how the condominium project will be governed.

The Bylaws for this condominium are:

☐ Proposed
☐ Recorded - Bureau of Conveyances: Document No. _____
Book _____ Page _____
☒ Filed - Land Court: Document No. 2476898

The Bylaws referred to above have been amended by the following instruments [state name of document, date and recording/filing information]:

- D. House Rules. The Board of Directors may adopt House Rules to govern the use and operation of the common elements and limited common elements. House Rules may cover matters such as parking regulations, hours of operation for common facilities such as recreation areas, use of lanais and requirements for keeping pets. These rules must be followed by owners, tenants, and guests. They do not need to be recorded or filed to be effective. The initial House Rules are usually adopted by the developer.

The House Rules for this condominium are:

☐ Proposed                      ☒ Adopted                      ☐ Developer does not plan to adopt House Rules

E. Changes to Condominium Documents

Changes to the Declaration, Condominium Map, and Bylaws are effective only if they are duly adopted and recorded and/or filed. Changes to House Rules do not need to be recorded or filed to be effective.

1. Apartment Owners: Minimum percentage of common interest which must vote for or give written consent to changes:

	Minimum Set by Law	This Condominium

House Rules	--	Action by Board of Directors

* The percentages for individual condominium projects may be more than the minimum set by law for projects with five or fewer apartments.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION ON LEASEHOLD CONDOMINIUM PROJECTS

The information contained in this report is a summary of the terms of the lease. For more detailed information, you should secure a copy of the lease documents and read them thoroughly.

If you have any legal questions about leasehold property, the lease documents or the terms of the lease and the consequences of becoming a lessee, you should seek the advice of an attorney.

There are currently no statutory provisions for the mandatory conversion of leasehold condominiums and there are no assurances that such measures will be enacted in the future.

In leasehold condominium projects, the buyer of an apartment will acquire the right to occupy and use the apartment for the time stated in the lease agreement. The buyer will not acquire outright or absolute fee simple ownership of the land. The land is owned by the lessor or the leased fee owner. The apartment owner or lessee must make lease rent payments and comply with the terms of the lease or be subject to the lessor's enforcement actions. The lease rent payments are usually fixed at specific amounts for fixed periods of time, and are then subject to renegotiation. Renegotiation may be based on a formula, by arbitration set in the lease agreement, by law or by agreement between the lessor and lessee. The renegotiated lease rents may increase significantly. At the end of the lease, the apartment owners may have to surrender the apartments, the improvements and the land back to the lessor without any compensation (surrender clause).

When leasehold property is sold, title is normally conveyed by means of an assignment of lease, the purpose of which is similar to that of a deed. The legal and practical effect is different because the assignment conveys only the rights and obligations created by the lease, not the property itself.

The developer of this condominium project may have entered into a master ground lease with the fee simple owner of the land in order to develop the project. The developer may have then entered into a sublease or a new lease of the land with the lessee (apartment owner). The developer may lease the improvements to the apartment owner by way of an apartment lease or sublease, or sell the improvements to the apartment owners by way of a condominium conveyance or apartment deed.

Limitations may include restrictions on extending, enlarging, or continuing the non-conformity, and restrictions on altering and repairing structures. In some cases, a non-conforming structure that is destroyed or damaged cannot be reconstructed.

The buyer may not be able to obtain financing or insurance if the condominium project has a non-conforming or illegal use, structure, or lot.

Although the common elements are owned jointly by all apartment owners, those portions of the common elements which are designated as limited common elements (see paragraph 2 below) may be used only by those apartments to which they are assigned. The common elements for this project, as described in the Declaration, are:

☒ described in Exhibit B.

☐ as follows:

2. Limited Common Elements: Limited Common Elements are those common elements which are reserved for the exclusive use of the owners of certain apartments.

☐ There are no limited common elements in this project.

☒ The limited common elements and the apartments which use them, as described in the Declaration, are:

☒ described in Exhibit C*.

☐ as follows:

*NOTE: Land areas referenced herein are not legally subdivided lots.

3. Common Interest: Each apartment will have an undivided fractional interest in all of the common elements. This interest is called the "common interest." It is used to determine each apartment's share of the maintenance fees and other common profits and expenses of the condominium project. It may also be used for other purposes, including voting on matters requiring action by apartment owners. The common interests for the apartments in this project, as described in the Declaration, are:

☒ described in Exhibit D.

☐ as follows:

- E. Encumbrances Against Title: An encumbrance is a claim against or a liability on the property or a document affecting the title or use of the property. Encumbrances may have an adverse effect on the property or your purchase and ownership of an apartment in the project.

Exhibit E describes the encumbrances against the title contained in the title report dated March 4, 1999

and issued by Island Title Corporation

Blanket Liens:

A blanket lien is an encumbrance (such as a mortgage) on the entire condominium project that secures some type of monetary debt (such as a loan) or other obligations. A blanket lien is usually released on an apartment-by-apartment basis upon payment of specified sums so that individual apartments can be conveyed to buyers free and clear of the lien.

[ ] There are no blanket liens affecting title to the individual apartments.

[ X ] There are blanket liens which may affect title to the individual apartments.

Blanket (except for improvement district or utility assessments) must be released before the developer conveys the apartment to the buyer. The buyer's interest will be affected if the developer defaults and the lien is foreclosed prior to conveying the apartment to buyer.

Type of Lien	Effect on Buyer's interest and Deposit if Developer Defaults or Lien is Foreclosed Prior to Conveyance
Mortgage	Buyer's interest may be terminated, but in such event, Buyer will be entitled to a return of all deposits, less a nominal escrow cancellation fee.

F. Construction Warranties:

Warranties for individual apartments and the common elements, including the beginning and ending dates for each warranty, as follows:

1. Building and Other Improvements:

Developer has entered into a contract with a general contractor for the Project under which such general contractor has agreed to provide, for the benefit of the Developer and Buyer, a warranty to correct any work found defective within one (1) year after Date of Occupancy. This warranty does not extend to ordinary maintenance work nor to any appliances or consumer products within the Apartment. The Developer does not make any warranties but merely passes on the general contractor's warranties to the Buyer. The Developer's obligations with respect to any defects will be limited to assisting the Buyer in presenting to the general contractor any claims based on such warranty; it being understood that such warranty is limited to defects reported in writing to the Developer or general contractor within the first year following the Date of Occupancy.

2. Appliances:

The Developer will transfer to Buyer any manufacturer's or dealer's written warranties covering the furnishings, fixtures and appliances in the Apartment. The Developer is not adopting any such contractor's, manufacturer's or dealer's warranties, or acting as co-warrantor, but is only attempting to pass on to Buyer the benefit of any such warranties.

Except for the foregoing, the Developer makes no warranties or promises of "merchantability", "habitability", "workmanlike construction" or "fitness for a particular use or purpose" or any other warranties or promises of any kind, express or implied, about the unit, or the project (including the common elements and limited common elements of the project), or about any furnishings, fixtures, appliances or other consumer products or anything else installed, attached, affixed or otherwise contained in the unit, or the project (including the common elements and limited common elements thereof).

G. Status of Construction and Date of Completion or Estimated Date of Completion:

The Project consists of twenty-four (24) separate buildings containing a total of one hundred eighteen (118) units. The Developer plans to construct the buildings from a North to South construction sequence, based upon the sales velocity. The Developer intends to commence the construction of a building based upon the number of units sold within such building. Once the construction is started on a building, the completion date for such building is estimated at four (4) months. The sales of Apartments will close when the unit is completed, even though the entire Project may not then be completed.

The construction of the first building, which is to serve as the model units for the Project, commenced in August, 1998.

The Developer's estimated completion date for the entire Project is May 30, 2000.

H. Project Phases:

The Developer [ ] has [ X ] has not reserved the right to add to, merge, or phase this condominium.

Summary of Developer's plans or right to perform for future development (such as additions, mergers or phasing):

IV. CONDOMINIUM MANAGEMENT

- A. Management of the Common Elements: The Association of Apartment Owners is responsible for the management of the common elements and the overall operation of the condominium project. The Association may be permitted, and in some cases may be required, to employ or retain a condominium managing agent to assist the Association in managing the condominium project.

Initial Condominium Managing Agent: When the developer or the developer's affiliate is the initial condominium managing agent, the management contract must have a term of one year or less and the parties must be able to terminate the contract on notice of 60 days or less.

The initial condominium managing agent for this project, named on page five (5) of this report, is:

☒ not affiliated with the Developer                      ☐ the Developer or the Developer's affiliate.
☐ self-managed by the Association of Apartment Owners                      ☐ Other: _____

- B. Estimate of Initial Maintenance Fees:

The Association will make assessments against your apartment to provide funds for the operation and maintenance of the condominium project. If you are delinquent in paying the assessments, a lien may be placed on your apartment and the apartment may be sold through a foreclosure proceeding.

Initial maintenance fees are difficult to estimate and tend to increase as the condominium ages. Maintenance fees may vary depending on the services provided.

Exhibit F contains a schedule of estimated initial maintenance fees and maintenance fee disbursements (subject to change).

- C. Utility Charges for Apartments:

Each apartment will be billed separately for utilities except for the following checked utilities which are included in the maintenance fees:

☐ None                      ☒ Electricity ( X Common Elements only                      Common Elements & Apartments)
☐ Gas                      ( Common Elements only                      Common Elements & Apartments)
☒ Water                      ☒ Sewer                      ☐ Television Cable

SALES CONTRACT PERTINENT PROVISIONS

1. The Sales Contract identifies the apartment, the common interest, the Purchase Price, the method of payment and the initial maintenance fees.

2. The Sales Contract provides that in the event that Buyer intends to finance the purchase of the Property, the Buyer shall absolutely and strictly comply with the following requirements:

(1) Buyer shall, unless already obtained and provided to Seller, within five (5) days following Buyer's execution of this Agreement, deliver to Seller a letter from a mortgage lender verifying that Buyer is "pre-qualified" for a mortgage loan in the amount which Buyer intends to finance.

(2) Buyer shall also, within five (5) business days from the acceptance of this Agreement by Seller, to apply to one (1) or more lending institutions for such loan. After the application has been made, Buyer will, on request, promptly execute and deliver all documents and take all steps necessary to complete the loan. If Buyer does not make the loan application within said five (5) business day period, Seller may, at its discretion elect to cancel this Agreement and refund Buyer's deposit, without interest, and less all Termination Costs.

(3) It is expressly understood and agreed that if the application for such loan or eligibility and credit approval therefore is rejected by the Lender at any time, or not approved, or notwithstanding Seller's acceptance of Buyer's written loan approval, if Buyer's written loan approval is subject to any contingency whatsoever, and if it reasonably appears that Buyer will not be able to satisfy such contingency on or before the Closing Date, Seller may, at its discretion and at any time, elect to cancel this Agreement and refund Buyer's deposit, without interest, and less all Termination Costs.

(4) At least thirty (30) calendar days prior to the Scheduled Closing Date, Buyer shall take all actions necessary, and pay all costs and fees required by Buyer's Lender, to obtain and close the mortgage loan on the Scheduled Closing Date. If Buyer has not obtained the mortgage loan, or the mortgage loan is not ready to close on the Scheduled Closing Date, Buyer shall be deemed in default under this Agreement and Seller shall be entitled to prosecute any remedy provided for under Hawaii law and/or Paragraph 26 of the Sales Contract (default remedies), and, in addition, at Seller's sole option, Seller may terminate the Sales Contract by written notice of termination to Buyer.

3. The Sales Contract provides for the Seller to increase the sales price if the development and construction of the Project is at any time delayed due to i) governmental restrictions or regulations, ii) the occurrence of fire, tsunami, rain, earthquake, act of God, the elements, war or civil disturbance, strikes or other labor disturbances, economic controls making it impossible to obtain necessary labor or materials, or other conditions beyond the control of Seller, or iii) Buyer's default; and if Seller determines that increases in the development and construction costs because of such delay require increases in the sales prices of the units in, the Project to maintain the financial feasibility of the Project, then and in such event the Seller may increase the Total Purchase Price for the Apartment, only to the extent necessitated by said increases in the development and construction costs, and Seller shall notify the Buyer in writing of any such increases in the Total Purchase Price. After receipt of such notice, the Buyer shall have fifteen (15) calendar days within which to affirm or cancel this Agreement. If, within such fifteen (15) calendar day period, Buyer does not notify Seller in writing that Buyer elects to cancel or affirm this Agreement, Buyer shall be deemed to have affirmed this Agreement and the increased Total Purchase Price. The total amount of the increase shall be due and payable on the Scheduled Closing Date. If the Buyer notifies the Seller in writing, within such fifteen (15) calendar day period, of Buyer's election to cancel this Agreement, Seller shall cause escrow to refund to Buyer all deposits made pursuant hereto, without interest and less any escrow cancellation fee, and Seller may then offer said unit to other prospective buyers.

4. The Sales Contract provides that the Buyer shall pay, at the time of pre-closing, all Escrow fees, all costs in connection with Buyer's loan (including the costs of preparing the note and mortgage, and any points, fees, or other expenses payable to Buyer's Lender), the servicing fee, if any, all recording costs, all appraisal fees, charges for Buyer's credit reports, conveyance taxes or other fees for recording the Apartment Deed and any mortgage, cost of preparation of the Apartment Deed, the cost of any mortgagee's and owner's title insurance and title updates, all notary public fees, and Buyer's share of maintenance fees payable to the Association of Apartment Owners including the first month's maintenance fee and start-up fee equal to two (2) months' maintenance fees. The Sales Contract provides further that the Buyer will also pay Buyer's pro-rata share of the real property taxes and assessments, if any (pro-rated as of the Closing Date) and that any other closing costs shall be apportioned in a manner customary for real estate transactions of this nature in Honolulu, Hawaii.

5. The Sales Contract provides that any interest payable on monies deposited with Escrow Agent shall belong to and be payable to Developer.

6. The Sales Contract provides that all of the Buyer's rights, title and interest in the Sales Contract are subject and subordinate to the lien of any mortgage or mortgages now or later made in acquiring the fee simple interest in the land and to pay for construction and other associated development costs of the Project and to all advances made thereon.

No disbursements of purchaser's funds shall be made from the balance of the escrow fund after payment of costs pursuant to this Agreement until Escrow receives satisfactory evidence that all mechanics' and materialmen's liens have been cleared, unless sufficient funds are set aside for any bona fide dispute.

5. The Escrow Agreement provides that the purchaser shall be entitled to a return of any funds deposited by such purchaser, and Escrow shall pay such funds to such purchaser, without interest, as provided for in the Sales Contract, if one of the following has occurred:
