General Information on Condominiums

A condominium is a special form of real property. To create a condominium in Hawaii, the requirements of the Condominium Property Act, Chapter 514A, Hawaii Revised Statutes, must be complied with. In addition, certain requirements and approvals of the County in which the project is located must be satisfied and obtained.

Some condominium projects are leasehold. This means that the land or the building(s) and other improvements are leased to the buyer. The lease for the land usually requires that at the end of the lease term, the lessees (apartment owners/tenants) deliver their interest in the land to the lessor (fee property owner). The lease also usually requires that the lessees either (1) convey to the lessor the building(s) and other improvements, including any improvements paid for by the lessees; or (2) remove or dispose of the improvements at the lessee's expense. Leases for individual apartments often require that at the end of the lease term, the lessee deliver to the lessor the apartment, including any improvements placed in the apartment by the lessee.

If you are a typical condominium apartment owner, you will have two kinds of ownership: (1) ownership in your individual apartment; and (2) an undivided interest in the common elements.

"Common elements" are the areas of the condominium project other than the individual apartments. They are owned jointly by all apartment owners and include the land, either in fee simple or leasehold, and those parts of the building or buildings intended for common use such as foundations, columns, roofs, halls, elevators, and the like. Your undivided interest in the common elements cannot be separated from ownership of your apartment.

In some condominium projects, some common elements are reserved for the exclusive use of the owners of certain apartments. The common elements are called "limited common elements" and may include parking stalls, patios, lanais, trash chutes, and the like.

You will be entitled to exclusive ownership and possession of your apartment. Condominium apartments may be individually bought, sold, rented, mortgaged or encumbered, and may be disposed of by will, gift or operation of law.

Your apartment will, however, be part of the group of apartments that comprise the condominium project. Study the project's Declaration, Bylaws, and House Rules. These documents contain important information on the use and occupancy of apartments and the common elements as well as the rules of conduct for owners, tenants, and guests.

Operation of the Condominium Project

The Association of Apartment Owners is the entity through which apartment owners may take action with regard to the administration, management, and operation of the condominium project. Each apartment owner is automatically a member of the Association.

The Board of Directors is the governing body of the Association. Unless you serve as a board member or an officer, or are on a committee appointed by the board, your participation in the administration and operation of the condominium project will in most cases be limited to your right to vote as an apartment owner. The Board of Directors and officers can take certain actions without the vote of the owners. For example, the board may hire and fire employees, increase or decrease maintenance fees, borrow money for repair and improvements and set a budget. Some of these actions may significantly impact the apartment owners.

Until there is a sufficient number of purchasers of apartments to elect a majority of the Board of Directors, it is likely that the developer will effectively control the affairs of the Association. It is frequently necessary of the developer to do so during the early stages of development and the developer may reserve certain special rights to do so in the Declaration and Bylaws. Prospective buyers should understand that it is important to all apartment owners that the transition of control from the developer to the apartment owners be accomplished in an orderly manner and in spirit of cooperation.

II. CREATION OF THE CONDOMINIUM; CONDOMINIUM DOCUMENTS

A condominium is created by recording in the Bureau of Conveyances and/or filing with the Land Court a Declaration of Condominium Property Regime, a Condominium Map (File Plan), and the Bylaws of the Association of Apartment Owners. The Condominium Property Act (Chapter 514A, HRS), the Declaration, Bylaws, and House Rules control the rights and obligations of the apartment owners with respect to the project and the common elements, to each other, and to their respective apartments. The provisions of these documents are intended to be, and in most cases are, enforceable in a court of law.

- A. Declaration of Condominium Property Regime contains a description of the land, buildings, apartments, common elements, limited common elements, common interests, and other information relating to the condominium project.

The Declaration for this condominium is:

They provide for the manner in which the Board of Directors of the Association of Apartment Owners is elected, the powers and duties of the Board, the manner in which meetings will be conducted, whether pets are prohibited or allowed and other manners which affect how the condominium project will be governed.

The Bylaws for this condominium re:

D. House Rules. The Board of Directors may adopt House Rules to govern the use and operation of the common elements and limited common elements. House Rules may cover matters such as parking regulations, hours of operation for common facilities such as recreation areas, use of lanais and requirements for keeping pets. These rules must be followed by owners, tenants and guests. They do not need to be recorded or filed to be effective. The initial House Rules are usually adopted by the developer.

The House Rules for this condominium are:

Proposed Adopted Developer does not plan to adopt House Rules

IMPORTANT INFORMATION ON LEASEHOLD CONDOMINIUM PROJECTS

The information contained in this report is a summary of the terms of the lease. For more detailed information, you should secure a copy of the lease documents and read them thoroughly.

There are currently no statutory provisions for the mandatory conversion of leasehold condominiums and there are no assurances that such measures will be enacted in the future.

In leasehold condominium projects, the buyer of an apartment will acquire the right to occupy and use the apartment for the time stated in the lease agreement. The buyer will not acquire outright or absolute fee simple ownership of the land. The land is owned by the lessor or the leased fee owner. The apartment owner or lessee must make lease rent payments and comply with the terms of the lease or be subject to the lessor's enforcement actions. The lease rent payments are usually fixed at specific amounts for fixed period of time, and are then subject to renegotiation. Renegotiation may be based on a formula, by arbitration set in the lease agreement, by law or by agreement between the lessor and lessee. The renegotiated lease rents may increase significantly. At the end of the lease, the apartment owners may have to surrender the apartments, the improvements and the land back to the lessor without any compensation (surrender clause).

When leasehold property is sold, title is normally conveyed by means of an assignment of lease, the purpose of which is similar to that of a deed. The legal and practical effect is different because the assignment conveys only the rights and obligations created by the lease, not the property itself.

The developer of this condominium project may have entered into a master ground lease with fee simple owner of the land in order to develop the project. The developer may have then entered into a sublease or a new lease of the land with the lessee (apartment owner). The developer may lease the improvements to the apartment owner by way of an apartment lease or sublease, or sell the improvements to the apartment owners by way of a condominium conveyance or apartment deed.

11. Conformance to Present Zoning Code

- a. No variances to zoning code have been granted.
 Variance(s) to zoning code was/were granted as follows:

b. Conforming/Non-Conforming Uses, Structures, Lot

In general, a non-conforming use, structure, or lot is a use, structure, or lot which was lawful at one time but which does not now conform to present zoning requirements.

	Conforming	Non-Conforming	Illegal
Uses	 X
Structures	 X
Lot	 X

If a variance has been granted or if uses, improvements or lot are either non-conforming or illegal, buyer should consult with county zoning authorities as to possible limitations which may apply.

Limitations may include restrictions on extending, enlarging, or continuing the non-conformity, and restrictions on altering and repairing structures. In some cases, a non-conforming structure that is destroyed or damaged cannot be reconstructed.

The buyer may not be able to obtain financing or insurance if the condominium project has a non-conforming or illegal use, structure or lot.

D. Common Elements, Limited Common Elements, Common Interest:

1. Common Elements: Common Elements are those parts of the condominium project other than the individual apartments. Although the common elements are owned jointly by all apartment owners, those portions of the common elements which are designated as limited common elements (see paragraph 2 below) may be used only by those apartments to which they are assigned. The common elements for this project, as described in the Declaration, are:

described in Exhibit C.

as follows:

2. Limited Common Elements: Common Elements are those common elements which are reserved for the exclusive use of the owners of certain apartments.

There are no limited common elements in this project.

The limited common elements and the apartments which use them, as described in the Declaration, are:

described in Exhibit C.

as follows:

*NOTE: Land areas referenced herein are not legally subdivided lots.

3. Common Interest: Each apartment will have an undivided fractional interest in all of the common elements. This interest is called the "common interest". It is used to determine each apartment's share of the maintenance fees and other common profits and expenses of the condominium project. It may also be used for other purposes, including voting on matters requiring action by apartment owners. The common interests for the apartments in this project, as described in the Declaration, are:

described in Exhibit D.

as follows:

- E. Encumbrances Against Title: An encumbrance is a claim against or a liability on the property or a document affecting the title or use of the property. Encumbrances may have an adverse effect on the property or your purchase and ownership of an apartment in the project.

Exhibit E describes the encumbrances against the title contained in the title report dated December 13, 2000 and issued by Hawaii Escrow & Title, Inc. .

Blanket Liens:

A blanket lien is an encumbrance (such as a mortgage) on the entire condominium project that secures some type of monetary debt (such as a loan) or other obligation. A blanket lien is usually released on an apartment-by-apartment basis upon payment of specific sums so that individual apartments can be conveyed to buyers free and clear of the lien.

[] There are no blanket liens affecting title to the individual apartments.

[X] There are blanket liens which may affect title to the individual apartments.

Blanket liens (except for improvement district or utility assessments) must be released before the developer conveys the apartment to a buyer. The buyer's interest will be affected if the developer defaults and the lien is foreclosed prior to conveying the apartment to buyer.

Type of Lien	Effect on Buyer's Interest and Deposit if Developer Defaults or Lien is Foreclosed Prior to Conveyance
Mortgage	If Developer defaults the lenders may foreclose and terminate the interest of a purchaser under a sales contract. Purchaser's fund in Escrow to be refunded, less cancellation fee.

F. Construction Warranties:

Warranties for individual apartments and the common elements, including the beginning and ending dates for each warranty, are as follows:

1. Building and Other Improvements:

One year after substantial completion of an apartment unit.

2. Appliances:

The Developer is not giving any express or implied warranties for the Appliances. However, the Developer will assign its rights under any warranties from the Appliance manufacturer.

G. Status of Construction and Date of Completion or Estimated Date of Completion:

The construction of all of the units in Building 8 have been completed. The Affidavit of Publication of Owner's Notice of Completion for the improvements was filed on December 1, 2000 for Building 8.

H. Project Phases:

The developer has has not reserved the right to add to, merge, or phase this condominium.

Summary of Developer's plans or right to perform for future development (such as additions, mergers or phasing):

See Exhibit "A".

IV. CONDOMINIUM MANAGEMENT

A. Management of the Common Elements: The Association of Apartment Owners is responsible for the management of the common elements and the overall operation of the condominium project. The Association may be permitted, and in some cases may be required, to employ or retain a condominium managing agent to assist the Association in managing the condominium project.

Initial Condominium Managing Agent: When the developer or the developer's affiliate is the initial condominium managing agent, the management contract must have a term of one year or less and the parties must be able to terminate the contract on notice of 60 days or less.

The initial condominium managing agent for this project, named on page five (5) of this report, is:

Initial maintenance fees are difficult to estimate and tend to increase as the condominium ages. Maintenance fees may vary depending on the services provided.

Exhibit F contains a schedule of estimated initial maintenance fees and maintenance fee disbursements (subject to change)

Notwithstanding the conveyance of any apartment or anything to the contrary in the Declaration, the Bylaws, the Condominium Map, any Sales Contract, conveyance document, or any other document or instrument, if the Developer does not exercise its right to complete the additional phases and Increments of the Project, then the Developer or its mortgagee (if any), as successor in interest to the Developer, either by foreclosure or deed in lieu of foreclosure, including any third party that is the successful purchaser at any foreclosure auction (the "Succeeding Mortgagee"), of the undeveloped land on which the remaining phases of the Project were to be situated and any of the common elements that were to be located (the "Undeveloped Land") shall have the right, at its option, to delete the Undeveloped Land and remove any common elements that was to be situated on or within the Undeveloped Land of the Project by withdrawing from the Project any or all of the Undeveloped Land and any common elements thereon (including but not limited to a swimming pool and landscaping) pursuant to Section 514A-11(12) of the Condominium Act (the "Withdrawn Land"). (b) The Developer (but not the Succeeding Mortgagee unless it becomes the owner of the Withdrawn Land) would use its best efforts to cause the Withdrawn Land to be subdivided from the remainder of the Project at its sole cost and expense, and shall promptly execute and file any subdivision applications and other documents which are necessary or appropriate in connection with the subdivision of the Withdrawn Land from the remainder of the Project;

(c) The Developer (but not the Succeeding Mortgagee unless it becomes the owner of the Withdrawn Land) would add, delete, relocate, realign, reserve and grant all easements and rights-of-way over, under and on the common elements necessary or desirable to service the Withdrawn Land, including but not limited to, easements and/or rights-of-ways for pedestrian and vehicular access, utilities, cesspools, sanitary and storm sewers, cable television, refuse disposal, driveways, parking areas and roadways, provided that such easements and/or rights-of-way do not materially impair the use of any apartment or its appurtenant common interest in the common elements;

(d) The Developer (but not the Succeeding Mortgagee unless it becomes the owner of the Withdrawn Land) would give each apartment owner and lienholder at least thirty (30) days prior written notice of its intention to withdraw the Withdrawn Land;

(e) The Developer (but not the Succeeding Mortgagee unless it becomes the owner of the Withdrawn Land) would, at its own expense and without being required to obtain the consent or joinder of any apartment owner or lienholder, execute and file an amendment to the Declaration and the Condominium Map: (i) to delete the Withdrawn Land and any common elements situated within the Withdrawn Land from the Project, (ii) to add, delete, relocate, realign, reserve and grant all easements and rights-of-way over, under and on the common elements necessary or desirable to service the Withdrawn Land, including but not limited to, easements and/or rights-of-way for utilities, cesspools, sanitary and storm sewers, cable television, refuse disposal, driveways, parking areas and roadways provided that such easements and/or rights-of-way do not materially impair the use of any apartment or its appurtenant common interest in the common elements; (iii) to delete the apartments, common elements and limited common elements that were to be built on the Withdrawn Land from the project; (iv) to adjust the common interests appurtenant to the apartments of the Project to reflect the elimination of the apartments in the phases that were to be built on the Withdrawn Land from the Project; (v) to cancel all easements over the Withdrawn Land in favor of apartments in the Project; and (vi) to release all owners of any interest in the Withdrawn Land from any and all obligations and liabilities of the Project, including, without limitation, the obligation to pay common expenses and the lien securing the payment of such expenses.

(f) The withdrawal would become effective upon the approval of the subdivision by the County of Kauai Planning Department and the filing with the Bureau of Conveyances of the State of Hawaii of an amendment to the Declaration and Condominium Map noting such withdrawal and setting forth a description of the Withdrawn Land.

(g) No withdrawal would be permitted if it requires the alteration or destruction of any constructed apartment.

(h) All rights of apartment owners shall be subject to the Developer and Succeeding Mortgagee's rights to require withdrawal of the Withdrawn Land as set forth in the Declaration, and the acceptance of ownership of an apartment in the Project shall constitute an acceptance of such right.

POWER OF ATTORNEY - DELETION OF LAND. In furtherance of the rights and powers reserved to the Developer and its successor in interest, each apartment owner and the Association of Apartment Owners will by virtue of accepting a conveyance of an apartment designate the Developer and/or its successor in interest (including the Succeeding Mortgagee) as his attorney-in-fact, with power of substitution, to execute any and all applications for subdivision, amendments to the Declaration, the Bylaws, and the Condominium Map, deeds in lieu of foreclosure, easement agreements and any other documents of whatsoever nature necessary or appropriate to effect the withdrawal of any or all of the Undeveloped Land from the Project and any subsequent conveyance or transfer of such Withdrawn Land.
