Not Required - Disclosures covered in this report.

Summary of Changes from Earlier Public Reports:

This summary contains a general description of the changes, if any, made by the developer since the last public report was issued. It is not necessarily all inclusive. Prospective buyers should compare this public report with the earlier reports if they wish to know the specific changes that have been made.

No prior reports have been issued by the developer.

Changes made are as follows:

1. Approval from the County of Kauai has been received for the subdivision of the Property on which the Project is to be located (the "Land"). The Land is subdivided into twenty-three lots and three "remnant" lots. Three of the 23 Lots are designated for roadway uses and may be dedicated in the future to the County of Kauai. One lot (Lot 6) will be the location of a reservoir and other improvements and it will be retained as a common element. Each of the 108 Units will be located on one of the 19 remaining lots or on one of the three "remnant" lots. A revised description of the Land appears on the title report referred to on Page 14. Remnant Lots are identified on Page 1 of the Condominium Map as Lots 26, 27 and 30.

2. Construction contracts for the subdivision improvements required by the County have been entered into with Unlimited Construction Services, Inc.. Work on the subdivision improvements has begun, but is not expected to be completed any earlier than the end of 2005, subject to extensions for events beyond the Declarant's control. No building permits for a Unit owner will be issued until such improvements are completed.

3. The mortgage previously encumbering the Land has been paid off. Two new mortgage loans totaling $14 Million have been entered into, and loan proceeds have been disbursed to the Declarant. $7.6 Million from the Loans has been placed into an escrow fund to pay for the offsite portion ("Phase 1") of the subdivision improvements. Proceeds from the Loans, the sale of Lots and proceeds from sales of Units in the Project will be used to pay for remaining subdivision costs.

4. Instead of 120 condominium Units, the Project consists of 108 condominium Units. Each Unit will be allocated a 1/108th common interest in the Project common elements and share of common expenses. Of such 108 condominium units in the Project, only 96 of the units are being offered for sale by Developer under this Final Public Report.

5. Two of the three Remnant Lots (Remnant Lots 3 and 4) and Lot 8 have been transferred to third parties. The Units to be located on such Remnant Lots and on Lot 8 are within the Project, but are not intended to be covered by this Final Public Report. The owners of all three of Remnant Lots and of Lot 8 will have the right later to offer for sale the units located on each of such Lots later and by way of a separate registration and public report.

6. Developer has retained and reserved a number of rights primarily involving future development and construction within the Project (see Exhibit D attached hereto).

7. The relationship between the Project and the project known as "Kūlana Kai" has been terminated. This will result in higher maintenance fees charged to the Unit Owners within the Kūlana Project, since the owners within Kūlana Kai will not have the use of or be required to pay for certain of the common elements of the Kūlana Project. The Disclosure Abstract and estimated maintenance fees (Exhibit G and Exhibit H) have been revised to reflect such change.

8. Other changes include: change in the attorney representing the Developer; change in the title and escrow company; change in the escrow agreement; change in the title encumbrances (Exhibit F); recordation of the Project Documents, including the Condominium Map and restated Declaration of Condominium Property Regime; and changes have been made to the addendum to the Sales Contract (Exhibit B).

SPECIAL ATTENTION

The Developer has disclosed the following:

- (a) This is a CONDOMINIUM PROJECT, not a subdivision. The land area beneath and immediately adjacent to each Unit is designated an "Exclusive Area", and is a LIMITED COMMON ELEMENT. An Exclusive Area does not represent a legally subdivided lot, and the boundaries of an Exclusive Area are not boundaries of a legally subdivided lot.
- (b) Facilities and improvements normally associated with County- approved subdivisions, such as fire protection, street lighting, utilities, improved access for emergency vehicles, and drainage facilities, etc., are to be provided to the subdivided lots underlying the Project. These features may not be provided to each of the Unit of the Project to the same extent. Services such as County street maintenance and trash collection may not be available for the interior private roads and driveways of the Project.
- (c) Construction of subdivision improvements required by the County has begun and is scheduled to be completed by December 31, 2005, subject to extensions for causes beyond Developer's control. Except for construction of "shed" structures, no other improvements are to be made by Developer to Purchaser's Unit. No warranties are given to the purchaser as to the construction, materials or workmanship of the Project. The Project is being sold in "as is" condition (page 15).
- (d) This public report does not constitute approval of the Project by the Real Estate Commission or any other governmental agency, nor does it ensure that all applicable County codes, ordinances, and subdivision requirements have necessarily been complied with.
- (e) A condominium Unit offered hereunder is not a residence. Some Units are not permitted to be used as a residence. Other Units may be used for residential use. Any such permitted residence will be required to be a "Farm Dwelling, " which will require obtaining County permits and approvals of the Design Review Committee which implements and enforces Design Rules and other conditions imposed by covenants, conditions and restrictions imposed on the Project. County rules include that the Project be used for Agricultural Activities and such may impact an Owner's use and enjoyment of his Unit. County rules also restrict permissible use of the Land, the number of dwelling units permitted, and the amount of total development permitted on a lot.
- (f) A prospective purchaser should be aware that making future improvements will require obtaining building and other permits from the County, and that the Developer's subdivision improvements must be completed before permits will be issued to a Unit Owner.
- (g) Obtaining utilities and services beyond those installed by the Developer will require agreements between the Owner and utility providers. Developer disclaims all warranties relating to the availability of such utilities, any conditions that may be imposed by the providers, or the cost thereof.

Each prospective purchaser, together with an architect or professional builder, is urged to review the applicable County ordinances which may affect the Purchaser's use of his Unit and the Project Documents and to review their intended plans with County officials. Developer disclaims all warranties with respect to Purchaser's being able to use the Unit for such User's intended purposes.

PROSPECTIVE PURCHASERS ARE CAUTIONED TO CAREFULLY REVIEW ALL DOCUMENTS REGARDING THIS CONDOMINIUM PROJECT FOR FURTHER INFORMATION WITH REGARD TO THE FOREGOING.

General Information On Condominiums

A condominium is a special form of real property. To create a condominium in Hawaii, the requirements of the Condominium Property Act, Chapter 514A, Hawaii Revised Statutes, must be complied with. In addition, certain requirements and approvals of the County in which the project is located must be satisfied and obtained.

Some condominium projects are leasehold. This means that the land or the building(s) and other improvements are leased to the buyer. The lease for the land usually requires that at the end of the lease term, the lessees (apartment owners/tenants) deliver their interest in the land to the lessor (fee property owner). The lease also usually requires that the lessees either (1) convey to the lessor the building(s) and other improvements, including any improvements paid for by the lessees; or (2) remove or dispose of the improvements at the lessee's expense. Leases for individual apartments often require that at the end of the lease term, the lessee deliver to the lessor the apartment, including any improvements placed in the apartment by the lessee.

If you are a typical condominium apartment owner, you will have two kinds of ownership: (1) ownership in your individual apartment; and (2) an undivided interest in the common elements.

"Common elements" are the areas of the condominium project other than the individual apartments. They are owned jointly by all apartment owners and include the land, either in fee simple or leasehold, and those parts of the building or buildings intended for common use such as foundations, columns, roofs, halls, elevators, and the like. Your undivided interest in the common elements cannot be separated from ownership of your apartment.

In some condominium projects, some common elements are reserved for the exclusive use of the owners of certain apartments. These common elements are called "limited common elements" and may include parking stalls, patios, lanais, trash chutes, and the like.

You will be entitled to exclusive ownership and possession of your apartment. Condominium apartments may be individually bought, sold, rented, mortgaged or encumbered, and may be disposed of by will, gift, or operation of law.

Your apartment will, however, be part of the group of apartments that comprise the condominium project. Study the project's Declaration, Bylaws, and House Rules. These documents contain important information on the use and occupancy of apartments and the common elements as well as the rules of conduct for owners, tenants, and guests.

Operation of the Condominium Project

The Association of Apartment Owners is the entity through which apartment owners may take action with regard to the administration, management, and operation of the condominium project. Each apartment owner is automatically a member of the Association.

The Board of Directors is the governing body of the Association. Unless you serve as a board member or an officer, or are on a committee appointed by the board, your participation in the administration and operation of the condominium project will in most cases be limited to your right to vote as an apartment owner. The Board of Directors and officers can take certain actions without the vote of the owners. For example, the board may hire and fire employees, increase or decrease maintenance fees, borrow money for repair and improvements and set a budget. Some of these actions may significantly impact the apartment owners.

Until there is a sufficient number of purchasers of apartments to elect a majority of the Board of Directors, it is likely that the developer will effectively control the affairs of the Association. It is frequently necessary for the developer to do so during the early stages of development and the developer may reserve certain special rights to do so in the Declaration and Bylaws. Prospective buyers should understand that it is important to all apartment owners that the transition of control from the developer to the apartment owners be accomplished in an orderly manner and in a spirit of cooperation.

II. CREATION OF THE CONDOMINIUM; CONDOMINIUM DOCUMENTS

A condominium is created by recording in the Bureau of Conveyances and/or filing with the Land Court a Declaration of Condominium Property Regime, a Condominium Map (File Plan), and the Bylaws of the Association of Apartment Owners. The Condominium Property Act (Chapter 514A, HRS), the Declaration, Bylaws, and House Rules control the rights and obligations of the apartment owners with respect to the project and the common elements, to each other, and to their respective apartments. The provisions of these documents are intended to be, and in most cases are, enforceable in a court of law.

- A. Declaration of Condominium Property Regime contains a description of the land, buildings, apartments, common elements, limited common elements, common interests, and other information relating to the condominium project.

The Declaration for this condominium is:

Proposed
 Recorded - Bureau of Conveyances: Document No. 2004-252101
 Book _____ Page _____
 Filed - Land Court: Document No. _____

The Declaration referred to above has been amended by the following instruments [state name of document, date and recording/filing information]:

1. Amended and Restated Declaration of Condominium Property Regime acknowledged January 20, 2005, recorded as Document No. 2005-015753.

- B. Condominium Map (File Plan) shows the floor plan, elevation and layout of the condominium project. It also shows the floor plan, location, apartment number, and dimensions of each apartment.

The Condominium Map for this condominium project is:

Proposed
 Recorded - Bureau of Conveyances Condo Map No. 3902
 Filed - Land Court Condo Map No. _____

The Condominium Map has been amended by the following instruments [state name of document, date and recording/filing information]:

- C. Bylaws of the Association of Apartment Owners govern the operation of the condominium project. They provide for the manner in which the Board of Directors of the Association of Apartment Owners is elected, the powers and duties of the Board, the manner in which meetings will be conducted, whether pets are prohibited or allowed and other matters which affect how the condominium project will be governed.

The Bylaws for this condominium are:

Proposed
 Recorded - Bureau of Conveyances: Document No. 2004-252102
 Book _____ Page _____
 Filed - Land Court: Document No. _____

The Bylaws referred to above have been amended by the following instruments [state name of document, date and recording/filing information]:

D. House Rules. The Board of Directors may adopt House Rules to govern the use and operation of the common elements and limited common elements. House Rules may cover matters such as parking regulations, hours of operation for common facilities such as recreation areas, use of lanais and requirements for keeping pets. These rules must be followed by owners, tenants, and guests. They do not need to be recorded or filed to be effective. The initial House Rules are usually adopted by the developer. The Developer has adopted a Declaration of Covenant, Conditions and Restrictions (CCRs) for this Project. No amendment to the CCRs may be made without Developer's consent prior to the sale of ninety percent (90%) of the common interests of the Project. Attached Exhibit "J" contains a summary of the CCRs.

The House Rules for this condominium are:

Proposed Adopted Developer does not plan to adopt House Rules

E. Changes to Condominium Documents

Changes to the Declaration, Condominium Map, and Bylaws are effective only if they are duly adopted and recorded and/or filed. Changes to House Rules do not need to be recorded or filed to be effective.

1. Apartment Owners: Minimum percentage of common interest which must vote for or give written consent to changes:

	Minimum Set by Law	This Condominium
Declaration (and Condo Map)	75%*	75% *
Bylaws	65%	65%
House Rules	-----	N/A

* The percentages for individual condominium projects may be more than the minimum set by law for projects with five or fewer apartments. So long as Developer owns more than 10% of the Units, consent by Developer for an amendment is also required.

2. Developer:

No rights have been reserved by the developer to change the Declaration, Condominium Map, Bylaws or House Rules.

Developer has reserved the following rights to change the Declaration, Condominium Map, Bylaws or House Rules:

IMPORTANT INFORMATION ON LEASEHOLD CONDOMINIUM PROJECTS

The information contained in this report is a summary of the terms of the lease. For more detailed information, you should secure a copy of the lease documents and read them thoroughly.

If you have any legal questions about leasehold property, the lease documents or the terms of the lease and the consequences of becoming a lessee, you should seek the advice of an attorney.

There are currently no statutory provisions for the mandatory conversion of leasehold condominiums and there are no assurances that such measures will be enacted in the future.

In leasehold condominium projects, the buyer of an apartment will acquire the right to occupy and use the apartment for the time stated in the lease agreement. The buyer will not acquire outright or absolute fee simple ownership of the land. The land is owned by the lessor or the leased fee owner. The apartment owner or lessee must make lease rent payments and comply with the terms of the lease or be subject to the lessor's enforcement actions. The lease rent payments are usually fixed at specific amounts for fixed periods of time, and are then subject to renegotiation. Renegotiation may be based on a formula, by arbitration set in the lease agreement, by law or by agreement between the lessor and lessee. The renegotiated lease rents may increase significantly. At the end of the lease, the apartment owners may have to surrender the apartments, the improvements and the land back to the lessor without any compensation (surrender clause).

When leasehold property is sold, title is normally conveyed by means of an assignment of lease, the purpose of which is similar to that of a deed. The legal and practical effect is different because the assignment conveys only the rights and obligations created by the lease, not the property itself.

The developer of this condominium project may have entered into a master ground lease with the fee simple owner of the land in order to develop the project. The developer may have then entered into a sublease or a new lease of the land with the lessee (apartment owner). The developer may lease the improvements to the apartment owner by way of an apartment lease or sublease, or sell the improvements to the apartment owners by way of a condominium conveyance or apartment deed.

Permitted Alterations to Apartments:

There are significant restrictions set forth in Paragraph 20. 1 and Paragraph 20.2 of the Declaration. See attached Exhibit "K_"

(NOT APPLICABLE)

Apartments Designated for Owner-Occupants Only: Fifty percent (50%) of residential apartments must be so designated; developer has a right to substitute similar apartments for those apartments already designated. Developer must provide this information either in a published announcement or advertisement as required by section 514A-102, HRS; or include the information here in this public report and in the announcement (see attachment 11a). Developer has N/A elected to provide the information in a published announcement or advertisement.

11. Conformance to Present Zoning Code

a. No variances to zoning code have been granted.

Variance(s) to zoning code was/were granted as follows:

b. Conforming/Non-Conforming Uses, Structures, Lot

In general, a non-conforming use, structure, or lot is a use, structure, or lot which was lawful at one time but which does not now conform to present zoning requirements.

	Conforming	Non-Conforming	Illegal
Uses	 X
Structures	 X
Lot	 X

If a variance has been granted or if uses, improvements or lot are either non-conforming or illegal, buyer should consult with county zoning authorities as to possible limitations which may apply.

Limitations may include restrictions on extending, enlarging, or continuing the non-conformity, and restrictions on altering and repairing structures. In some cases, a non-conforming structure that is destroyed or damaged cannot be reconstructed.

The buyer may not be able to obtain financing or insurance if the condominium project has a non-conforming or illegal use, structure, or lot.

D. Common Elements, Limited Common Elements, Common Interest:

1. Common Elements: Common Elements are those parts of the condominium project other than the individual apartments. Although the common elements are owned jointly by all apartment owners, those portions of the common elements which are designated as limited common elements (see paragraph 2 below) may be used only by those apartments to which they are assigned. The common elements for this project, as described in the Declaration, are:

described in Exhibit B .

as follows:

2. Limited Common Elements: Limited Common Elements are those common elements which are reserved for the exclusive use of the owners of certain apartments.

There are no limited common elements in this project.

The limited common elements and the apartments which use them, as described in the Declaration, are:

described in Exhibit C.

as follows:

NOTE: Reference in Exhibit "C" to "Exclusive Area" is not intended to refer to a legally subdivided lot. Each such Exclusive Area is a limited common element within a condominium property regime.

3. Common Interest: Each apartment will have an undivided fractional interest in all of the common elements. This interest is called the "common interest." It is used to determine each apartment's share of the maintenance fees and other common profits and expenses of the condominium project. It may also be used for other purposes, including voting on matters requiring action by apartment owners. The common interests for the apartments in this project, as described in the Declaration, are:

described in Exhibit _____.

as follows: each Unit has common interest of 1/108th, subject to change in Declaration.

E. Encumbrances Against Title: An encumbrance is a claim against or a liability on the property or a document affecting the title or use of the property. Encumbrances may have an adverse effect on the property or your purchase and ownership of an apartment in the project.

Exhibit "E" describes the encumbrances against the title contained in the title report dated January 12, 2005 and issued by Fidelity National Title Insurance Company.

Blanket Liens:

A blanket lien is an encumbrance (such as a mortgage) on the entire condominium project that secures some type of monetary debt (such as a loan) or other obligation. A blanket lien is usually released on an apartment-by-apartment basis upon payment of specified sums so that individual apartments can be conveyed to buyers free and clear of the lien.

There are no blanket liens affecting title to the individual apartments.

There are blanket liens which may affect title to the individual apartments.

Blanket liens (except for improvement district or utility assessments) must be released before the developer conveys the apartment to a buyer. The buyer's interest will be affected if the developer defaults and the lien is foreclosed prior to conveying the apartment to buyer.

Type of Lien	Effect on Buyer's Interest and Deposit if Developer Defaults or Lien is Foreclosed Prior to Conveyance
Mortgages	Buyer's interest may be terminated by mortgagee but Buyer shall be entitled to return of his deposit, less escrow cancellation fee.

F. Construction Warranties:

Warranties for individual apartments and the common elements, including the beginning and ending dates for each warranty, are as follows:

1. Building and Other Improvements:

Developer is giving no warranties to Purchaser on the materials and workmanship of the Units or of the Common Elements. Construction of subdivision improvements required by the County has begun and is scheduled to be completed by December 31, 2005, subject to extensions for causes beyond Developer's control. Developer will assign to the Association all of developer's rights in the contractor's one year warranties following substantial completion for such subdivision improvements.

2. Appliances:

None

G. Status of Construction and Date of Completion or Estimated Date of Completion:

A shed structure, if required under Chapter 514A to constitute a "unit", is or will be constructed in 2005. Construction of subdivision improvements required by the County has begun and is scheduled to be completed by December 31, 2005, subject to extensions for time for causes beyond Developer's control.

EXHIBIT "C"

LIMITED COMMON ELEMENTS. Section 6 of the Declaration designates certain portions of the Project as "limited common elements", including specifically but not limited to:

"6. LIMITED COMMON ELEMENTS.

6.1 Certain parts of the Common Elements, herein called and designated limited common elements, are hereby set aside and reserved for the exclusive use of certain Units and such Units shall have appurtenant thereto exclusive easements for the use of such limited common elements.

The limited common elements so set aside and reserved are as follows:

(1) Any entrance, exit, gateway, entry, patio, yard, driveway or steps which would normally be used only for the purposes of ingress to and egress from a Unit shall be a limited common element appurtenant to and reserved for the exclusive use of such Unit.

(2) That portion of the Land designated on the Condominium Map as a "Lot" (together with the airspace above such Land area), is for the exclusive use of the Unit having the same letter designation as such Land area on such Condominium Map (such area may be referred to as an "Exclusive Area"). Schedule 1 attached to the Declaration contains a list of the Units, and the area of the Exclusive Area appurtenant to such Unit.

(3) Each Exclusive Area is subject to any nonexclusive easements shown on the Condominium Map which are for the benefit of other Unit Owners, provided that the Owner of the Unit burdened by such easement reserves the right to make use of such easement, subject to the terms and conditions set forth in Paragraph 8.1 of this Declaration and provided further, that such Owner may not construct fences or buildings or plant trees on or over such easement that are for access or utility purposes.

(4) Any other common element of the Project which is rationally related to fewer than all the Units shall be deemed a limited common element appurtenant to and for the exclusive use of such Unit(s) to which it is rationally related.

6.2 A Unit Owner may grant easements on or over the Exclusive Area appurtenant to his Unit, provided that the use of such easement does not present a danger to other Units and does not materially change the level of activity on the Project as a whole."

Note: an "Exclusive Area" is not a legally subdivided lot; it is a limited common element in a condominium property regime..

EXHIBIT "D"

Thereafter, the Association, through the Board, with the consent or agreement of any holder of any then existing easement affected thereby, is authorized to grant, convey, transfer, cancel, relocate and otherwise deal with any and all such public services and utilities easements now or hereafter located on or affecting the Project.)

SUMMARY OF DECLARATION OF COVENANTS, CONDITIONS AND RESTRICTIONS FOR KŪLANA

This is a summary of the recorded Declaration of Covenants, Conditions and Restrictions (the "CC&R's") for the condominium Project. This is a summary of the restrictions applicable to all subdivided lots upon which this Project is located. It does not affect the Remnant Lots, however. The CCRs were imposed in connection with the County of Kauai's approval of the subdivision of the land on which the Project is to be located.

This summary is not intended to recite the actual provisions of the CC&R's, nor to cover every issue in which a purchaser might have interest. A prospective purchaser is urged to obtain a full copy of the CC&R's from the Developer or its sale agent and to review the CCRs closely prior to entering into an agreement to purchase a unit in this Project.

THE GENERAL PROVISIONS OF THE CC&R's.

Article I defines many terms used in the document. Articles II and III have to do with the organization of the subdivision, the imposition of Design Rules affecting any improvement to be made by an Owner. It also creates a Design Review Committee to enforce the Rules. It contains provisions for the possible annexation of other properties to be covered by the CC&R's at a later date; imposes the obligations of owners to observe the restrictions; and provides for further and supplementary restrictions, on certain conditions.

THE USE OF CONDOMINIUM PROPERTY REGIMES ("CPR'S") FOR OWNERSHIP AND DEVELOPMENT.

Article IV contains the method use of CCR's as a vehicle for ownership and development of the Project as a whole.

DESIGN AND USE CRITERIA FOR THE PROJECT.

Article V establishes general design restrictions applicable to this project. There are restrictions on siting of improvements, prohibition of certain noxious uses, requirement for submission of design documents for review and evaluation by a Design Review Committee, and methods of design and construction, and the keeping and maintenance of pets and animals on a lot.

ASSOCIATION.

Article VI establishes procedures for enforcement of the CC&R's.

Article VII describes past and possible future agricultural uses which entail the existence of many factors which might be found to be objectionable to prospective owners. This Article provides notice to an owner of the negative factors which might exist in buying a condominium unit within the Project.

Article VIII establishes the means for dealing with certain issues arising when enforcing the observation of the CCRs or the breach of obligations under the CC&R's, and provides for the use of certain remedies including the use of arbitration.

Article IX deals with the responsibility of each unit owner to protect the Association and other owners from every act of each owner.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Article IX covers several miscellaneous items. It includes provisions for the transfer of control to the Owners of the Project following the initial period of control by the Developer. It addresses transfer of property to a governmental entity and the impact of Project Documents on subsequent transferees. It also provides for the method of giving notice of certain matters related to the CC&R's. It also allows the Association to enter Units to inspect conditions, with prior notice.

The document establishes the duration of the CC&R's (total 55 years from the date of adoption) and mandates retention of all covenants required as a condition of subdivision approval of the County of Kauai. It also provides a means of alteration of the CC&R's (75% vote, if permitted under other controls affecting the Project). Other miscellaneous provisions include, such matters as how the covenants should be interpreted in a court of law, the severability of clauses if any one is found to be illegal and similar matters. Finally it sets forth requirement for the maintenance of the stream ditches located within the Project.
