General Information On Condominiums

A condominium is a special form of real property. To create a condominium in Hawaii, the requirements of the Condominium Property Act, Chapter 514A, Hawaii Revised Statutes, must be complied with. In addition, certain requirements and approvals of the County in which the project is located must be satisfied and obtained.

Some condominium projects are leasehold. This means that the land or the building(s) and other improvements are leased to the buyer. The lease for the land usually requires that at the end of the lease term, the lessees (apartment owner/tenants) deliver their interest in the land to the lessor (fee property owner). The lease also usually requires that the lessees either (1) convey to the lessor the building(s) and other improvements, including any improvements paid for by the lessees; or (2) remove or dispose of the improvements at the lessee's expense. Leases for individual apartments often require that at the end of the lease term, the lessee deliver to the lessor the apartment, including any improvements placed in the apartment by the lessee.

If you are a typical condominium apartment owner, you will have two kinds of ownership: (1) ownership in your individual apartment; and (2) an undivided interest in the common elements.

"Common elements" are the areas of the condominium project other than the individual apartments. They are owned jointly by all apartment owners and include the land, either in fee simple or leasehold, and those parts of the building or buildings intended for common use such as foundations, columns, roofs, halls, elevators, and the like. Your undivided interest in the common elements cannot be separated from ownership of your apartment.

In some condominium projects, some common elements are reserved for the exclusive use of the owners of certain apartments. These common elements are called "limited common elements" and may include parking stalls, patios, lanais, trash chutes, and the like.

You will be entitled to exclusive ownership and possession of your apartment. Condominium apartments may be individually bought, sold, rented, mortgaged, or encumbered, and may be disposed of by will, gift, or operation of law.

Your apartment will, however, be part of the group of apartments that comprise the condominium project. Study the project's Declaration, Bylaws, and House Rules. These documents contain important information on the use and occupancy of apartments and the common elements as well as the rules of conduct for owners, tenants, and guests.

Operation of the Condominium Project

The Association of Apartment Owners is the entity through which apartment owners may take action with regard to the administration, management, and operation of the condominium project. Each apartment owner is automatically a member of the Association.

The Board of Directors is the governing body of the Association. Unless you serve as a board member or an officer, or are on a committee appointed by the board, your participation in the administration and operation of the condominium project will in most cases be limited to your right to vote as an apartment owner. The Board of Directors and officers can take certain actions without the vote of the owners. For example, the board may hire and fire employees, increase or decrease maintenance fees, borrow money for repair and improvements and set a budget. Some of these actions may significantly impact the apartment owners.

Until there is sufficient number of purchasers of apartments to elect a majority of the Board of Directors, it is likely that the developer will effectively control the affairs of the Association. It is frequently necessary for the developer to do so during the early stages of development and the developer may reserve certain special rights to do so in the Declaration and Bylaws. Prospective buyers should understand that it is important to all apartment owners that the transition of control from the developer to the apartment owners be accomplished in an orderly manner and in a spirit of cooperation.

II. CREATION OF THE CONDOMINIUM; CONDOMINIUM DOCUMENTS

A condominium is created by recording in the Bureau of Conveyances and/or filing with the Land Court a Declaration of Condominium Property Regime, a Condominium Map (File Plan), and the Bylaws of the Association of Apartment Owners. The Condominium Property Act (Chapter 514A, IIRS), the Declaration, Bylaws, and House Rules control the rights and obligations of the apartment owners with respect to the project and the common elements, to each other, and to their respective apartments. The provisions of these documents are intended to be, and in most cases are, enforceable in a court of law.

- A. Declaration of Condominium Property Regime contains a description of the land, buildings, apartments, common elements, limited common elements, common interests, and other information relating to the condominium project.

The Declaration for this condominium is:

- Proposed
 Recorded - Bureau of Conveyances Document No. _____
Book _____ Page _____
 Filed - Land Court Document Number _____

The Declaration referred to above has been amended by the following instruments [state name of document, date and recording/filing information]:

- B. Condominium Map (File Plan) shows the floor plan, elevation and layout of the condominium project. It also shows the floor plan, location, apartment number, and dimensions of each apartment.

 Filed - Land Court Condominium Map No. _____

The Condominium Map has been amended by the following instruments [state name of document, date and recording/filing information]:

They provide for the manner in which the Board of Directors of the Association of Apartment Owners is elected, the powers and duties of the Board, the manner in which meetings will be conducted, whether pets are prohibited or allowed and other matters which affect how the condominium project will be governed.

The Bylaws for this condominium are:

- Proposed
 Recorded - Bureau of Conveyances Document No. _____
Book _____ Page _____
 Filed - Land Court Document Number _____

The Bylaws referred to above have been amended by the following instruments [state name of document, date and recording/filing information]:

D. House Rules. The Board of Directors may adopt House Rules to govern the use and operation of the common elements and limited common elements. House rules may cover matters such as parking regulations, hours of operation for common facilities such as recreation areas, use of lanais and requirements for keeping pets. These rules must be followed by owners, tenants, and guests. They do not need to be recorded or filed to be effective. The initial House Rules are usually adopted by the developer.

The House Rules for this condominium are:

Proposed Adopted Developer does not plan to adopt House Rules

E. Changes to Condominium Documents

Changes to the Declaration, Condominium Map, and Bylaws are effective only if they are duly adopted and recorded and/or filed. Changes to House Rules do not need to be recorded or filed to be effective.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION ON LEASEHOLD CONDOMINIUM PROJECTS

The information contained in this report is a summary of the terms of the lease. For more detailed information, you should secure a copy of the lease documents and read them thoroughly.

If you have any legal questions about leasehold property, the lease documents or the terms of the lease and the consequences of becoming a lessee, you should seek the advice of an attorney.

There are currently no statutory provisions for the mandatory conversion of leasehold condominiums and there are no assurances that such measures will be enacted in the future.

In leasehold condominium projects, the buyer of an apartment will acquire the right to occupy and use the apartment for the time stated in the lease agreement. The buyer will not acquire outright or absolute fee simple ownership of the land. The land is owned by the lessor or the leased fee owner. The apartment owner or lessee must make lease rent payments and comply with the terms of the lease or be subject to the lessor's enforcement actions. The lease rent payments are usually fixed at specific amounts for fixed periods of time, and are then subject to renegotiation. Renegotiation may be based on a formula, by arbitration set in the lease agreement, by law or by agreement between the lessor and lessee. The renegotiated lease rents may increase significantly. At the end of the lease, the apartment owners may have to surrender the apartments, the improvements and the land back to the lessor without any compensation (surrender clause).

When leasehold property is sold, title is normally conveyed by means of an assignment of lease, the purpose of which is similar to that of a deed. The legal and practical effect is different because the assignment conveys only the rights and obligations created by the lease, not the property itself.

The developer of this condominium project may have entered into a master ground lease with the fee simple owner of the land in order to develop the project. The developer may have then entered into a sublease or a new lease of the land with the lessee (apartment owner). The developer may lease the improvements to the apartment owner by way of an apartment lease or sublease, or sell the improvements to the apartment owners by way of a condominium conveyance or apartment deed.

B. Underlying Land:

Address: Alii Drive Tax Map Key (TMK): (3) 7-5-19:01 (portion)
Kailua-Kona, Hawaii 96740

Address TMK is expected to change because the land which will comprise the Project site has not been subdivided, and upon and in connection with such subdivision a new TMK may be assigned to the Project site.

Land Area: 15.9 (approximately)* square feet acre(s) Zoning: RM-7.0

* The Developer has reserved the right to subdivide and remove a portion of the Project land. See Section P of the Declaration of Condominium Property Regime and Exhibit J of this Public Report.

5. Special Use Restrictions:

The Declaration and Bylaws may contain restrictions on the use and occupancy of the apartments. Restrictions for this condominium project include but are not limited to:

- Pets No pets or other animals permitted; provided that the board may authorize the keeping by owners of parakeets, canaries, aquarium fish or one cat, subject to limitations as set forth in the Bylaws and the project rules.
- Number of Occupants: No more than two permanent residents per bedroom. Permanent residence is defined as residence of twenty-six consecutive days or more.

The Developer may make certain alterations as provided in Section L of the condominium declaration. See Exhibit J to this public report.

(Not Applicable.)

11. Conformance to Present Zoning Code

- a. No variances to zoning code have been granted.
 Variance(s) to zoning code was/were granted as follows:

b. Conforming/Non-Conforming Uses, Structures, Lot

In general, a non-conforming use, structure, or lot is a use, structure, or lot which was lawful at one time but which does not now conform to present zoning requirements.

	Conforming	Non-Conforming	Illegal
Uses	 X
Structures	 X
Lot	 X

If a variance has been granted or if uses, improvements or lot are either non-conforming or illegal, buyer should consult with county zoning authorities as to possible limitations which may apply.

Limitations may include restrictions on extending, enlarging, or continuing the non-conformity, and restrictions on altering and repairing structures. In some cases, a non-conforming structure that is destroyed or damaged cannot be reconstructed.

The buyer may not be able to obtain financing or insurance if the condominium project has a non-conforming or illegal use, structure, or lot.

D. Common Elements, Limited Common Elements, Common Interest:

1. Common Elements: Common Elements are those parts of the condominium project other than the individual apartments. Although the common elements are owned jointly by all apartment owners, those portions of the common elements which are designated as limited common elements (see paragraph 2 below) may be used only by those apartments to which they are assigned. The common elements for this project, as described in the Declaration, are:

described in Exhibit C .

as follows:

2. Limited Common Elements: Limited Common Elements are those common elements which are reserved for the exclusive use of the owners of certain apartments.

There are no limited common elements in this project.

The limited common elements and the apartments which use them, as described in the Declaration, are:

described in Exhibit D .

as follows:

3. Common Interest: Each apartment will have an undivided fractional interest in all of the common elements. This interest is called the "common interest." It is used to determine each apartment's share of the maintenance fees and other common profits and expenses of the condominium project. It may also be used for other purposes, including voting on matters requiring action by apartment owners. The common interests for the apartments in this project, as described in the Declaration, are:

described in Exhibit E .

as follows:

- E. Encumbrances Against Title: An encumbrance is a claim against or a liability on the property or a document affecting the title or use of the property. Encumbrances may have an adverse effect on the property or your purchase and ownership of an apartment in the project.

Exhibit F describes the encumbrances against the title contained in the title report dated August 12, 2002 and issued by Title Guaranty of Hawaii, Incorporated .

Blanket Liens:

A blanket lien is an encumbrance (such as a mortgage) on the entire condominium project that secures some type of monetary debt (such as a loan) or other obligation. A blanket lien is usually released on an apartment-by-apartment basis upon payment of specified sums so that individual apartments can be conveyed to buyers free and clear of the lien.

[X] There are no blanket liens affecting title to the individual apartments.

[] There are blanket liens which may affect title to the individual apartments.

Blanket liens (except for improvement district or utility assessments) must be released before the developer conveys the apartment to a buyer. The buyer's interest will be affected if the developer defaults and the lien is foreclosed prior to conveying the apartment to buyer.

Type of Lien

Effect on Buyer's Interest and Deposit if Developer Defaults or Lien is Foreclosed Prior to Conveyance

F. Construction Warranties:

Warranties for individual apartments and the common elements, including the beginning and ending dates for each warranty, are as follows:

1. Building and Other Improvements:

The Developer will require from the general contractor for the Project a written warranty with respect to any defects in each apartment and the common elements due to faulty materials and/or workmanship which are discovered and reported within one year from the "Date of Substantial Completion" as defined in the construction contract. The Developer makes no warranties itself; however, the Developer will attempt to assign to each apartment owner any and all warranties given the Developer by the general contractor for the project and by any subcontractors or materialmen.

2. Appliances:

The Developer makes no warranties itself; however, the Developer will attempt to assign to each apartment owner the benefit of any manufacturer's or dealer's warranties covering the appliances in his or her apartment. Each apartment owner shall have the direct benefit of any such warranties. These warranties will expire at different times, depending on the date of manufacture, sale or installation of the appliances.

G. Status of Construction and Date of Completion or Estimated Date of Completion:

Construction is anticipated to begin around January 2003, and is anticipated to be completed by approximately March 2004.

H. Project Phases:

The developer [X] has [] has not reserved the right to add to, merge, or phase this condominium.

Summary of Developer's plans or right to perform for future development (such as additions, mergers or phasing):

- A. Merger: The Developer has reserved the right (but is not obligated), in its sole and absolute discretion, to merge this Project with other condominium projects for purposes of use and administration and possibly ownership, as provided in the Declaration of Merger of Condominium Phases Kona Sea Villas, to be recorded in the Bureau of Conveyances of the State of Hawaii, as may be amended from time to time (the "Declaration of Merger"). Pursuant to an "administrative merger," use of the common elements, the common expenses and management of the phases would be shared, but the ownership interests of the apartment owners in each phase would not be altered or affected. In other words, an apartment owner owning an apartment in Kona Sea Villas, while having the right to use the common elements (including the recreational facilities) of other merged phases, would not have an ownership interest in the other merged phases. Similarly, the owner of an apartment in another merged phase, while having the right to use the common elements of the Project, would not have an ownership interest in the common elements of the Project. An "ownership merger", on the other hand, would provide for the common ownership of all of the merged phases. Upon an ownership merger, all of the apartments in the merged phases would be treated as if they were all included in a single condominium project (the "merged project"), all common elements of the merged phases would become common elements of the merged project, and the common interest appurtenant to each apartment would be altered from the common interest set forth in Exhibit E to the common interest set forth in a "certificate of ownership merger," as provided in the Declaration of Merger. An ownership merger may also include a legal consolidation of the land underlying and included in Kona Sea Villas with any parcel(s) of land underlying and included in any of the additional phases. Each prospective purchaser should carefully review the applicable provisions of the Declaration of Condominium Property Regime and the Declaration of Merger regarding the rights reserved to the Developer relating to development in phases and the merger of such phases. See Exhibit J of this public report for further information concerning merger.
- B. Incremental Development. The Developer has reserved the right (but is not obligated), without being required to obtain the consent or joinder of any other person who may have an interest in the Project or in any apartment, to develop the apartments in increments on a building-by-building basis. See Exhibit J of this public report for further information concerning incremental development.

The Developer is to attach to this exhibit an explanation whether, in arriving at the figure for "Reserves," the Developer has conducted a reserve study in accordance with 514-A-86-86.6 HRS, and the replacement reserve rules, Subchapter 6, Title 16, Chapter 107, Hawaii Administrative Rules, as amended.

Pursuant to 514-A-83.6, HRS, a new association created after January 1, 1993 need not collect estimated replacement reserves until the fiscal year which begins after the association's first annual meeting.

Developer's Explanation Regarding Replacement Reserve Figure

In arriving at the figure for "Reserves," as set forth in this Exhibit G to the Condominium Public Report, the developer did not conduct a reserve study in accordance with HRS § 514A-83.6 or HAR § 16-107-65. The figure is an estimate, based on reasonable projections of reserve requirements.

- (a) The total purchase price, method of payment and additional sums which must be paid in connection with the purchase of an apartment.
- (b) That the purchaser acknowledges having received and read a public report (either preliminary, contingent or final) for the Project prior to signing the Sales Contract.
- (c) That the Developer makes no representations concerning rental of an apartment, income or profit from an apartment, or any other economic benefit to be derived from the purchase of an apartment.
- (d) That the Sales Contract may be subordinate to the lien of a construction lender.
- (e) That the purchaser's money will be held in escrow, under the terms of the Escrow Agreement.
- (f) Requirements relating to the purchaser's financing of the purchase of an apartment.
- (g) That the apartment and the Project will be subject to various other legal documents which the purchaser should examine, and that the Developer may change these documents under certain circumstances.
- (h) That the Developer makes no warranties regarding the apartment, the Project or anything installed or contained in the apartment or the Project.
- (i) That the Project will be subject to ongoing construction and sales activities which may result in certain annoyances to the purchaser.
- (j) That the purchaser must close the purchase at a certain date and pay closing costs, in addition to the purchase price.
- (k) That the Developer has reserved certain rights and powers relating to the Project and the purchaser acknowledges and consents to the exercise of such rights and powers.
- (l) That except under certain circumstances, as set forth in the Sales Contract, all interest on deposits toward the purchase price shall be the property of the Developer.
- (m) That in the event of a default by the purchaser under the Sales Contract, all sums paid by the purchaser under the Sales Contract shall belong to the Developer as liquidated damages, and the Developer may, in addition to such damages, pursue any other remedy, including specific performance, permitted by law or equity.

In the event of a default by the Developer under the Sales Contract, the buyer shall be entitled to remedies available to it at law or in equity.

The Sales Contract contains various other important provisions relating to the purchase of an apartment in the Project. Purchasers and prospective purchasers should carefully read the specimen Sales Contract on file with the Real Estate Commission.

EXHIBIT I

SUMMARY OF ESCROW AGREEMENT

The Escrow Agreement sets up an arrangement under which the deposits a purchaser makes pursuant to a Sales Contract will be held by a neutral party ("Escrow"). Under the Escrow Agreement, these things will or may happen:

- (a) Escrow will let the purchaser know when payments are due.
- (b) Escrow will arrange for the purchaser to sign all necessary documents.
- (c) Except under certain circumstances as set forth in the Sales Contract, all interest on deposits toward the purchase price shall be the property of the Developer.
- (d) The purchaser will be entitled to a refund of his or her funds deposited with Escrow, upon written request by purchaser to Escrow, if the purchaser exercises purchaser's right to cancel or rescind the Sales Contract pursuant to the Hawaii Condominium Act, as set forth in the Sales Contract (less a cancellation fee commensurate with the work done by Escrow prior to such cancellation, up to a maximum of $250.00).
- (e) No disbursements of funds held in Escrow shall be made to the Developer until certain conditions, as set forth in the Escrow Agreement and in accordance with the Hawaii Condominium Act, have been fulfilled, including delivery of a copy of the Final Public Report to the purchaser and waiver (or deemed waiver) of the purchaser's right to cancel the Sales Contract. Under certain circumstances, in accordance with the Condominium Property Act and as described in the Escrow Agreement, the purchaser's funds may be disbursed to the Developer to pay for construction and other costs of the Project.
- (f) Upon a default by the purchaser under the Sales Contract, and the Developer's termination of the Sales Contract as a result of such default, all funds of the purchaser deposited with Escrow shall be treated as funds of the Developer and not as funds of the purchaser, and shall be disbursed to the Developer upon request by the Developer.

The Escrow Agreement contains various other important provisions and establishes certain charges with which a purchaser should be familiar. Purchasers and prospective purchasers should carefully read the signed Escrow Agreement on file with the Real Estate Commission.
