THERE ARE COUNTY RESTRICTIONS ON THE NUMBER OF RESIDENTIAL DWELLING UNITS, OR OTHER STRUCTURES, WHICH MAY BE BUILT UPON THE PROPERTY. THEREFORE, UNLESS THE PURCHASER IS PURCHASING AN EXISTING RESIDENTIAL DWELLING, THERE IS NO ASSURANCE THAT THE PURCHASER WILL BE ABLE TO BUILD A RESIDENTIAL DWELLING UNIT ON THE PROPERTY. THERE ALSO IS NO ASSURANCE THAT THE PURCHASER WILL BE ABLE TO CONVERT AN EXISTING NON-RESIDENTIAL STRUCTURE TO A RESIDENTIAL USE. THE PURCHASER SHOULD CONSULT WITH THE APPROPRIATE COUNTY AGENCIES TO DETERMINE WHETHER THE PURCHASER MAY BUILD A RESIDENTIAL DWELLING UNIT, OR ANY OTHER TYPE OF STRUCTURE, UPON THE PROPERTY.

2. This Project does not involve the sale of individual subdivided lots. The land area beneath and immediate adjacent to each unit as shown on the condominium map is designated as a limited common element and does not represent a legally subdivided lot. The dotted lines on the condominium map merely represent the approximate location of the limited common element assigned to each unit.
3. Facilities and improvements normally associated with County approved subdivisions may not necessarily be provided for and services such as County street maintenance and trash collection will not be available for interior roads.

THE PROSPECTIVE PURCHASER IS CAUTIONED TO CAREFULLY REVIEW THE CONDOMINIUM DOCUMENTS FOR FURTHER INFORMATION REGARDING THE FORGOING.

General Information on Condominiums

A condominium is a special form of real property. To create a condominium in Hawaii, the requirements of the Condominium Property Act, Chapter 514A, Hawaii Revised Statutes, must be complied with. In addition, certain requirements and approvals of the County in which the project is located must be satisfied and obtained.

Some condominium projects are leasehold. This means that the land or the building(s) and other improvements are leased to the buyer. The lease for the land usually requires that at the end of the lease term, the lessees (apartment owners/tenants) deliver their interest in the land to the lessor (fee property owner). The lease also usually requires that the lessees either (1) convey to the lessor the building(s) and other improvements, including any improvements paid for by the lessees; or (2) remove or dispose of the improvements at the lessee's expense. Leases for individual apartments often require that at the end of the lease term, the lessee deliver to the lessor the apartment, including any improvements placed in the apartment by the lessee.

If you are a typical condominium apartment owner, you will have two kinds of ownership: (1) ownership in your individual apartment; and (2) an undivided interest in the common elements.

"Common elements" are the areas of the condominium project other than the individual apartments. They are owned jointly by all apartment owners and include the land, either in fee simple or leasehold, and those parts of the building or buildings intended for common use such as foundations, columns, roofs, halls, elevators, and the like. Your undivided interest in the common elements cannot be separated from ownership of your apartment.

In some condominium projects, some common elements are reserved for the exclusive use of the owners of certain apartments. The common elements are called "limited common elements" and may include parking stalls, patios, lanais, trash chutes, and the like.

You will be entitled to exclusive ownership and possession of your apartment. Condominium apartments may be individually bought, sold, rented, mortgaged or encumbered, and may be disposed of by will, gift or operation of law.

Your apartment will, however, be part of the group of apartments that comprise the condominium project. Study the project's Declaration, Bylaws, and House Rules. These documents contain important information on the use and occupancy of apartments and the common elements as well as the rules of conduct for owners, tenants, and guests.

Operation of the Condominium Project

The Association of Apartment Owners is the entity through which apartment owners may take action with regard to the administration, management, and operation of the condominium project. Each apartment owner is automatically a member of the Association.

The Board of Directors is the governing body of the Association. Unless you serve as a board member or an officer, or are on a committee appointed by the board, your participation in the administration and operation of the condominium project will in most cases be limited to your right to vote as an apartment owner. The Board of Directors and officers can take certain actions without the vote of the owners. For example, the board may hire and fire employees, increase or decrease maintenance fees, borrow money for repair and improvements and set a budget. Some of these actions may significantly impact the apartment owners.

Until there is a sufficient number of purchasers of apartments to elect a majority of the Board of Directors, it is likely that the developer will effectively control the affairs of the Association. It is frequently necessary of the developer to do so during the early stages of development and the developer may reserve certain special rights to do so in the Declaration and Bylaws. Prospective buyers should understand that it is important to all apartment owners that the transition of control from the developer to the apartment owners be accomplished in an orderly manner and in spirit of cooperation.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION ON LEASEHOLD CONDOMINIUM PROJECTS

The information contained in this report is a summary of the terms of the lease. For more detailed information, you should secure a copy of the lease documents and read them thoroughly.

If you have any legal questions about leasehold property, the lease documents or the terms of the lease and the consequences of becoming a lessee, you should seek the advice of an attorney.

There are currently no statutory provisions for the mandatory conversion of leasehold condominiums and there are no assurances that such measures will be enacted in the future.

In leasehold condominium projects, the buyer of an apartment will acquire the right to occupy and use the apartment for the time stated in the lease agreement. The buyer will not acquire outright or absolute fee simple ownership of the land. The land is owned by the lessor or the leased fee owner. The apartment owner or lessee must make lease rent payments and comply with the terms of the lease or be subject to the lessor's enforcement actions. The lease rent payments are usually fixed at specific amounts for fixed period of time, and are then subject to renegotiation. Renegotiation may be based on a formula, by arbitration set in the lease agreement, by law or by agreement between the lessor and lessee. The renegotiated lease rents may increase significantly. At the end of the lease, the apartment owners may have to surrender the apartments, the improvements and the land back to the lessor without any compensation (surrender clause).

When leasehold property is sold, title is normally conveyed by means of an assignment of lease, the purpose of which is similar to that of a deed. The legal and practical effect is different because the assignment conveys only the rights and obligations created by the lease, not the property itself.

The developer of this condominium project may have entered into a master ground lease with fee simple owner of the land in order to develop the project. The developer may have then entered into an sublease or a new lease of the land with the lessee (apartment owner). The developer may lease the improvements to the apartment owner by way of an apartment lease or sublease, or sell the improvements to the apartment owners by way of a condominium conveyance or apartment deed.

If a variance has been granted or if uses, improvements or lot are either non-conforming or illegal, buyer should consult with county zoning authorities as to possible limitations which may apply.

Limitations may include restrictions on extending, enlarging, or continuing the non-conformity, and restrictions on altering and repairing structures. In some cases, a non-conforming structure that is destroyed or damaged cannot be reconstructed.

The buyer may not be able to obtain financing or insurance if the condominium project has a non-conforming or illegal use, structure or lot.

D. Common Elements, Limited Common Elements, Common Interest:

1. Common Elements: Common Elements are those parts of the condominium project other than the individual apartments. Although the common elements are owned jointly by all apartment owners, those portions of the common elements which are designated as limited common elements (see paragraph 2 below) may be used only by those apartments to which they are assigned. The common elements for this project, as described in the Declaration, are:

described in Exhibit B.

The limited common elements and the apartments which use them, as described in the Declaration, are:

It is used to determine each apartment's share of the maintenance fees and other common profits and expenses of the condominium project. It may also be used for other purposes, including voting on matters requiring action by apartment owners. The common interests for the apartments in this project, as described in the Declaration, are:

described in Exhibit B.

as follows:

- E. Encumbrances Against Title: An encumbrance is a claim against or a liability on the property or a document affecting the title or use of the property. Encumbrances may have an adverse effect on the property or your purchase and ownership of an apartment in the project.

Exhibit C describes the encumbrances against the title contained in the title report dated April 17, 2007 and issued by Title Guaranty of Hawaii, Inc.

Blanket Liens:

A blanket lien is an encumbrance (such as a mortgage) on the entire condominium project that secures some type of monetary debt (such as a loan) or other obligation. A blanket lien is usually released on an apartment-by-apartment basis upon payment of specific sums so that individual apartments can be conveyed to buyers free and clear of the lien.

[] There are no blanket liens affecting title to the individual apartments.

[X] There are blanket liens which may affect title to the individual apartments.

Blanket liens (except for improvement district or utility assessments) must be released before the developer conveys the apartment to a buyer. The buyer's interest will be affected if the developer defaults and the lien is foreclosed prior to conveying the apartment to buyer.

Type of Lien	Effect on Buyer's Interest and Deposit if Developer Defaults or Lien is Foreclosed Prior to Conveyance
Mortgage	If the Developer defaults under the Mortgage, the lender may foreclose on the Project. If a foreclosure occurs, all deposits will be refunded to the prospective purchaser.

The Association may be permitted, and in some cases may be required, to employ or retain a condominium managing agent to assist the Association in managing the condominium project.

Initial Condominium Managing Agent: When the developer or the developer's affiliate is the initial condominium managing agent, the management contract must have a term of one year or less and the parties must be able to terminate the contract on notice of 60 days or less.

The initial condominium managing agent for this project, named on page five (5) of this report, is:

C. Additional Information Not Covered Above

NOT A SUBDIVISION. This is a condominium project which should not be confused with a subdivision. A purchaser of an apartment unit will be conveyed an apartment unit together with an "undivided" percentage interest in the common elements of the project. The entire parcel of land upon which the project is situated is designated as a common element. That portion of the common element which each purchaser has the exclusive right to use is called a limited common element or area, but is not a separate, legally subdivided lot.

MAINTENANCE FEES. All costs of every kind pertaining to each apartment and its respective limited common element, including but not limited to, cost of landscaping, maintenance, repair, replacement and improvement shall be borne entirely by the respective apartment owner. There are no common elements that require any maintenance.

Section 514A-86, Hawaii Revised Statutes, requires the Association of Apartment Owners purchase fire insurance to cover the improvements of the Project, and that premiums be common expenses. Developer anticipates that the Association will elect to permit individual apartment owners to obtain and maintain separate policies of fire insurance and name the Association as an additional insured. In such case, fire insurance premiums will be the responsibility of individual apartment owners and not common expenses.

FARM DWELLING AGREEMENT The underlying land is encumbered with a "Farm Dwelling Agreement" entered into with the County of Kauai Planning Department, which imposes certain covenants, conditions and restrictions in the use and development of the property. Purchasers of units in the Project are cautioned to be aware of its existence and advised to request and read the documents in possession of Developer, related to these restrictions, covenants and conditions.

- D. The developer declares subject to the penalties set forth in section 514A-49(b) that this project is in compliance with all county zoning and building ordinances and codes, and all other county permitting requirements applicable to the project, pursuant to Act 251 (SLH 2000) [Section 514A-1.6]. (The developer is required to make this declaration for issuance of an effective date for a final public report.)
- E. The developer hereby certifies that all the information contained in this Report and the Exhibits attached to this Report and all documents to be furnished by the developer to buyers concerning the project have been reviewed by the developer and are, to the best of the developer's knowledge, information and belief, true, correct and complete.

Summary of Sales Contract

The Sales Contract contains the purchase price, description and location of the apartment and other terms and conditions under which a Purchaser will agree to buy an apartment in the Project.

Among other things, the Sales Contract:

1. Provides a section for financing to be completed and agreed to by the parties which will set forth how Purchaser will pay the purchase price.
2. Identifies the escrow agent and states that purchaser's deposit will be held in escrow until the Sales Contract is closed or canceled.
3. Requires that Purchaser must close the purchase at a certain date and pay closing costs, in addition to the purchase price.
4. Permits the Developer without the consent or approval of a purchaser to modify the Declaration, By-Laws Condominium Map or other documents provided that purchaser may cancel the Sales Contract and obtain a refund if such modification:
 - a. substantially and materially impairs the use and enjoyment of the apartment;

 - c. renders unenforceable a purchasers' loan commitment;
 - d. increases the purchaser's share of common expenses or maintenance fees;
 - e. reduces the obligations of Developer of common expenses on unsold apartments.
5. Provides that the Developer is selling the apartments in "AS-IS WHERE-IS" condition. This means that the Developer is not making any warranties or representations with respect to the apartments and Project.
6. If purchaser dies (any one of them) prior to closing, Developer has the right to return purchaser's funds, less any escrow cancellation fees and cost, and cancel the Sales Contract.

7. Provides that the closing cost shall be paid as follows:

a. By purchaser: title insurance, drafting of any note and mortgage, purchaser notary fees, recording fees, one half of escrow fees, and also a start fee for common expenses, if any.

b. By Developer: drafting of apartment deed and Developer notary fees, conveyance taxes, preliminary title report, and one half of escrow fees.

Any awards to the prevailing party in any action are subordinate to escrow's expenses.

9. Provides that purchaser may not assign his/her interest in the Sales Contract without the prior written consent of Developer.

10. Claims Against Contractor. The following is provided by Hawaii law which Purchaser has reviewed and accepts:

"Chapter 672E of the Hawaii Revised Statutes contains important requirements you must follow before you may file a lawsuit or other action for defective construction against the contractor who designed, repaired, or constructed your home or facility. Ninety days before you file your lawsuit or other action, you must serve on the contractor a written notice of any construction conditions you allege are defective. Under the law, a contractor has the opportunity to make an offer to repair and/or pay for the defects. You are not obligated to accept any offer made by a contractor. There are strict deadlines and procedures under the law, and failure to follow them may negatively affect your ability to file a lawsuit or other action."

The Sales Contract contains various other provisions which purchaser should become acquainted with. If there is a conflict between the terms of this summary and the Sales Contract, the latter shall control.
