General Information On Condominiums

A condominium is a special form of real property. To create a condominium in Hawaii, the requirements of the Condominium Property Act, Chapter 514A, Hawaii Revised Statutes, must be complied with. In addition, certain requirements and approvals of the County in which the project is located must be satisfied and obtained.

Some condominium projects are leasehold. This means that the land or the building(s) and other improvements are leased to the buyer. The lease for the land usually requires that at the end of the lease term, the lessees (apartment owners/tenants) deliver their interest in the land to the lessor (fee property owner). The lease also usually requires that the lessees either (1) convey to the lessor the building(s) and other improvements, including any improvements paid for by the lessees; or (2) remove or dispose of the improvements at the lessee's expense. Leases for individual apartments often require that at the end of the lease term, the lessee deliver to the lessor the apartment, including any improvements placed in the apartment by the lessee.

If you are a typical condominium apartment owner, you will have two kinds of ownership: (1) ownership in your individual apartment; and (2) an undivided interest in the common elements.

"Common Elements" are the areas of the condominium project other than the individual apartments. They are owned jointly by all apartment owners and include the land, either in fee simple or leasehold, and those parts of the building or buildings intended for common use such as foundations, columns, roofs, halls, elevators, and the like. Your undivided interest in the common elements cannot be separated from ownership of your apartment.

In some condominium projects, some common elements are reserved for the exclusive use of the owners of certain apartments. These common elements are called "limited common elements" and may include parking stalls, patios, lanais, trash chutes, and the like.

You will be entitled to exclusive ownership and possession of your apartment. Condominium apartments may be individually bought, sold, rented, mortgaged or encumbered, and may be disposed of by will, gift, or operation of law.

Your apartment will, however, be part of the group of apartments that comprise the condominium project. Study the project's Declaration, Bylaws, and House Rules. These documents contain important information on the use and occupancy of apartments and the common elements as well as the rules of conduct for owners, tenants, and guests.

Operation of the Condominium Project

The Association of Apartment Owners is the entity through which apartment owners may take action with regard to the administration, management, and operation of the condominium project. Each apartment owner is automatically a member of the Association.

The Board of Directors is the governing body of the Association. Unless you serve as a board member or an officer, or are on a committee appointed by the board, your participation in the administration and operation of the condominium project will in most cases be limited to your right to vote as an apartment owner. The Board of Directors and officers can take certain actions without the vote of the owners. For example, the board may hire and fire employees, increase or decrease maintenance fees, borrow money for repair and improvements and set a budget. Some of these actions may significantly impact the apartment owners.

Until there is a sufficient number of purchasers of apartments to elect a majority of the Board of Directors, it is likely that the developer will effectively control the affairs of the Association. It is frequently necessary for the developer to do so during the early stages of development and the developer may reserve certain special rights to do so in the Declaration and Bylaws. Prospective buyers should understand that it is important to all apartment owners that the transition of control from the developer to the apartment owners be accomplished in an orderly manner and in a spirit of cooperation.

A condominium is created by recording in the Bureau of Conveyances and/or filing with the Land Court a Declaration of Condominium Property Regime, a Condominium Map (File Plan), and the Bylaws of the Association of Apartment Owners. The Condominium Property Act (Chapter 514A, HRS), the Declaration, Bylaws, and House Rules control the rights and obligations of the apartment owners with respect to the project and the common elements, to each other, and to their respective apartments. The provisions of these documents are intended to be, and in most cases are, enforceable in a court of law.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION ON LEASEHOLD CONDOMINIUM PROJECTS

The information contained in this report is a summary of the terms of the lease. For more detailed information, you should secure a copy of the lease documents and read them thoroughly.

If you have any legal questions about leasehold property, the lease documents or the terms of the lease and the consequences of becoming a lessee, you should seek the advice of an attorney.

There are currently no statutory provisions for the mandatory conversion of leasehold condominiums and there are no assurances that such measures will be enacted in the future.

In leasehold condominium projects, the buyer of an apartment will acquire the right to occupy and use the apartment for the time stated in the lease agreement. The buyer will not acquire outright or absolute fee simple ownership of the land. The land is owned by the lessor or the leased fee owner. The apartment owner or lessee must make lease rent payments and comply with the terms of the lease or be subject to the lessor's enforcement actions. The lease rent payments are usually fixed at specific amounts for fixed periods of time, and are then subject to renegotiation. Renegotiation may be based on a formula, by arbitration set in the lease agreement, by law or by agreement between the lessor and lessee. The renegotiated lease rents may increase significantly. At the end of the lease, the apartment owners may have to surrender the apartments, the improvements and the land back to the lessor without any compensation (surrender clause).

When leasehold property is sold, title is normally conveyed by means of an assignment of lease, the purpose of which is similar to that of a deed. The legal and practical effect is different because the assignment conveys only the rights and obligations created by the lease, not the property itself.

The developer of this condominium project may have entered into a master ground lease with the fee simple owner of the land in order to develop the project. The developer may have then entered into a sublease or a new lease of the land with the lessee (apartment owner). The developer may lease the improvements to the apartment owner by way of an apartment lease or sublease, or sell the improvements to the apartment owners by way of a condominium conveyance or apartment deed.

11. Conformance to Present Zoning Code

- a. No variances to zoning code have been granted.
 Variance(s) to zoning code was/were granted as follows:

b. Conforming/Non-Conforming Uses, Structures, Lot

In general, a non-conforming use, structure, or lot is a use, structure, or lot which was lawfully at one time but which does not now conform to present zoning requirements:

	Conforming	Non-Conforming	Illegal
Uses	 X
Structures	 X
Lot	 X

If a variance has been granted or if uses, improvements or lot are either non-conforming or illegal, buyer should consult with county zoning authorities as to possible limitations which may apply.

Limitations may include restrictions on extending, enlarging, or continuing the non-conformity, and restrictions on altering and repairing structures. In some cases, a non-conforming structure that is destroyed or damaged cannot be reconstructed.

The buyer may not be able to obtain financing or insurance if the condominium project has a non-conforming or illegal use, structure, or lot.

D. Common Elements, Limited Common Elements, Common Interests:

1. Common Elements. Common Elements are those parts of the condominium project other than the individual apartments. Although the common elements are owned jointly by all apartment owners, those portions of the common elements which are designated as limited common elements (see paragraph 2 below) may be used only by those apartments to which they are assigned. The common elements for this project, as described in the Declaration, are:

described in Exhibit "C" .

as follows:

2. Limited Common Elements: Limited Common Elements are those common elements which are reserved for the exclusive use of the owners of certain apartments.

There are no limited common elements in this project.

The limited common elements and the apartments which use them, as described in the Declaration, are:

described in Exhibit "D".

as follows:

3. Common Interests: Each apartment will have an undivided fractional interests in all of the common elements. This interest is called the "common interests." It is used to determine each apartment's share of the maintenance fees and other common profits and expenses of the condominium project. It may also be used for other purposes, including voting on matters requiring action by apartment owners. The common interests for the apartments in this project, as described in the Declaration, are:

described in Exhibit _____.

as follows:

Units A, B and C shall each have appurtenant thereto an undivided thirty-three and 1/3 percent (33 1/3%) interest in all common elements of the property and the same proportionate share in all common profits and common expenses of the property (except as may be otherwise provided herein or in the Bylaws) and for all other purposes, including voting. The percentage common interest for each unit is determined by apportioning a thirty-three and 1/3 percent (33.33%) interest to Units A , B and C irrespective of the actual land areas contained in each unit.

E. Encumbrances Against Title: An encumbrance is a claim against or a liability on the property or a document affecting the title or use of the property. Encumbrances may have an adverse effect on the property on or your purchase and ownership of an apartment in the project.

Exhibit "E" describes the encumbrances against the title contained in the title report dated November 23, 2005 and issued by Title Guaranty of Hawaii, Inc.

Blanket Liens:

A blanket lien is an encumbrance (such as a mortgage) on the entire condominium project that secures some type of monetary debt (such as a loan) or other obligation. A blanket lien is usually released on an apartment-by-apartment basis upon payment of specified sums so that individual apartments can be conveyed to buyers free and clear of the lien.

There are no blanket liens affecting title to the individual apartments.

There are blanket liens which may affect title to the individual apartments.

Blanket liens (except for improvement district or utility assessments) must be released before the developer conveys the apartment to a buyer. The buyer's interest will be affected if the developer defaults and the lien is foreclosed prior to conveying the apartment to buyer.

Type of Lien	Effect on Buyer's Interest and Deposit if Developer Defaults or Lien is Foreclosed Prior to Conveyance
---------------------	---

F. Construction Warranties:

The Association may be permitted, and in some cases may be required, to employ or retain a condominium managing agent to assist the Association in managing the condominium project.

Initial Condominium Managing Agent: When the developer or the developer's affiliate is the initial condominium managing agent, the management contract must have a term of one year or less and the parties must be able to terminate the contract on notice of 60 days or less.

2. For the purpose of Exhibit "F" of the Final Condominium Public Report the Developer has not conducted a reserve study in accordance with § 514A-83.6, HRS, and the replacement reserve rules, Subchapter 6, Title 16, Chapter 107, Hawaii Administrative Rules, as amended.
3. The County of Kauai Water Department has determined that the current water source, storage, and transmission facilities serving the area are only adequate to support two 5/8 inch residential water meters for the Property. Additional water infrastructure improvements, including the construction of a 6 inch water main from the Property to the intersection of Lepo and Lani Road, domestic water service connections, fire service connections, and interior plumbing plans with appropriate backflow prevention assemblies, and other improvements as may be required by the County, need to be constructed prior to the issuance of any additional water meters to serve the Property. Alternatively, a Condominium House may be constructed within the Unit A limited common element area if it can be served by a private water well that meets all applicable governmental rules and regulations. The Developer has tentatively identified a private well site within the Unit A limited common element area as shown on the Condominium Map. Until County of Kauai water service is available or Unit A can be served by a private water well no Condominium House can be constructed within the limited common element area appurtenant to Unit A.
5. Unit C shall be subject to Easement A in favor of Unit B, being a non-exclusive easement for pedestrian and vehicular access and underground utility purposes, twenty (20) feet in width, as shown on the Condominium Map. The costs of constructing, reconstructing, repairing, installing or maintaining ("Construction Costs") a driveway within Easement A ("Driveway") shall be allocated between Units B and C as follows: All Construction Costs for any portions of the Driveway which are used by both Unit B and Unit C shall be shared equally; all Construction Costs for any portions of the Driveway which are used exclusively by either Unit B or Unit C shall be paid by the Unit Owner exercising such exclusive use. Units B and C shall access Kanalee Road through the Easement A.
6. Unit A shall have direct access to Lani Road.
7. Unit C shall be subject to Easement V-1, a nonexclusive easement for sight distance purposes.
8. Unit B shall be subject to Easement AU-2 in favor of Unit C, being a non-exclusive easement for utility purposes.
9. Unit A shall be subject to Easement AU-1 in favor of Units B and C, being a non-exclusive easement for utility purposes.

- D. The developer declares subject to the penalties set forth in section 514A-49(b) that this project is in compliance with all county zoning and building ordinances and codes, and all other county permitting requirements applicable to the project, pursuant to Act 251 (SLH 2000) [Section 514A-1.6] (The developer is required to make this declaration for issuance of an effective date for a final public report.)
- E. The developer hereby certifies that all the information contained in this Report and the Exhibits attached to this Report and all documents to be furnished by the developer to buyers concerning the project have been reviewed by the developer and are, to the best of the developer's knowledge, information and belief, true, correct and complete.

EXHIBIT "A"

DESCRIPTION OF BUILDINGS

The project consists of three (3) shade cloth sheds. Units A, B, and C each contain 20 square feet of area. Each structure (herein called "unit") is shown on the Condominium Map.

The approximate net floor areas of each unit as set forth above is measured from the exterior surface of the unit perimeter walls and includes all of the walls and partitions within its perimeter walls.

ALTERATION OF PROJECT

Paragraph K of the Declaration provides that:

1. Provided that the unit owner satisfies the applicable terms and conditions of the Project Documents and obtains all of the necessary governmental permits, each unit owner shall have the right at his sole option at any time and from time to time, as hereinafter set forth, without the consent and/or approval of the owner of any other unit or any other persons or entity, to construct, reconstruct, repair, maintain, improve, renovate, remodel, make additions to, enlarge, remove, replace, alter or restore the improvements to or in his unit or portions thereof or upon or within the Yard Areas or other limited common elements or easements appurtenant to his unit (collectively, the foregoing are referred to as "alterations"). Each unit owner who makes such alterations (hereinafter referred to as the "Altering Owner") shall have the right without the consent or joinder of any other person to amend this declaration and the Condominium Map and to apply for any required governmental permit to accomplish any such alterations. If required by the Act, promptly upon completion of such alterations the Altering Owner shall duly record such amendment to this declaration in the Bureau of Conveyances, together with a complete set of the floor plans of such unit as so altered, certified by a registered architect or professional engineer to fully and accurately depict the altered portions of the property as built. All existing unit owners and all future unit owners and their mortgagees, by accepting an interest in a unit, consent to all such alterations and agree to give and shall be deemed to have given the owner of the Altering Owner a power of attorney to: (i) execute an amendment to the declaration solely for the purpose of describing the alterations to such unit in the declaration and (ii) apply for any required governmental permit so that the Altering Owner shall hereafter have a power of attorney from all the other unit owners to execute such amendment to the declaration and apply for any required governmental permit. This power of attorney shall be deemed coupled with each owner's interest in his unit (including his common interest) and shall be irrevocable. If, despite the provisions of this paragraph, any governmental agency shall require some or all of the owners of units in the Project (other than the Altering Owner) to sign the necessary governmental permit application or related documents, then all of the other unit owners shall be required to sign any such permit applications or related documents (including authorizations allowing the Altering Owner to sign such governmental permits on behalf of such other owners) as may be necessary to allow a unit owner to obtain the governmental permit authorized by this paragraph. Any such unit owner who wrongfully refuses to sign such permits or provide the Altering Owner with the necessary authorizations: shall be liable to the Altering Owner for all such damages (including costs and attorneys' fees) incurred by the Altering Owner as a result of such refusal; and shall be subject to such other legal and/or equitable remedies as may be available to the Altering Owner.

2. Any alteration of a unit pursuant to this paragraph K shall be subject to the following conditions:

(a) All such alterations shall conform with all applicable governmental regulations, laws and ordinances.

(b) Such alterations may decrease or increase the size of the affected unit, provided that no alteration shall extend or place the unit outside of the limits of the Yard Area appurtenant to such unit.

(c) All such alterations shall be at the sole expense of the unit owner making the change and shall be made within one (1) year of the commencement thereof and in a manner that will not unreasonably interfere with the other unit owner's use or quiet enjoyment of his unit or Yard Area.

(d) With the prior consent of the Board of Directors, the owner of the altered unit, at such owner's sole expense, shall have the right to: utilize, relocate, construct, reconstruct, realign and/or develop additional, central and appurtenant installations for services to the unit affected by such alteration for electricity, sewer and other utilities and services; and when necessary, add, delete, relocate, realign, designate and grant easements and rights-of-way over, under and on the common elements as necessary or desirable in connection therewith. Provided, however, that no work done pursuant to this paragraph shall cause any unreasonable interruption in the service of such utilities to any other part of the Project, nor shall it unreasonably interfere with any other unit owner's use or enjoyment of his unit or Yard Area.

3. It is the intent of this Declaration that based on the current density allowed by the CZO in effect in the County of Kauai, each of the Units shall be entitled to construct a single Condominium House. Unit A shall be entitled to construct and reconstruct a Guest House within the Yard Area appurtenant to Unit A. Neither Unit B nor Unit C shall be entitled to construct a Guest House.

4. Each and every conveyance, lease and mortgage or other lien made or created on any unit and all common interests, limited common elements, and other appurtenances thereto shall be subject to the provisions of this paragraph and any lease of a unit shall reserve to all unit owners the rights set forth in this paragraph.

* SPECIAL NOTATION:

When applying for building permits, use permits, zoning permits or any other land use permits with governmental agencies, 75% of the owners of the Project maybe required to sign the permit forms. In such case, all unit owners shall be required to sign such permit applications and related documents as may be necessary for any unit owner to obtain such permits.

The issuance of an effective date for the Condominium Public Report should not be construed to mean that all governmental laws, ordinances and regulations have been complied with and all subsequent development and use shall comply with applicable governmental laws, ordinances and regulations.

Additionally, the creation of the Condominium Property Regime does not mean that the land has met the subdivision requirements of the County. As such, certain facilities and improvements normally associated with County approved subdivisions may not be necessarily included as part of this Project.
