General Information on Condominiums

A condominium is a special form of real property. To create a condominium in Hawaii, the requirements of the Condominium Property Act, Chapter 514A, Hawaii Revised Statutes, must be complied with. In addition, certain requirements and approvals of the County in which the project is located must be satisfied and obtained.

Some condominium projects are leasehold. This means that the land or the building(s) and other improvements are leased to the buyer. The lease for the land usually requires that at the end of the lease term, the lessees (apartment owners/tenants) deliver their interest in the land to the lessor (fee property owner). The lease also usually requires that the lessees either (1) convey to the lessor the building(s) and other improvements, including any improvements paid for by the lessees; or (2) remove or dispose of the improvements at the lessee's expense. Leases for individual apartments often require that at the end of the lease term, the lessee deliver to the lessor the apartment, including any improvements placed in the apartment by the lessee.

If you are a typical condominium apartment owner, you will have two kinds of ownership: (1) ownership in your individual apartment; and (2) an undivided interest in the common elements.

"Common elements" are the areas of the condominium project other than the individual apartments. They are owned jointly by all apartment owners and include the land, either in fee simple or leasehold, and those parts of the building or buildings intended for common use such as foundations, columns, roofs, halls, elevators, and the like. Your undivided interest in the common elements cannot be separated from ownership of your apartment.

In some condominium projects, some common elements are reserved for the exclusive use of the owners of certain apartments. The common elements are called "limited common elements" and may include parking stalls, patios, lanais, trash chutes, and the like.

You will be entitled to exclusive ownership and possession of your apartment. Condominium apartments may be individually bought, sold, rented, mortgaged or encumbered, and may be disposed of by will, gift or operation of law.

Your apartment will, however, be part of the group of apartments that comprise the condominium project. Study the project's Declaration, Bylaws, and House Rules. These documents contain important information on the use and occupancy of apartments and the common elements as well as the rules of conduct for owners, tenants, and guests.

Operation of the Condominium Project

The Association of Apartment Owners is the entity through which apartment owners may take action with regard to the administration, management, and operation of the condominium project. Each apartment owner is automatically a member of the Association.

The Board of Directors is the governing body of the Association. Unless you serve as a board member or an officer, or are on a committee appointed by the board, your participation in the administration and operation of the condominium project will in most cases be limited to your right to vote as an apartment owner. The Board of Directors and officers can take certain actions without the vote of the owners. For example, the board may hire and fire employees, increase or decrease maintenance fees, borrow money for repair and improvements and set a budget. Some of these actions may significantly impact the apartment owners.

Until there is a sufficient number of purchasers of apartments to elect a majority of the Board of Directors, it is likely that the developer will effectively control the affairs of the Association. It is frequently necessary of the developer to do so during the early stages of development and the developer may reserve certain special rights to do so in the Declaration and Bylaws. Prospective buyers should understand that it is important to all apartment owners that the transition of control from the developer to the apartment owners be accomplished in an orderly manner and in spirit of cooperation.

II. CREATION OF THE CONDOMINIUM; CONDOMINIUM DOCUMENTS

A condominium is created by recording in the Bureau of Conveyances and/or filing with the Land Court a Declaration of Condominium Property Regime, a Condominium Map (File Plan), and the Bylaws of the Association of Apartment Owners. The Condominium Property Act (Chapter 514A, HRS), the Declaration, Bylaws, and House Rules control the rights and obligations of the apartment owners with respect to the project and the common elements, to each other, and to their respective apartments. The provisions of these documents are intended to be, and in most cases are, enforceable in a court of law.

They provide for the manner in which the Board of Directors of the Association of Apartment Owners is elected, the powers and duties of the Board, the manner in which meetings will be conducted, whether pets are prohibited or allowed and other manners which affect how the condominium project will be governed.

The Bylaws for this condominium re:

House Rules may cover matters such as parking regulations, hours of operation for common facilities such as recreation areas, use of lanais and requirements for keeping pets. These rules must be followed by owners, tenants and guests. They do not need to be recorded or filed to be effective. The initial House Rules are usually adopted by the developer.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION ON LEASEHOLD CONDOMINIUM PROJECTS

The information contained in this report is a summary of the terms of the lease. For more detailed information, you should secure a copy of the lease documents and read them thoroughly.

There are currently no statutory provisions for the mandatory conversion of leasehold condominiums and there are no assurances that such measures will be enacted in the future.

In leasehold condominium projects, the buyer of an apartment will acquire the right to occupy and use the apartment for the time stated in the lease agreement. The buyer will not acquire outright or absolute fee simple ownership of the land. The land is owned by the lessor or the leased fee owner. The apartment owner or lessee must make lease rent payments and comply with the terms of the lease or be subject to the lessor's enforcement actions. The lease rent payments are usually fixed at specific amounts for fixed period of time, and are then subject to renegotiation. Renegotiation may be based on a formula, by arbitration set in the lease agreement, by law or by agreement between the lessor and lessee. The renegotiated lease rents may increase significantly. At the end of the lease, the apartment owners may have to surrender the apartments, the improvements and the land back to the lessor without any compensation (surrender clause).

When leasehold property is sold, title is normally conveyed by means of an assignment of lease, the purpose of which is similar to that of a deed. The legal and practical effect is different because the assignment conveys only the rights and obligations created by the lease, not the property itself.

The developer of this condominium project may have entered into a master ground lease with fee simple owner of the land in order to develop the project. The developer may have then entered into an sublease or a new lease of the land with the lessee (apartment owner). The developer may lease the improvements to the apartment owner by way of an apartment lease or sublease, or sell the improvements to the apartment owners by way of a condominium conveyance or apartment deed.

 Variance(s) to zoning code was/were granted as follows:

b. Conforming/Non-Conforming Uses, Structures, Lot

In general, a non-conforming use, structure, or lot is a use, structure, or lot which was lawful at one time but which does not now conform to present zoning requirements.

	Conforming	Non-Conforming	Illegal
Uses	 X
Structures	 X
Lot	 X

If a variance has been granted or if uses, improvements or lot are either non-conforming or illegal, buyer should consult with county zoning authorities as to possible limitations which may apply.

Limitations may include restrictions on extending, enlarging, or continuing the non-conformity, and restrictions on altering and repairing structures. In some cases, a non-conforming structure that is destroyed or damaged cannot be reconstructed.

The buyer may not be able to obtain financing or insurance if the condominium project has a non-conforming or illegal use, structure or lot.

D. Common Elements, Limited Common Elements, Common Interest:

1. Common Elements: Common Elements are those parts of the condominium project other than the individual apartments. Although the common elements are owned jointly by all apartment owners, those portions of the common elements which are designated as limited common elements (see paragraph 2 below) may be used only by those apartments to which they are assigned. The common elements for this project, as described in the Declaration, are:

described in Exhibit B .

as follows:

2. Limited Common Elements: Common Elements are those common elements which are reserved for the exclusive use of the owners of certain apartments.

There are no limited common elements in this project.

The limited common elements and the apartments which use them, as described in the Declaration, are:

described in Exhibit B*.

as follows:

*Note: Land areas referenced herein are not legally subdivided lots.

3. Common Interest: Each apartment will have an undivided fractional interest in all of the common elements. This interest is called the "common interest". It is used to determine each apartment's share of the maintenance fees and other common profits and expenses of the condominium project. It may also be used for other purposes, including voting on matters requiring action by apartment owners. The common interests for the apartments in this project, as described in the Declaration, are:

described in Exhibit ____.

as follows:

Unit 2735	50%
Unit 2735A	50%
	100%

The common interest was determined by allocating an equal percentage to each unit.

E. Encumbrances Against Title: An encumbrance is a claim against or a liability on the property or a document affecting the title or use of the property. Encumbrances may have an adverse effect on the property or your purchase and ownership of an apartment in the project.

Exhibit C describes the encumbrances against the title contained in the title report dated June 3, 2009 issued by First American Title Co., Inc.

Blanket Liens:

A blanket lien is an encumbrance (such as a mortgage) on the entire condominium project that secures some type of monetary debt (such as a loan) or other obligation. A blanket lien is usually released on an apartment-by-apartment basis upon payment of specific sums so that individual apartments can be conveyed to buyers free and clear of the lien.

[] There are no blanket liens affecting title to the individual apartments.

[X] There are blanket liens which may affect title to the individual apartments.

Blanket liens (except for improvement district or utility assessments) must be released before the developer conveys the apartment to a buyer. The buyer's interest will be affected if the developer defaults and the lien is foreclosed prior to conveying the apartment to buyer.

Type of Lien	Effect on Buyer's Interest and Deposit if Developer Defaults or Lien is Foreclosed Prior to Conveyance
Mortgage	If the Developer defaults under the Mortgage, the lender may foreclose on the Project. If a foreclosure occurs, all deposits will be refunded to the prospective purchaser.

F. Construction Warranties:

Warranties for individual apartments and the common elements, including the beginning and ending dates for each warranty, are as follows:

1. Building and Other Improvements:

One year after substantial completion of a unit (which is provided by the Contractor and not the Developer).

2. Appliances:

None. There are no warranties, express or implied. However, any new appliance warranties will be assigned to the purchaser.

G. Status of Construction and Date of Completion or Estimated Date of Completion:

All Units were completed in January, 2009.

H. Project Phases:

The developer has has not reserved the right to add to, merge, or phase this condominium.

IV. CONDOMINIUM MANAGEMENT

A. Management of the Common Elements: The Association of Apartment Owners is responsible for the management of the common elements and the overall operation of the condominium project. The Association may be permitted, and in some cases may be required, to employ or retain a condominium managing agent to assist the Association in managing the condominium project.

Initial Condominium Managing Agent: When the developer or the developer's affiliate is the initial condominium managing agent, the management contract must have a term of one year or less and the parties must be able to terminate the contract on notice of 60 days or less.

C. Additional Information Not Covered Above

NOT A SUBDIVISION. This is a condominium project which should not be confused with a subdivision. A purchaser of an apartment unit will be conveyed an apartment unit together with an "undivided" percentage interest in the common elements of the project. The entire parcel of land upon which the project is situated is designated as a common element. That portion of the common element which each purchaser has the exclusive right to use is called a limited common element or area, but is not a separate, legally subdivided lot.

MAINTENANCE FEES. Developer believes that there will be no maintenance fees. This is because all costs of every kind pertaining to each apartment and its respective limited common element, including but not limited to, cost of landscaping, maintenance, repair, replacement and improvement shall be borne entirely by the respective apartment owner. All utilities are separately metered. Based on the foregoing, there is no schedule of maintenance fees attached to this Public Report.

Section 514A-86, Hawaii Revised Statutes, requires the Association of Apartment Owners to purchase fire insurance to cover the improvements of the Project, and that the premiums for the insurance be common expenses. Developer anticipates that the Association will elect to permit individual apartment owners to obtain and maintain separate policies of fire insurance and name the Association as an additional insured. In such case, fire insurance premiums will be the responsibility of individual apartment owners and not common expenses. Prospective purchasers should consult with their own insurance professionals to obtain an estimate for individual fire and hazard insurance.

RESERVES. Developer discloses that no reserve study was done in accordance with Section 514A-83.6, Hawaii Revised Statutes, and replacement reserve rules, Subchapter 6, Title 16, Chapter 107, Hawaii Administrative Rules, as amended. No reserves are necessary because there are no common elements that require any type of replacement or major repair, except for the concrete driveway which should require minimal repairs. Developer believes that any repair would be treated as a special assessment in order to avoid incurring additional expenses associated with the collection of maintenance fees on a monthly basis.

ROCKFALL FENCING. The rockfall protection system (the fencing) described in the Condominium Map was installed in order to address any rocks or boulders which may fall or enter into this Project. There are no assurances that such system would serve to retain or hold any rocks or boulder which falls into the Property. Each purchaser is recommended to consult with his own engineer to determine the adequacy of the existing system. Rocks and boulders have fallen into the yards and dwellings on other properties on Henry Street. Each purchaser shall release the Developer and its real estate broker from any and all claims that may arise from or relate to the rockfall protective system.

DISCLOSURE RE: SELECTION OF REAL ESTATE BROKER One of the Developer(s), Gary S. Furuta, holds an active real estate broker's license. However, he is not acting as the real estate broker for the Project nor does he have any interest in the Project's real estate broker (Prudential Locations, LLC).

Pursuant to sections 16-99-3(g) and 16-99-11(d), Hawaii Administrative Rules ("HAR"), prospective purchasers are hereby advised that one of the developer(s): Gary S. Furuta, RB-12214, is a current and active Hawaii-licensed real estate broker. Pursuant to section 16-99-11(c), HAR, "(n)o licensee shall be allowed to advertise 'For Sale by Owner', 'For Rent by Owner', 'For Lease by Owner', 'For Exchange by Owner'.

- D. The developer declares subject to the penalties set forth in section 514A-49(b) that this project is in compliance with all county zoning and building ordinances and codes, and all other county permitting requirements applicable to the project, pursuant to Act 251 (SLH 2000) [Section 514A-1.6] (The developer is required to make this declaration for issuance of an effective date for a final public report.)
- E. The developer hereby certifies that all the information contained in this Report and the Exhibits attached to this Report and all documents to be furnished by the developer to buyers concerning the project have been reviewed by the developer and are, to the best of the developer's knowledge, information and belief, true, correct and complete.
