The Copyright Law of the United States (Title 17, UNITED STATES CODE) governs the making of photocopies or

The Copyright Law of the United States (Title 17, UNITED STATES CODE) governs the making of photocopies or other reproductions of copyrighted materials. Under certain conditions specified in the law, libraries and archives are authorized to furnish a photocopy or other reproduction. One of the specified conditions is that the photocopy or reproduction shall not be "used for any purpose other than private study, scholarship, or research". If a user makes a request for or later uses a photocopy or reproduction for purposes in excess of "fair use", that user may be liable for copyright infringement. This institution reserves the right to refuse to accept a copying order if, in its judgment, fulfillment of the order would involve violation of copyright law.

I assume responsibility to resolve any questions of copyright or right to privacy which may arise in the use of reproduced material.
