GENERAL INFORMATION ON CONDOMINIUMS

A condominium is a special form of real property. To create a condominium in Hawaii, the requirements of Hawaii's "Horizontal Property Act" (Chapter 514A, Hawaii Revised Statutes) must be followed.

If you are a typical condominium apartment owner, you will have two kinds of ownership: (1) ownership in your individual apartment; and (2) an undivided interest in the common elements.

Common elements are the areas of the condominium project other than the individual apartments. They are owned jointly by all apartment owners and include the land, either in fee simple or leasehold, and those parts of the building or buildings intended for common use such as foundations, columns, roofs, halls, elevators, and the like. Your undivided interest in the common elements cannot be separated from ownership of your apartment.

In some condominium projects, some common elements are reserved for the exclusive use of the owners of certain apartments. These common elements are called limited common elements and may include parking stalls, patios, lanais, trash chutes, and the like.

You will be entitled to exclusive ownership and possession of your apartment. Condominium apartments may be individually bought, sold, rented, mortgaged, or encumbered, and they may be disposed of by will, gift, or operation of law.

Your apartment will, however, be part of the group of apartments that comprise the condominium project. Study the Declaration, Bylaws, and House Rules. These documents contain important information on the use and occupancy of apartments and the common elements as well as the rules of conduct for owners, tenants, and guests.

Some condominium projects are leasehold. This means that the land or the land, building(s) and other improvements are leased to the buyer. The lease for the land usually requires that at the end of the lease term, the lessees (apartment owner/tenant) deliver their interest in the land to the lessor (fee property owner). The lease also usually requires that the lessees either (1) convey to the lessor the building(s) and other improvements, including any improvements paid for by the lessees; or (2) remove or dispose of the improvements. The leases for individual apartments often require that at the end of the lease term, the lessee deliver to the lessor the apartment, including any improvements placed in the apartment by the lessee.

Operation of the Condominium Project

The Association of Apartment Owners is the entity through which apartment owners may take action with regard to the administration, management, and operation of the condominium project. Each apartment owner is automatically a member of the Association.

The Board of Directors is the governing body of the Association. Unless you serve as a board member or an officer, or are on a committee appointed by the board, your participation in the administration and operation of the condominium project will in most cases be limited to your right to vote as an apartment owner. The Board of Directors and officers can take certain actions without a vote of the owners. Some of these actions may significantly impact the quality of life for all apartment owners.

Until there is a sufficient number of purchasers of apartments to elect a majority of the Board of Directors, it is likely that the developer will effectively control the affairs of the Association. It is frequently necessary for the developer to do so during the early stages of development and the developer may reserve certain special rights to do so in the Declaration and Bylaws. Prospective buyers should understand that it is vitally important to all apartment owners that the transition from developer to owner control be accomplished in an orderly manner and in a spirit of cooperation.

1. Paragraph 20 of the Declaration provides:

Except as otherwise provided in the Declaration, the Declaration may be amended by vote of seventy-five percent (75%) of the Dwelling Owners, effective only upon the recording of an instrument setting forth such amendment and vote duly executed by such owners or by the proper officers of the Association. Notwithstanding the foregoing, however, if (1) at any time prior to the first filing in the Bureau of Conveyances or the Office of the Assistant Registrar of the Land Court of the State of Hawaii of a conveyance of a Dwelling, the Developer may amend the Declaration (including all exhibits) and the By-Laws in any manner, without the consent of any Dwelling purchaser; and (2) at any time thereafter, the Developer may amend the Declaration (and when applicable, the Condominium Map) to file the "As Built" verified statement required by Section 514A-12 of the Act (i) so long as such statement is merely a verified statement of a registered architect or professional engineer certifying that the final plan thereto filed fully and accurately depicts layout, location, apartment numbers, and the dimensions of an improvement or change in a Dwelling as built; or (ii) so long as the plans filed therewith involve only immaterial changes to the layout, location, or dimensions of the apartments as built or any change in any apartment number. In case of a modification or amendment to the By-Laws, the Declaration shall be amended to set forth such modification or amendment pursuant to such percentage vote as required by the By-Laws which rendered the modification or amendment thereof effective.

EXHIBIT "B"

PERMITTED ALTERATIONS TO APARTMENTS. Paragraph 19.1 of the Declaration states:

"Each Dwelling Owner, with the consent of any holder of any mortgage affecting the Owner's Dwelling, shall have the right at his sole option at any time and from time to time without the consent of anyone other than the holders of all liens affecting his Dwelling, to improve, renovate, remodel, make additions to, enlarge, remove, replace or restore the improvements to or in his Dwelling or portions thereof or to make improvements upon the Dwelling Lot appurtenant to the Dwelling (collectively, the foregoing are referred to "changes") subject to the following conditions:

(i) All building plans for any such changes shall be prepared by a licensed architect or professional engineer and conform with County building or zoning laws and other applicable City and County ordinances.

(ii) The value of the Dwelling after such changes shall not be less than the value before such changes.

(iii) Any change will be made within the Dwelling Lot to which the Dwelling is appurtenant; no change will reduce the distance between improvements placed on each Dwelling Lot to less than what it was originally as shown on the Condominium Map, and no change to a Dwelling will be made if the effect of such change would be to exceed the Dwelling's proportionate share of the allowable floor area or Lot area coverage for the Land, as defined by the Zoning Ordinance of the City and County of Honolulu in effect when the change is to be made. The proportionate share for each Dwelling shall be the same as its interest in the common interest; provided, however, that until January 1, 1998, the proportionate share on each Dwelling shall not exceed 50%.

(iv) All such changes shall be at the expense of the Dwelling owner making the change and shall be expeditiously made and in a manner that will not unreasonably interfere with the other Dwelling owner's use of his Dwelling Lot.

(v) During the entire course of such construction, the Dwelling owner making such change will cause to be maintained at his expense builder's all-risk insurance in an amount not less than the estimated cost of construction. The Association shall be named as an additional insured and evidence of such insurance shall be deposited with the Association or its Managing Agent, if any;

(vi) Prior to commencement of the construction of a change, and as a condition thereto, the Dwelling owner making such change shall give reasonable assurance to the Association of the owner's financial ability to complete and to pay for the change.

(vii) The owner of the changed Dwelling shall have the right to utilize, relocate and realign existing and/or to develop additional, central and appurtenant installations for services to the Dwelling affected by such change for electricity, sewer and other utilities and services and when applicable, to add, delete, relocate, realign, designate and grant easement and rights-of-way over, under and on the common elements as necessary or desirable in connection therewith; provided that the same shall not cause any interruption in the service of such utilities to any other part of the Project;

(viii) If any change constitutes a structural improvement, such shall thereafter be considered a portion of the changed Dwelling and not a common element of the Project.

(ix) The owner of any changed Dwelling shall have the right and duty without the consent or joinder of any other person to amend and shall be required to amend this Declaration and the Condominium Map to accomplish any such changes. If required by the Act, then promptly upon completion of such changes, the owner of the changed Dwelling shall duly record any amendment to this Declaration with the Bureau of Conveyances of the State of Hawaii, together with a complete set of the floor plans of the Project as so altered, certified as built by a registered architect or professional engineer. All existing Dwelling owners and all future Dwelling Owners and their mortgagees, by accepting an interest in a Dwelling, shall be deemed to have given each Dwelling owner a Power of Attorney to execute an amendment to the Declaration solely for the purpose of describing the changes to his respective Dwelling on the Declaration so that each Dwelling Owner shall hereafter have a Power of Attorney from all the other Dwelling owners to execute such amendment to the Declaration. This Power of Attorney shall be deemed coupled with each Owner's interest in his Dwelling (including his common interest) and shall be irrevocable.

(x) Each and every conveyance, lease and mortgage or other lien made or created on any Dwelling and all common interests and other appurtenances thereto shall be subject to the provisions of this paragraph and any lease of a Dwelling Lot shall reserve to all Dwelling Owners the rights set forth in this paragraph."

NOTE: Although 19.1 of the Declaration permits certain alterations to be made to the Apartments, a prospective purchaser should be aware that Dwelling B is an "Ohana" dwelling and is a "non-conforming structure", as defined in Section 3.120(B) of the Land Use Ordinance of the City and County of Honolulu. In general, that means (a) if Dwelling B were destroyed to an extent of more than 50% of its replacement cost, then the maximum floor area of Dwelling B if re-constructed could only be 700 square feet, and (b) Dwelling B cannot be altered in any manner which increases its "non-conformity" or increases its existing floor area. A prospective purchaser of Dwelling B is urged to review Exhibit I to this Condominium Public Report.

EXHIBIT "C"

COMMON ELEMENTS. Paragraph 4 of the Declaration designates certain portions of the Project as "common elements", including specifically but not limited to:

LIMITED COMMON ELEMENTS

Certain parts of the common elements, herein called the "Limited Common Elements", are hereby designated and set aside for the exclusive use of each Dwelling, and each Dwelling shall have appurtenant thereto exclusive easements for the use of such limited common elements. The limited common elements so set aside and reserved are as follows:

EXHIBIT "I"

Disclosure on Unit B

Dwelling B (the "Dwelling") was constructed by the Developer in accordance with provisions of Section 6.20 "Housing: Ohana Dwellings" of the Land Use Ordinance of the City and County of Honolulu ("LUO"). As a condition of issuance of the building permit of the "Ohana Dwelling", the Developer entered into an agreement with the Building Department of the City and County of Honolulu which restricts the use of the structure or changes to the layout of the building. This covenant and agreement is binding on all tenants, lessees and any subsequent owners of the building. A copy of this agreement is attached as Exhibit "I1". Section 6.20 was amended after either the construction of the Dwelling or the issuance of a Building permit for the Dwelling. Accordingly, the Dwelling conformed to the LUO at the time that it was constructed or the Building Permit was issued.

Subsequently, Section 6.20 was amended to provide, among other things, that the maximum size of an "Ohana" accessory dwelling unit that residentially zoned lot is restricted. The project is located in a zoning district designated R-7.5, and the maximum floor area of an Ohana accessory dwelling unit in such a zoning district is 700 square feet.

Accordingly, the Dwelling, which previously conformed with the LUO, does not now comply with Section 6.20. The Dwelling is, therefore, known as a "non-conforming structure".

Section 3.120(B) of the LUO provides that if a non-conforming structure is destroyed to an extent of more than 50% of its replacement cost at the time of destruction, it may only be reconstructed in conformity with the provisions of the LUO. This means that were the Dwelling to be destroyed to an extent of more than 50% of its replacement cost that the maximum floor area of the Dwelling, if reconstructed, could only be 700 square feet. While it is possible that a zoning variance could be obtained or that the LUO could be amended to allow reconstruction to the extent of the floor area of the Dwelling prior to destruction, no assurance can be given that such will in fact occur.

The purchase of the Dwelling under the circumstances constitutes a significant risk to the purchaser and to his lender.
